JACKSON CONVICTS AWED BY TROOPS, TROUBLE NOT OVER?

Discontent in Michigan Prison Likely to Break Out When Soldiers Leave.

PUNISH RIOTERS WITH LASH.

Resentment Caused by Discrimination in Pay and Treatment of Inmates.

WANT THE WARDEN DISCHARGED

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The Michigan penitentiary, which has been the scene of almost constant rioting since Friday, was quiet today.

The convicts, cowed by the great force of guards, deputy sheriffs, and state troops, made only one demonstration today. They started yelling while some of their number were being taken from the cell rooms to the workhouses, but it lasted less than one minute.

Flog Leaders of Revolt.

The punishment of the prison desperadoes who led the mutiny is said to have been started. The statements of officials are evasive, but a guard asserted that two convicts had been flogged and eight others hung up by their wrists.

Seven other convicts have been selected for punishment early tomorrow morning, according to this informant. He said that it is planned to do the whipping before the newspaper men arrive, so that they cannot hear the yells of pain.

The two flogged today were punished by the slap barrel plan. In this plan the convict is stripped, then he is placed across a barrel with his face downward and a sheet drenched with salt water is spread over his bare back. Then a water soaked strap is applied until the victim has the feeling of one stung by a thousand hornets.

The punishment of the other eight is known as "stringing up by the thumbs." As a matter of fact the leather covered handcuffs are fastened around the wrists. Then the wrists are tied to a bar overhead so that the prisoner's feet just touch the floor. The feet are held down by other straps. The victim may rest his arms by standing on his tiptoes. When his feet and legs ache with the usual strain he can rest them by permitting himself to be supported by his wrists.

More Trouble Is Feared.

It is admitted that serious trouble may come when the state troops are relieved from duty at the penitentiary. The small chance which a revolt at this time would have is shown by the fact that counting both soldiers and prison riflemen every five prisoners have two guards.

Following the removal of the soldiers it is probable that trouble will continue intermittently until the present system of management is changed. It is admitted that it discriminates between prisoners.

To illustrate, take the working conditions of three prisoners.

Convict No. 1 has slugged a guard, smuggled in dope, and broken windows. He works in the chair factory and receives for his own use 75 cents a day.

Convict No. 2 has sawed his way through the bars once, dug a hole through a cement floor, and at times has been noisy and unruly. He works in the bindery twine factory and gets 10 cents a day.

Convict No. 3 has a record of perfect deportment. He works diligently every day on the farm and twice made suggestions for the improvement of the convict service. He gets only a smile when he meets the warden and does not meet him every day.

All but One Contract Ended.

Until within the last year the convicts were hired out to contractors at 50 cents a day. The state gave the site for the factory inside the prison walls, erected the building, and turned it over to the contractors. Sometimes the state charged for light, heat, and power, and sometimes it did not. When the statute was passed at the last session abolishing prison labor it provided that present contracts should be continued until the time limit expired.

All of the contracts except one have terminated in the Jackson prison. That is held by the Michigan Seating company and has three years yet to run. This company has 300 convicts employed regularly. In addition to paying the state 50 cents a day for each prisoner used the company pays direct to each prisoner a certain price for all work in excess of a certain daily amount. This overtime money ranges from 50 to 75 cents a day for each convict employed in the chair factory.

The prison operates the bindery twine factory, and the warden has paid the 100 employed there an average of 10 cents a day for work in excess of the day's task. This is practically the only prison industry on a paying basis, so the convicts employed at all other labor do not receive "overtime money."

Convicts Want Warden Fired.

This discrimination is the chief grievance of the convicts. Frequently they could be heard to yell yesterday: "Can the warden and we'll be good."

The warden, Nathan Simpson, is a political product of a former administration. He was appointed the day before the present governor, Chase S. Osborn, took office, on Dec. 3, 1910. He is hard working and ambitious, but his ideas of success in prison management center on the ledger. His goal is to make the prison a paying institution. For the year ending June 30 last the expenditures exceeded the income of the institution by $27,000.

SOCIETY WOMEN CALLED BAD RISKS FOR INSURANCE

Delegates to Convention Here Say Lives They Live Put Death Rate High.

BUT WORKERS ARE WANTED

Feminine Toilers Declared to Be More Desired as Policy Holders than Men.

FAVOR THE HYGIENIC WEDDING

Women addicted to "high society" habits are undesirable life insurance risks in the eyes of leaders in the American Life convention which opened yesterday in Chicago.

All other women are approaching a stage of social, economic and financial independence which is causing them to be considered equally as good risks as men. Self-supporting women in domestic and industrial trades particularly are winning favor with insurance companies and their risk already is classified as safe than most men. Their mortality rate is much lower.

Urge Health Laws.

There is opportunity for women as a general class to become safer risks and members of the insurance convention advocated health legislation which would aid in the "conservation of life" particularly of women. P. D. Gold Jr. of rGeensboro, N. C., president of the convention, went on record as in favor of hygienic weddings as advocated and enforced by Dean Walter T. Sumner of Chicago in all ceremonies he performs.

"Many life insurance companies," said President Gold at the Hotel La Salle, where the convention sessions are being held, "are removing women from the undesirable risk class. In the past most companies have refrained from soliciting or writing policies for women on the theory primarily that the object of life insurance is to protect women and children after the death of husband and father.

"The proper risk has been on the man—the head of the house. There always has been more or less fear of a policy on the life of a woman, for there have been many unscrupulous men to hasten profit by the death of their wives. Now, however, more safeguards are being used and there is less objection to writing a woman applicant.

Favor Working Women.

"The chief reason for more liberal feeling toward women, though, is found in the large increase in working women. There are some 6,000,000 women earning their own living in America today. Many of these have relatives or partly dependent upon them and they make good risks. In the industrial trades women are far better risks than men. Their mortality is much lower."

President Gold sidestepped the issue of whether society women are desirable as policy holders, but a fellow leader answered:

"Women who live the so-called high life have a hard time getting insurance on their lives. Companies do not want to take them. They eat such indigestible viands, drink so many harmful beverages that their system soon is wrecked and they go the quick route to the grave."

On the subject of hygienic weddings, President Gold was emphatic.

For "Hygienic Weddings."

"Hereditary disease," he said, "is the greatest foe of conservation of life. Marriage of unhealthful persons propogates these diseases. If legislation could be secured making it compulsory that both man and woman submit to medical examination before being granted a license to wed life insurance interests would welcome the laws as a long step toward the prolongation of human life.

"Until legislation is obtained it would help to some extent for ministers to follow the example of Dean Sumner and refuse to officiate for couples who fail to gain medical certificates."

As one other step toward better health legislation President Gold advocated state laws which would compel the registration of births and deaths.

Eighty-eight of the younger insurance companies of America are members of the organization and during the last year the total volume of business amounted to $1,325,309,999, according to the official figures given out by the president. This represented a gain of $278,396,78 over 1911, it is said.

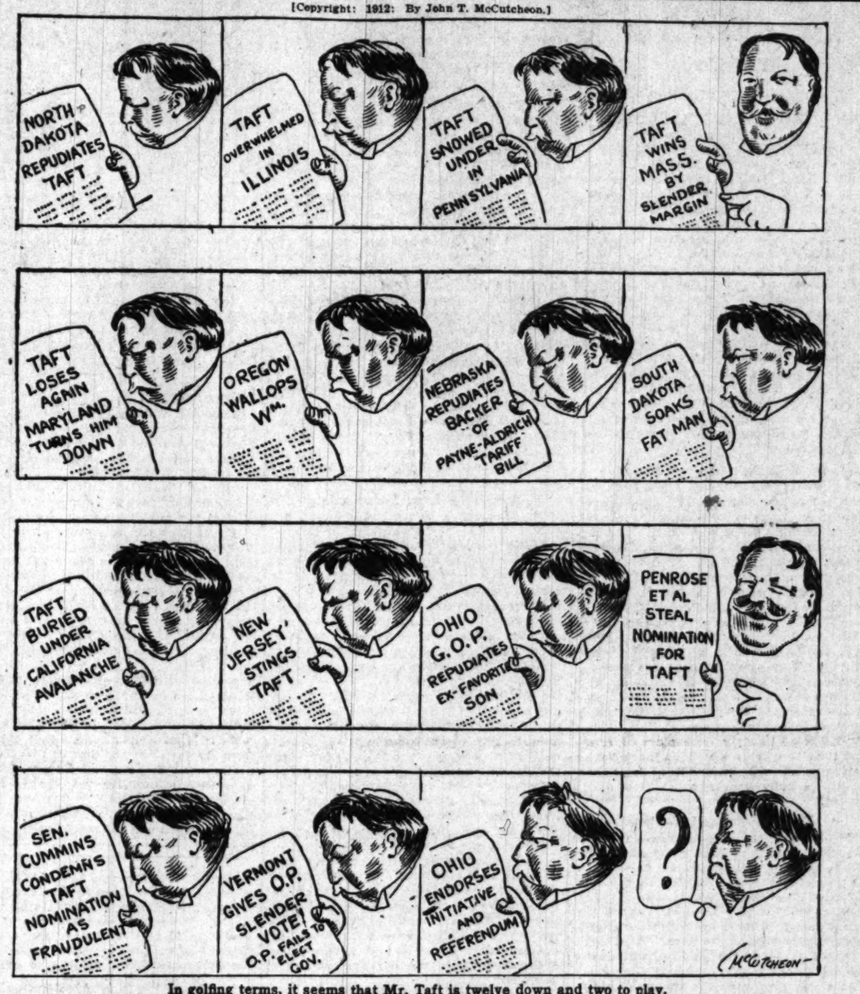

FALLS IN LOVE WITH VOICE HE HEARD IN A PHONOGRAPH

Singing in Machine Brings Maiden Husband—She Renounces Operatic Career for Marriage.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—A phonograph romance is that of Arthur Erismon, manager of the Boston office of a phonograph company, and his bride, who was Miss Rella Reid of Washington. He fell in love with her voice as reproduced by a phonograph, sought her out and married her. Miss Reid had just graduated from the Dolly Madison school at Washington and had purchased a ticket to Paris, where she was to spend four years in voice culture. She came to pay farewells to her family, who are visiting at Pemberton. There she sang into a phonograph and her father, Irby W. Reid, sent the disk to Mr. Erismon, a business friend. He immediately moved to Pemberton to become acquainted with the owner of the voice and he persuaded the girl to substitute housework for an operatic career.

ADMITS POLICE SPLIT RAID MONEY

West Hammond Chief Confesses on Eve of Wayman's Vice and Graft Inquiry.

INDICTMENTS IN SIGHT.

Grand jury indictments against court and city officials, policemen and resort keepers of West Hammond, loomed up last night as the result of a thorough investigation of graft and vice conditions in that city which will be started today by State's Attorney Wayman. The first angle of the inquiry will have to do with alleged crookedness in the justice court of the village.

On the eve of the inquiry, which is expected to expose a condition of civic rottenness of which a half dozen unsolved murder mysteries are said to have resulted, John Kulzyck, the chief of police, confessed to a police division of $26 seized in a slot machine raid.

Other developments in the investigation of the various angles of municipal crookedness made public during the day included:

Slugging of Attorney Louis Cohen by George H. Rosenbaum, boss resort keeper of West Hammond.

Affidavit of Louis Homas indicating crooked operation of Justice Frank Green's court.

Discovery of new evidence in the records of Justice Green and Justice Charles Wittenberg of Burnham to support the charge of malfeasance in office made against them by Virginia Brooks.

Receipt of two score letters by Assistant County Attorney Johnson promising new light on the West Hammond justice shop conditions.

Admits Division of "Swag."

The admissions of the chief of police concerning the splitting of slot machine money furnished the sensation of the day. He made his confession to Attorney Patterson, who has been retained as special counsel by the decent element of the city administration to try to drive out the graftera. The chief discussed the division of the raid prize money in much the same manner that he would talk of buying a sack of potatoes.

He was indignant, however, when it was suggested that another sum—$80.35—was divided in the same way. He insisted this sum was still in his hands for the city. The chief and five police officers raided twenty slot machines on orders from the mayor, who is not identified, it is asserted, with the crooked officeholders. The $26 was taken in nickels from the first five machines confiscated.

According to the chief the nickels were heaped up into a pyramid and the slow division of the "swag," nickel by nickel, was made. Two special policemen he said got $5 each and the others $4 each. The slot machines were smashed, the chief said, and the junk sold by Policeman Mike Helle for $1.

Resort Keeper Slugs Attorney.

Efforts of the attorney to get the chief to tell of graft collections made by members of his force failed, but investigators have collected evidence which it is said will show the police were paid regularly by the divekeepers who operated openly until recently, when they were closed by order of the mayor.

The slugging of Attorney Cohen came as result of a visit he made to the village to get evidence in a bankruptcy case in which he charges Rosenbaum is involved. He made several inquiries for the divekeeper whom he did not know and finally says he was steered up to Rosenbaum, who promptly slugged the lawyer. A grand jury indictment for assault with intent to kill will be sought against the slugger by the attorney.

Louis Homas, a Greek peddler of South Chicago, made affidavit during the day to a series of circumstances which will be used against Justice Green in the prosecution of the charges against him.

"On Aug. 27 I went there to peddle a load of apples," he said. "I was arrested by the police because I didn't have any license. I had $9.60 in my pockets and this was taken from me at the police station. I was kept in the station from 8 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and then taken before Justice Green. He said to me:

"'How much money you got?' and I said, 'I give all I got down in the station.'

"'Have you got a lawyer?' he asked me and I said 'I ain't got a lawyer, but I would go to South Chicago to get one and the judge says, 'there's a lawyer over there; you got to have a lawyer.'

"The lawyer wanted me to pay him $10. Then the judge asked me if I had peddled without a license and I said I had. He fined me $1 and costs, altogether $7.50, and the policeman that arrested me, Mike Helle, give him the money and the other $2 of my money was given to the lawyer."

Threatens to Take Apples.

The peddler said that at first the lawyer threatened to take the load of apples, but later said he would call in South Chicago for the remaining $8 of his fee. He hasn't called for it yet.

"There is no way for the costs in the peddler's case to have been more than $2," Attorney Patterson said last evening. "I don't know what the extra money was for and I don't know why it was necessary for the Greek to have a lawyer when he pleaded guilty to the charge against him."

During the day a statement made recently by Justice Wittenberg to the effect that no fine had been assessed for two years in his Burnham court was refuted by a receipt produced by a defendant in the court. The receipt indicated the defendant had paid $10 into the court, $5 of which was a fine and the rest costs.

Virginia Brooks, who started the reform work in her home village, and her assistants discovered a number of discrepancies yesterday in the books and records of the two justices. Secrecy was maintained as to the flaws in the records.

Get More Evidence.

"We don't want to tip our hand to the people we are investigating," Assistant County Attorney Johnson said. "We are getting a lot of evidence and more than forty letters have been received in the last few days from defendants in these justice courts, promising all sorts of information. We will have this matter ready to take to State's Attorney Wayman in the morning and expect grand jury action soon."

Attorney Patterson also has collected evidence against city officials and resort keepers which will be ready for grand jury action within a few days. Chief among the men against whom he has evidence are Rosenbaum and Henry Foss, dive keepers. It was in Foss' dive that Charles Messmaker died on Aug. 13 under circumstances that the coroner's office is making an investigation on the theory that he was murdered by poison.

The coroner's office also has started an investigation into the death of Robert Clayton, one of the chief witnesses for the state in the Messmaker case. Clayton was taken ill with somach trouble a week ago and removed to St. Margaret's hospital, where he died.

MASTER GONE; DOG ENDS LIFE.

Hangs Itself Between Bars of Hay Bin in Barn—Owner Immediately Starts for Home.

Tige, a bulldog, ended its life yesterday by hanging between the bars of a hay bin in a barn in the rear of its master's residence at 903 West Twenty-eighth street. James Duggan, caretaker of the premises, asserts the dog took its life because of grief caused by the continued absence of its master, Samuel Schweihs, a retired saloonkeeper. Schweihs, on being told in Milwaukee of the dog's death, immediately started for home.

VOTE IN VERMONT CHANGES HISTORY

Republican Majority of 26,817 in 1908 Reduced to a Plurality of 5,909.

FIFTY T. R. LEGISLATORS.

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Full returns from yesterday's election in Vermont leave the standing of the three leading candidates for governor unchanged. With the legislature Republican by a large majority on joint ballot, the election of Allen M. Fletcher, Republican, and the rest of his ticket is certain.

With the counting of the state vote of several of the smaller towns, the five candidates for governor stand as follows:

Allen M. Fletcher (Rep.)	26,250
Harlan B. Howe (Dem.)	20,341
Fraser Metzger (Proc.)	15,800
Clement F. Smith (Pro.)	1,443
Fred W. Suitor (Soc.)	1,181

Republicans Hold Legislature.

The Progressives have elected about fifty members of the state house of representatives and the Democrats a number slightly in excess. This will leave 140 for the Republicans out of the total membership of 246.

The senate will lack only a few votes of being solidly Republican.

A number of the small towns where there was no election for member of the legislature were still balloting late tonight. It will be some days before the exact makeup of the legislature is known.

Party Majority Wiped Out.

The Republicans reelected both their congressmen, Frank L. Green of St. Albans and Frank Plumley of Northfield. They carried eleven of the fourteen counties and 187 of the 246 cities and towns. Their party majority of 26,817 four years ago and of 15,739 two years ago has dwindled to a plurality of 5,909, the smallest margin ever given a Republican candidate in a presidential year.

The Democrats carried two counties and thirty-eight towns and ran up the largest total since 1880.

The chief feature, in view of the thorough manner in whic hthe state was covered by rallies in practically every town, is the fact that the total vote was not abnormal. It totals less than 65,000.

CLAIM 90 LEGISLATORS.

The Progressive national headquarters last night claimed the election of ninety members of the Vermont legislature as Progressives, together with the claim that the Democrats had elected forty-eight legislators.

There are 275 members of the Vermont legislature and the combined Progressive and Democratic vote thus claimed is a majority of one, sufficient, if the claim is borne out by the final returns, to stop the election of the Republican candidate for governor.

The information was made public at the headquarters at Hotel La Salle by Henry F. Cochems on the authority of a telegram from George W. Perkins.

STABS MAN, THEN HELPS HIM.

Mercy Hospital Employe Fatally Cuts Co-Worker and Aids Nurses in moving Victim.

William Clark, living at 2933 South Park avenue, was stabbed by Edward Malloy last night during a fight in the yard at Mercy hospital, of which both are employes. He died an hour later in the hospital, where his own assailant had helped nurses carry him. He had been stabbed several times in the chest and once in the abdomen. Malloy waited at the hospital for the police.

PROGRESSIVES IN IOWA PUT STATE TICKET IN FIELD

Fight to Defeat Move Fails After Hot Debate; Stevens for Governor.

ROOSEVELT O. K.'S ACTION

Tells Des Moines Convention This Is Contest Between People and Bosses.

COLONEL AND CUMMINS CONFER

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 4.—[Special]—Just when the opponents of a third state ticket thought they had victory within their grasp at the Progressive state convention this afternoon the Progressives by a decisive vote of 560 to 150 voted to place a complete ticket in the field. The opposition that had been manifested since the county conventions last Saturday simmered down to a few men, some of whom made a hard fight on the floor of the convention to defeat the proposition.

The state ticket is as follows:

For governor—Judge John L. Stevens of Boone.

For lieutenant governor—W. S. Bemis of Spencer.

For secretary of state—Harry A. Moyer of Waverly.

For auditor of state—O. H. Meier of Elkader.

For treasurer—N. F. Nelson of Lucas.

For railroad commissioner—John H. Stevens of Mason City.

For supreme judges—Henry H. Mitchell of Dubuque and E. J. Stason of Sioux City.

Then Roosevelt Approved.

And scarcely had the delegates finished nominating the first candidate, Judge John L. Stevens for governor, when Col. Theodore Roosevelt stepped upon the stage of the Coliseum. While the crowd gave him cheer after cheer, Roosevelt first waved his fedora to the people and then complimented Judge Stevens on the honor that had been conferred upon the Iowa leader by the convention. The people cheered all the louder when they saw that the colonel was pleased with the selection that had been made.

After the crowd had finished its cheering he stepped forth to make his greeting.

"Take off your coat," was shouted to the colonel.

"Maybe I haven't a shirt on," he responded with a smile.

Then Col. Roosevelt complimented the Progressives of Iowa on the stand they had taken in placing a ticket in the field. He told them it was the only course left open to them. He said he expected Iowa to be a leader in the Progressive movement and that it could not have been if it had tied itself to a Republican ticket that stands for the frauds of the Chicago convention.

Ticket Question Most Important.

The state ticket question was the most important one that could come before the convention. The first expression along this line came at the morning session, when William Smyth of Cedar Rapids offered a motion to adjourn until 1 o'clock. The motion was seconded but not recognized.

This action was taken to mean that there were those who did not propose to permit a discussion of the ticket question until the last moment. Frank B. Miller of Cedar Falls, temporary chairman, was accused by Smyth of playing favorites. The session was dismissed in an irregular way, and met at 2 o'clock again to take up its work.

The credentials committee and the permanent organization committee were late in making their reports. The report of the permanent organization committee recommended H. S. Betty of Davenport for permanent chairman.

An attempt to receive a report of the nominations committee before that of the resolutions committee brought down a storm of disapproval from those against a ticket. Smyth took occasion to denounce the steam roller and railroad methods. But, regardless of this, the report was read.

Report Received After Hot Debate.

A motion to receive the report and discharge the committee brought out a motion to lay the report on the table. A stormy discussion in which personalities had a part ensued. The report was received.

Smyth again demanded the floor. He was hooted by friends of a state ticket and cheered by the few who were with him. But the noise was so great that Smyth could not be heard. Smyth presented a resolution passed by the Fifth district caucus. It was to the effect that the convention opposes a state ticket, but that in case it was found necessary to nominate a candidate for governor in order to have standing in the primaries of 1914, that a candidate be nominated.

Wiley S. Rankin, committeeman from the Fourth district, made a motion to lay the resolution on the table. Smyth demanded a roll call by counties. This was the first and only real test of the attitude of the delegates. The vote was 560 in favor of tabling the motion, 150 against tabling the motion, with 17 not voting.

Smyth Takes Defeat Gamely.

Smyth said that he had been beaten fairly and that he was ready to submit to the majority vote. From that on the convention moved smoothly.

Two names were presented by the nomination committee for governor. Judge J. L. Stevens and O. J. Moore of Sioux City. A telegram was received from Mr. Moore stating that he was unable to accept the nomination. This left but one candidate.

Congressional candidates were named in five districts, as follows:

Second—Henry J. Zeuch, Davenport.
Third—R. E. Leach, Independence.
Sixth—J. H. Patton, Grinnell.
Seventh—George C. White, Nevada.
Eighth—L. W. Laughlin, Mount Ayr.

The third party workers sought to place a candidate in the field in the First, but failed on a test of votes. It was charged that supporters of Representative Charles Kennedy had packed the county conventions Saturday in the interests of the Republican candidate.

Fight for People, Says Colonel.

Col. Roosevelt in his speech before the convention said:

"This is only nominally a three cornered fight. In reality the fight is between the party of the people on one side and on the other the bosses and the beneficiaries of privilege who will throw their weight to whichever of the old parties they think can beat us.

"You'll find long before election day—already there are symptoms of it—that the old Republican party has been swept aside. The fight lies between us and the old machine Democracy. I appeal to every former Democrat who is loyal to the principles of Jefferson and Andrew Jackson to stand with us, and I appeal to every former Republican who is loyal to the principles of Abraham Lincoln.

"The official Republican party of today bears to the party of Lincoln the same resemblance that a ship which has been captured by pirates does to the ship before it was completed. Barnes, Penrose, Guggenheim, and the rest of them wouldn't have known what was meant by Republican principles if you had mentioned them.

"Those men represent the crooked alliance between crooked politics and crooked business which has been the curse of American life.

Knew They Courted Defeat.

"They knew at the Republican convention in Chicago that they were insuring the defeat of themselves. They expected the Democratic party to come into power, but they thought we would confine ourselves to putting the other set of bosses into power, and that after four years they would come back again.

"Nothing is gained by changing the whip of Barnes, Penrose, and Guggenheim for the scorpion of Murphy, Sullivan, and Taggart. All bosses look alike to us.

"I see that Mr. What's-His-Name, that congressman from East St. Louis, Bartholdt, he was one of the highwaymen—has asked Mr. Cummins to debate the Texas, California, and Washington contests at Chicago. I hope Mr. Cummins will refuse, for the reason that I wouldn't debate with a pickpocket the ownership of a watch he has just stolen. If the police are handy I'll hand him over to them. If they are not, I'll tend to him myself.

"Any man, any candidate for governor or other office, who has knowledge of the facts and supports Mr. Taft gives us the right to say that he is not competent to pass upon honesty in public life.

Compares the Conventions.

"Now a few words to the men who were formerly Democrats. I want to call your attention to this difference between the Chicago and Baltimore conventions. The victory at Baltimore for Mr. Wilson was achieved because the bosses finally concluded that his victory meant their victory. At Chicago the bosses knew that our victory meant their defeat.

"If the Democrats succeed in November it means that every boss will be enthroned in his own state. The representatives and beneficiaries of privilege will feel that they have had a new lease of life. It means precisely that."

Col. Roosevelt said he found everywhere among reactionary Republicans a growing purpose to support Mr. Wilson, on the theory that President Taft was beaten already and that the only hope of preserving the old parties was to support the Democratic ticket and defeat the Progressives.

Cites a Case in Iowa

"Today Judge Stevens told me about an old standpatter of the steamroler type, who said to him: 'Taft is beaten. I am going over to Wilson to beat the Progressives. We're going to throw the lever clear over the half way.'

"Where Mr. Wilson is getting support of that type we have the right to ask every independent Democrat who believes in the principles for which Democracy nominally stands to come with us. I ask every Democrat who really believes in the right of the people to rule to come with us, for every representative of privilege, every boss, is going to his side."

Here's His Views on Tariff.

Turning to the tariff, Col. Roosevelt said:

"I have remained attached to the doctrines the Progressives taught three years ago. I don't believe in free trade. On the other hand I don't believe in the standpat Republican tariff. I believe there are a great many shams and humbugs in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.

"Among the shams and humbugs was the tariff law. A little sham board was established. It was better than no board, but it had such small powers that it worked with extreme slowness and nothing was accomplished. Our proposal is to haev a real tariff commission. eW favor a commission which will work speedily, so that in a few months, if the Progressive administration comes in, it can take up and report on schedule after schedule."

Col. Roosevelt prophesied disaster unless the principles of the Progressive party were put into effect.

"We are striving to correct abuses," he said, "which, if they are not corrected, may some day bring the mighty American republic down on the heads of our children or our children's children."

NEW YORK PROGRESSIVES' CONVENTION MEANS FIGHT.

Opposition to Gubernatorial Nomination of W. A. Prendergast Gives Promise of Trouble at Syracuse Meeting.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The first session of the Progressive convention to nominate a state ticket and electors, which is to open tomorrow, promises to be full of fight.

The nominations will not be made before Friday or Saturday. This delay will be due to discussions concerning the platform and the dispute which developed today over the candidate for governor. Opposition has developed to the nomination of Controller William A. Prendergast.

The following is a list of candidates for the principal offices:

For governor—William H. Hotchkiss of New York, William A. Prendergast of New York, Carlos C. Alden of Erie, Bainbridge Colby of New York, Prof. F. M. Davenport of Clinton.

For lieutenant governor—Dean Herbert E. Cook of Canton, Joseph A. Griffin of Syracuse, Chauncey Hamlin of Buffalo.

For secretary of state—Dr. Henry Moskowits of New York, Regis H. Post of Bayport, Col. James M. Snyder of Troy.

LLOYDS RAISES TAFT RATES.

Premium on Election of Wilson Unchanged, with Market Clogged and Little Business.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The rate on President Taft's election has risen at Lloyds from 30 to 40 guineas per cent. The rate of premium on Col. Roosevelt is 25 guineas per cent. The rate on Mr. Wilson remains at 75 guineas per cent, but the market on the Democratic candidate is so full that little business can be done.

ROOSEVELT FINDS IOWA HIS FRIEND

Hawkeye State Opens Arms to Greet the Progressive Leader.

WORKERS AND BABIES.

Crowds Everywhere Shout Welcome to the Man and His Policies.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Iowa showed its affection for Col. Roosevelt today. Everywhere he was enthusiastically received. From 7 o'clock in the morning, when he spoke to 5,000 people at Keokuk, until 4 in the afternoon, when Des Moines, the capital, turned out as rarely in its history to greet him, Roosevelt's progress was triumphal in its character.

The country people came in wagons, buggies, surreys, and motor cars for miles around to hear the Progressive nominee. They came on foot, although the day was hot.

Among those who greeted him were many old ladies and apparently all of the young men in the neighborhood. One white haired grandmother brought the colonel a bunch of flowers which she said she had picked on her own garden, and all brought smiles of welcome for the colonel, who, they shouted, was their candidate.

Colonel Delighted by Welcome.

The colonel was delighted at the welcome extended to him here and because of the returns from Vermont. His optimism was reflected in what he said today. He spoke with vim and assailed Penrose, Barnes, Crane, Archbold, and all the men against whom he has leveled his spear.

At Eldon, where he spoke from an automobile in front of the grand stand at the fair grounds, he had to walk the distance of a city block through the tall grass in the broiling sun to get back to his car. When he boarded the train he looked as if he had just emerged from the steam room of a Turkish bath. Addressing Cecil Lyon, who is accompanying the party, he remarked in mock seriousness:

"Think of it—sixty days more of this," and then he quickly added, as if fearing he might be misunderstood, "But I don't mind it, it's a bully fight and I take it as it comes."

Railroaders and Babies.

A company of railroad men at Eldon cheered the colonel enthusiastically, their voices swelling the volume of noise made by that of more than 5,000 working men and farmers. Several women pressed forward with their babies. Roosevelt seized the babies and held them up before the crowd, exclaiming: "God bless them." There was a crowd of 5,000 at Mont Zion, where the colonel spoke for thirty minutes.

At a way station on the sunny side of Ottumwa the reception committee boarded the train and proceeded to occupy every inch of available space in the colonel's private car. The colonel was good humored about it, greeting every man cordially and saying as he fled to his stateroom:

"The only time I'd like to be an octopus is when I am shaking hands like this."

Workers Shout Welcome.

Upon arrival at Ottumwa hundreds of workingmen shouted a welcome to the colonel and struggled to grasp his hand.

At Beacon the colonel and his party were met by a committee and taken in an automobile across country to Oskaloosa. Here in the city hall park he addressed another big crowd.

Des Moines opened wide its arms for the colonel. At the station a large number of people enthusiastically acclaimed him. He pushed his way through them to an automobile and, escorted by two mounted policemen, the bridles of whose horses were decorated with bandanas, he was hurried to the Coliseum through streets lined with enthusiastic crowds. He arrived just as the convention was nominating former Judge John Stevens as Progressive candidate for governor.

Attacks Bosses in Old Parties.

When the colonel ascended the platform 8,000 throats gave a roaring welcome to the Progressive nominee. The colonel told his audience they would find before the election the old Republican party swept completely aside and the fight between the Progressive and the machine Democracy. He explained why the Republicans ought to join the new movement and why the Democrats should do so and repeated his well known statement that nothing is to be gained by exchanging the whips of Crane, Penrose, Barnes, et al. for the scorpions of Murphy, Taggart, and Sullivan.

He insisted if the Democrats triumphed in this campaign it would mean that the powers that prey would feel that they had another lease of life. He referred to the support of Wilson by Jacob Schiff and repeated his declaration that if the Standard Oil doesn't reform it would undergo "Abyssinian treatment" once more in case of a Progressive victory.

This was warmly approved by the audience, as was the statement that in the meantime he proposed to apply the "Abyssinian treatment" to Penrose.

When Roosevelt Got the Beans.

The colonel answered the charge that he had acted unconstitutionally by referring to what he did in the case of the Panama canal, and pointed out that Lincoln did not act unconstitutionally in suppressing the rebellion, though Buchanan had announced once that a state could not constitutionally secede and that the United States could not constitutionally prevent its secession.

The colonel also told an experience when in command of his Rough Riders in Cuba. He went to Siboney to obtain some supplies. He discovered 1,100 pounds of beans and asked the commissary officer to give them to him for his men. The commissary refused, stating that they were only for the officers' mess. Then Roosevelt made a requisition for his officers.

"Your officers can't eat 1,100 pounds of beans," said the commissary.

"You don't know their appetites," replied the colonel.

"But I'll have to send your requisition to Washington," said the commissary.

"Finally," said the colonel smilingly, "we agreed upon a compromise. He sent my requisition to Washington and I got the beans."

The colonel was particularly gratified when, as he was leaving the Coliseum, Dr. Sharp of troop L of his regiment came up to him and said he remembered the incident well.

Farmers Applaud Tariff Views.

The colonel did not forget Iowa's interest in the tariff and referred to it in several speeches, and especially at Des Moines. He repeated his statements that the tariff should be revised in accordance with the report of an expert commission. The Taft board he described as a "sham" and promised if elected he would take steps for immediate revision in compliance with the views of a real nonpartisan commission.

The farmers in the audience heartily applauded his statement that they should receive an equal amount of protection as others.

Wouldn't Debate with Pickpocket.

Congressman Bartholdt of Missouri, as a result of his challenge to Senator Cummins to debate on whether or not the delegates to the Republican convention were fraudulently seated, received a punch from the colonel. Bartholdt, the colonel pointed out, was one of the members of the national committee. He said he hoped the senator would refuse to accept the challenge.

"I myself would not debate with a pickpocket on the ownership of my watch," he observed. "If the police are handy, I would turn him over to them. If they were not, I would deal with him myself. But I would not get into a joint debate with him. There is no more ground for a debate with Bartholdt than there is for debating with the average offender who has just been sentenced in one of the minor criminal courts."

The colonel had a long conference tonight with Senator Cummins.

Taft Dead Issue in Iowa.

In Iowa Taft and the Republican party are dead issues. Four years ago Mr. Taft polled 275,000 votes and obtained the electoral vote of the state by a plurality of 75,000, as against double that number for Roosevelt in 1904. In the coming elections it is conceded by standpat and Progressive Republicans alike that the president will not receive more than 35 per cent of his vote in 1908. The remaining 65 per cent will go largely to Roosevelt, though some votes are expected to be cast for Wilson.

If the election were to occur today, politicians who have been traveling up and down the state say Roosevelt would win by a small plurality. Gov. Wilson has negative strength only. He is vigorously backed by the Bryan faction. The anti-Brynites who worked for the nomination of Speaker Clark at Baltimore are for him in a lukewarm way. The Democrats say they will be able to hold all the Democratic votes, and as a result of the bitterness of the standpatters will obtain some 30,000 or 40,000 Republican votes, which will assure a Wilson victory in the state.

See Gains from Democrats.

The Progressives admit that some of the standpatters, in the hope of defeating Roosevelt, will vote for Wilson, but they say this loss will be offset by gains from the Democrats. Moreover, the fact must not be forgotten that Iowa is a protectionist state.

At the present time the tariff is not cutting much figure here. The issues engaging the attention of the people are those of common honesty and decency in government and business. The people are largely against Taft because of his record, because they are satisfied that his nomination at Chicago was stolen, and they have been confirmed in this belief by the statement of Senator Cummins to this effect, based upon a careful study of the evidence, which he made during the last two months.

But as the campaign draws near its close the tariff will become more and more an issue. The people will realize that Mr. Wilson is for a tariff for revenue. When they objected to the Canadian reciprocity agreement they expressed their conviction that it would be against their interest to lower the tariff bars to the point where their farm products would not receive the protection to which they believed them entitled, especially when they were not assured of compensation in the way of lowering the duties on goods which they buy but do not manufacture.

Think Roosevelt Will Gain.

Under these circumstances it is generally predicted that as the day of election approaches Roosevelt will grow in strength while Wilson will drop into second place.

The Taft candidacy has fallen into the hands of machine politicians. Working in his interest are Federal Judge Walter I. Smith and the first class postmasters throughout the state.

The state central committee almost to a man is for Roosevelt, but because it is Republican will decide to urge the election of the Republican state ticket and leave the Republican national ticket to shift for itself.

Because of the unpopularity of the president the Taft supporters have been forced to create a committee of their own with J. H. Trewin, who was for years a state senator and now is chairman of the state board of education, as its head. Trewin is regarded as a corporation representative, and during the last session of the legislature appeared before committees of the legislature in support of a public utilities law favored by the gas and other interests.

This committee is calling no meetings in support of the president. If it were to do so, to quote a politician who knows the situation, it could not "get the front chairs filled."

Kenyon Handicapped Himself.

The feeling against the president is so strong that it is sufficient to damn a man running for office if he declares for the Taft candidacy. Senator Kenyon, a leading Progressive, is being sharply criticised because he wrote a letter announcing his intention to stand by the Republican national ticket.

It was a brave thing to do, because Kenyon knows Iowa, and recognizing the bravery of his action many Progressives make excuses for him. But, nevertheless, he has distinctly handicapped himself. In his speeches at county fairs throughout the state he is not referring to Taft any more than are other Republican candidates, including Lieut. Gov. Clark, who is a Republican aspirant for the governorship.

How Election in Vermont Is Viewed by the Leaders.

Republican.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee—It has been widely claimed that the Vermont election of yesterday, in which, by the way, the third term party ran a bad third, would be the barometer of the November election. From that proposition the Republican national committee did not dissent. Complete returns from the six cities and from all but nine of the towns show the following results: Fletcher, Republican, 25,406; Howe, Democrat, 19,859; Metzger, third term candidate, 15,161. The Republicans have control of both houses of the Vermont legislature, and will have a majority on a joint ballot of forty. The joint assembly will therefore confirm Mr. Fletcher, the Republican candidate for governor; will elect a Republican United States senator, and will elect all Republican state officials. The two Republican members of congress were re-elected yesterday. The third term party confidently predicted a vote of 20,000 for their candidate; the vote has fallen 25 per cent short of their expectations. The fact that the third term party ran third in the race in Vermont, that it received only 7 per cent of the vote at the primaries in Detroit, and was ignored in the primaries in New Hampshire and Nevada emphasizes the decline of that movement. Republicans in other states who analyze yesterday's results in Vermont will not waste their votes. As the lesson of the Vermont figures sinks more and more into the public mind the average citizen will face the alternative of Republican or Democratic rule.

Democratic.

Woodrow Wilson—The fact that the Democrats more than held their own in Vermont, a Republican state, and also made substantial gains, means business throughout the country. The big Democratic vote is very gratifying. It is difficult to analyze the results in Vermont on any comparative basis because the total vote was so much larger this year than two years ago, and it is hard to trace the sources of the gains. The Vermont election indicates a heavy vote throughout the country in the coming election and I regard it as significant that the Democrats carried the cities throughout Vermont. One thing is sure, the Democrats did not lose any votes to the new party and the Republicans lost. The results are certainly encouraging.

Martin J. Wade—Roosevelt and his moose saved th,pttdo,ononoOebe8BoHm nww moose party has saved the Republican ticket in the state of Vermont. Rock-ribbed as Vermont is in its Republicanism it is apparent from the result of the election that if it had not been for Roosevelt the state would have gone Democratic. The vote for the Democratic candidate, added to the vote which the Progressive party polled, runs over 10,000 more than was polled by the Republican candidate. We do not claim, of course, that all the Progressive votes would have been cast for the Democratic candidate if the Roosevelt ticket was not in the field, but the vote indicates a revulsion of feeling against the Republican party. If Roosevelt will retire from the contest Wilson will carry every Republican state in the west.

Joseph E. Davies, secretary Democratic national committee—The results of the Vermont election are significant because they confirm our predictions that Wilson will carry nearly every northern state as well as the solid south. The figures are really startling when one considers that Vermont heretofore has been so completely Republican in sentiment. If only the ratio of increase in the Democratic vote in Vermont is maintained in other states Wilson will carry practically all the states in the north.

Press Comment.

New York World [Dem.]—If the Vermont verdict means anything it means a Wilson landslide in November. The Democrats have more than held their own, and when they can do this in Vermont they can do it in every state in the union. As for Mr. Roosevelt's Progressive party, on the basis of its Vermont showing it will not poll enough votes to make it a formidable factor in the election, but it will poll enough votes to overwhelm the regular Republican party in disaster.

Boston Herald [Taft]—The proportion of the Republican ballot polled in this barometric states as between Roosevelt and Taft does not differ greatly from that which expressed itself in the spring nominations. Col. Roosevelt then carried one district, Taft the other, as well as the four delegates at large, but although Taft had six of the eight delegates at Chicago his lead in the state fell far short of two to one. The Roosevelt movement submitted to the test of an actual polling has thus gained no ground. If, however, one Republican out of every three intends to desert the ticket in November no large number of Republican states can show their heads out of the tide on the morning of Wednesday, the sixth.

New York Globe (Ind.)—The result in Vermont apparently gives joy to the mathematicians and analysists of all parties.

The bull moosers—those who really believe in the new party and the necessity for its organization—may well be pleased with the Vermont result. For a party to spring thus instantly into formidable existence in such a state as Vermont is surely remarkable. The new campaigners, beholding what a crop they have raised in two or three weeks in a barren soil, are encouraged to believe that elsewhere, with more time and opportunity to educate, the greater part of the old Republican party will be captured and the way thus opened to a national victory in 1916.

Progressive.

Theodore Roosevelt—I am greatly relieved at the result in Vermont. While on my three days' tour of the state I became seriously concerned lest there should be practically no support whatever for the Progressive state ticket, because a third or a half of the men who spoke to me stated their belief in the Progressive national ticket, but did not intend to vote the state Progressive ticket. This was the reason why in my speeches I practically dropped all the appeal for the national ticket and urged the support of the state ticket. While in Vermont I became convinced that the Progressive party was strong and was growing, and that we would in all probability carry the state in November for the national Progressive ticket, but I also became convinced there was danger of a complete breakdown so far as the state ticket was concerned at this time. I am relieved and pleased at the showing that has been made.

George W. Perkins—The result in Vermont is a great triumph for the new party. In a rock-ribbed state election a party not yet officially four weeks old in a campaign of between two and three weeks, fighting against two parties, each of which is more than half a century old, polled approximately 80 per cent of as many votes as one party and 65 per cent of as many votes as the other party.

H. M. Cochems—The news from Vermont should thrill every Progressive in this country. Vermont was known to all other parties to be the most stubborn territory in the union for any new propaganda. We had but three weeks to make an organization, select candidates, and organize the fight. The first contribution to the Vermont state campaign, which cast less than 70,000 votes in a full year, was $100,000 by the Republican candidate for governor, Mr. Fletcher. This fact is undisputed, and that is equivalent to a million dollars for a campaign in the state of Illinois, in proportion to population. It was a state campaign and difficult to crystallize Roosevelt sentiment in the expression on state officers in a state which for two generations has been shackled by an iron-clad organization controlled by the Proctors and the Fletchers. Before the election Mr. Hilles announced that our total vote would not be 5,000. We cast nearly 16,000. We were close in the running with both the old parties, and I firmly believe from reliable information that even at this early date Roosevelt personally would have carried Vermont and that there can be no question that the crusade started in that state will give us the electoral vote in November. It proves one thing conclusively—that the fight this fall is between the Progressives and the Democrats, and confirms our view from the beginning that Mr. Taft will in all probability not secure an electoral vote in the union.

Cummins May Also Suffer.

Senator Cummins may suffer also from Democratic success in gaining control of the legislature. The standpatters have been after his scalp for years. They will be greatly encouraged by the defeat of Kenyon, whom they are supporting because he is for Taft, and will start a determined fight upon Cummins two years hence.

It is not believed the Republicans will be able this year to make inroads upon Democratic territory as represented in the legislature, while the Democrats will invade successfully Republican territory. The Progressives do not intend to put up any legislative tickets, unless the local communities decide otherwise. A sufficient number of holdovers from the legislature to be elected in November, if Democratic, will hamper Mr. Cummins seriously should he be a candidate for reelection.

The state Progressive convention, which is meeting in Des Moines, promises for the moment to hurt the chances of Col. Roosevelt. It will put up state and congressional tickets against the advice of Senator Cummins and many of his followers. Without such tickets, Cummins and his allies believe a Roosevelt victory is probable; with it they predict that Wilson will win by 30,000 plurality.

Seek Permanence of Party.

But the Progressives are of the opinion that in nominating candidates for state and congressional offices they not only will assure the permanence of the party here but will cause men to line up for or against Progressive principles. In the end they assert the action will be advantageous both to the party and the colonel.

It is significant that when the convention assembled thirty or forty counties were opposed to state and congressional tickets. But after a free for all discussion, in which Medill McCormick, state chairman of the Illinois Progressives, participated, it was decided by a vote of two to one to be advisable to have such tickets.

The Democrats, by the way, have been making a good deal of capital with the farmers out of McCormick's connection with the Progressives, asserting that he is interested in the International Harvester company. Mr. McCormick repeated that he had no such connection.

Editor Orchard of the Nonpareil of Council Bluffs said today Roosevelt would carry southern Iowa.

"The issues in my section," he said, "are the same as everywhere throughout the country. We feel that Roosevelt is the strongest man in the United States, and that he is the one candidate to solve the great problems confronting the nation. Mr. Taft's record, the theft of the nomination at Chicago, and the Archbold-Penrose controversy, have helped the Roosevelt movement.

"Most of the farmers and laboring men are for Roosevelt. Old line Republicans among the farmers, bankers, corporation lawyers, and machine politicians are against him and for Taft. The recall of judges is not engaging much attention. There is a strong sentiment for the initiative and referendum. At our state convention some weeks ago we adopted a plank to submit to a vote the question of giving suffrage to women."

To sum up, there is hardly a man in Iowa who at heart is for Taft. Those who are supporting him, except in a few instances, are doing so because they are against Roosevelt. If they think they can beat the latter by voting for Wilson they will do it. But at this writing it does not look as if they can succeed even by going to such lengths.

CALIFORNIA SURE FOR THIRD PARTY

Taft Electors Can Have Names Placed on the Ticket Only by Petitions.

VICTORY FOR MOOSE MEN.

Even Gov. Johnson's Father Defeated as Republican Candidate for Assembly.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 4.—Returns today from yesterday's primary election make it plain that only by petition can Taft electors find place on the California Republican ticket at the presidential election this fall.

The decisive manner in which Roosevelt and Johnson swept the state for the second time this year makes it certain that the nominating convention to be held in Sacramento on Sept. 24 will choose men pledged to Roosevelt as the Republican electors of California.

The Taft leaders to get their electors on the ballot will be forced to resort to petitions which must bear the signatures of 3 per cent of the total vote cast throughout the state in the last general election.

The Progressives nominated more than eighty of the 100 Republican party candidates for the legislature, as opposed to the Taft Republicans.

The Phelan [Wilson] wing of the Democratic party won easily from the Bell (Chutes) faction throughout the state.

Majority for Progressives.

The Progressives apparently carried a majority of the eleven congressional districts. The result appears to be as follows:

First district—E. A. Hart, Progressive.
Second—F. M. Rutherford, Progressive.
Third—Charles F. Curry, Republican.
Fourth—Julius Kahn, Republican.
Fifth—John I. Nolan, Progressive.
Sixth—J. R. Knowland, Republican.
Seventh—James C. Needham, Republican.
Eighth—E. A. Hayes, Republican.
Ninth—C. W. Bell, Progressive.
Tenth—W. D. Stephens, Progressive.
Eleventh—S. C. Evans, Progressive.

Woman for Superior Judge.

In the local contests for Superior judgeships, Miss Lucy Goode White, a Socialist newspaper writer, was nominated.

Grove L. Johnson, father of Gov. Johnson, appears to have been beaten for nomination to the assembly by a Progressive candidate. Mr. Johnson had represented his district for many years and met defeat for the first time two years ago when his son was an insurgent candidate for the governorship.

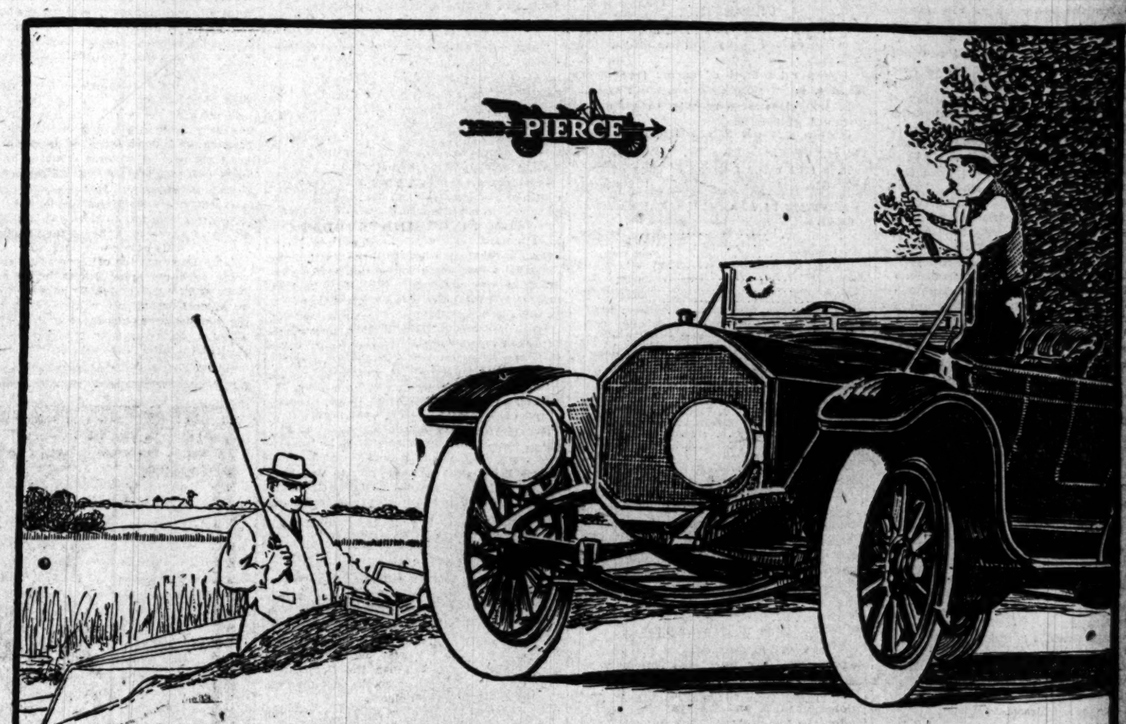

The vote was light, particularly in the northern half of the state. In San Francisco out of a total registration of 117,000, only 55,000 ballots were cast. Women especially were inactive, with the exception of the leaders who enthusiastically helped in the voting booths and were complimented by the register on the efficiency of their work. Light rains in the rural districts kept many farmers away from the polls.

Twenty-seventh Convention of International Brotherhood Draws 2,000 Delegates.

SESSIONS BEGIN TODAY.

Daily Paper Will Be Issued Carrying Full Report of the Proceedings.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the International Brotherhood of St. Andrew was formally opened yesterday for a four days' session at the University of Chicago. Nearly 2,000 delegates, representing 1,500 active chapters in America and foreign countries, are in attendance. President Judson has turned over the entire grounds and buildings of the university to the visitors. The campus dormitories and fraternity houses have been opened for the use of the delegates, many of whom are accompanied by their wives and families.

Testing Community Life.

Community life is tested by the delegates, who are eating in Hutchinson and Lexington commons of the university and enjoying the privileges of the Reynolds club and the swimming tank.

A quiet hour of prayer and discussion was observed last night in Christ church, East Sixty-fifth street and Woodlawn avenue. A daily paper will be issued this morning with a report of the convention and editorials.

"The present extent of the organization is far greater than my father ever realized it would be," said James L. Houghteling Jr., son of the founder of the order. "When he gathered the little band of enthusiasts together in the basement of St. James' church, at Cass and Huron streets, in 1883 he thought only of a local society.

Spreads Throughout World.

"The brotherhood idea carried out by that first chapter has spread throughout the world. We have active chapters in Japan, China, Siam, and European countries. With its international expanse it has had a great influence in spreading the Christian gospel into new territory.

"But that is not the only point—practically every member attending the convention is actively engaged in the business world. Salesmen, editors, bankers, brokers, laborers, writers, lawyers, physicians, and, in fact, practically every branch of human activity is represented among our men.

"We are gathered here for the interchange of opinions and for the furtherance of the good of the order. We, at least locally, will discuss politics, as well as religion. I am a Bull Moose, and there are a large number of young men here who will support the Progressive ticket.

Letter from Japan.

"Imperialism means spreading out and taking possession of lands beyond the sea. The brotherhood is doing this, not as a matter of policy, but from the progressive force of a new idea. Tomorrow morning's daily will carry a letter from Todomu Seegal, a member of All Saints' church in Tokyo, Japan. Seegal extends greetings and says he believes the present convention will accomplish much for the brotherhood work."

Vice President Harry D. W. English of the brotherhood, who also is a Progressive party leader in Chicago, said that in the platforms of the parties one will find many things which are the real basis of religion.

"The old idea that the church is a place for sectarians eternally at war with each other over dogma is now obsolete," he said. "The church is a vital part of civilization and in a practical way. Our organization, for instance, is not an order of monks or devotionalists, as some have imagined us, but a group of live, healthy men working in the interest of the church and society."

New York Is Picked.

New York was formally decided upon for the next convention at a meeting of the national council in the afternoon.

The main convention will open at 7 o'clock this morning with the celebration of holy communion and a short address by the Rt. Rev. C. P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago, in Christ church. At 8:15 the delegates will breakfast in Hutchinson commons, and the rest of the day will be given over to institute meetings, organizations, elections, and addresses.

Among the speakers who will address the convention are Bishop C. P. Anderson, the Very Rev. E. S. Rousmaniere, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, Boston; the Rt. Rev. A. S. Lloyd, the Rev. F. H. Sill of New York, H. W. D. English, chairman of the committee, of Pittsburg; Fred E. Tasker, president of the Methodist Brotherhood of America; the Rt. Rev. Frederick Courtney of St. James' church, New York; the Rev. William Harman Van Allen, rector of the Church of the Advent, Boston; E. H. Bonsall, president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the United States, Philadelphia, and the Rev. W. Russell Bowie, rector of St. Paul's, Richmond, Va.

GIVE DEMOCRATS MAJORITY OF COUNTRY ELECTION JUDGES

Bartzen and His Followers on County Board Ignore Legal Opinion in Favor of Republicans.

President Bartzen and the Democratic members of the county board yesterday turned down a report of the president's personally appointed committee on election judges in the country precincts and adopted a Democratic report in order to give the Democrats a majority of the judges.

Despite an opinion given by the county attorney that the Republicans were entitled to a majority of the country election officials because they polled a majority of the country vote, the board president insisted on the change.

After the report favoring the Republican appointees had been made by Commissioners Coffey, Carolan, and Hartray, the Democratic report was read and adopted by the Democratic board majority.

"This looks like playing politics," said Commissioner Hartray. "I want to vote 'No.'"

"You appointed a committee for this and asked an opinion from the county attorney," Commissioner Carolan said. "Now you turn on both. This is an act of bad faith."

Bartzen, asked later why the report of his committee was voted down, shook his head and said:

"We made changes because there were a number of objectionable characters selected. They were objectionable—very objectionable."

HORSE BITES MAN; MUZZLED.

Animal's Teeth Opens Blood Vessel in Arm of Victim After Several Pedestrians Escape.

Peter Yezel, who lives on Dearborn street, was bitten on the arm by a horse yesterday in front of 104 North Franklin street. A blood vessel in his arm was broken. Several other pedestrians narrowly escaped. The police ordered the owners to place a muzzle on the horse.

Democrats Choose Him for Governor.

John C. Karel.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Judge John C. Karel, who was nominated for Democratic governor of Wisconsin at the primaries Tuesday, once was a famous football player, but now is judge of the Probate court in Milwaukee. He was selected by the Democratic state convention on July 16 and made his campaign on the pledge to repeal the income tax and enact a substitute which shall be free from the problems found in the present law.

NEW SYSTEM FOR SCHOOLS

Experts to Plan Agricultural and Vocational Courses.

WILL USE COOLEY'S DATA.

Many Want Practical Education in the Lower Grades.

Illinois will have a model educational system, embracing general courses in agricultural and vocational training, if the state legislature will enact into law a bill to be prepared before winter by a commission of experts named yesterday.

President B. F. Harris of the Illinois Bankers' association named the nine men who will work out a new educational plan for the public schools of Illinois. He acted as chairman of the first general state conference of all interests concerned in improving the educational system. The recent conference was held in Springfield on Aug. 14, and the determination was made to try to improve the schools to better prepare Illinois boys and girls for actual lifework.

Personnel of Committee.

The new bill drafting commission, called the subcommittee of the conference, is composed of the following men:

President Edmund James of the University of Illinois, chairman.

F. G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction.

Edwin G. Cooley, recent student of European vocational education.

O. J. Kern, county superintendent of schools, Rockford, Ill.

Frank I. Mann, Illinois Farmers' Institute, Gilman, Ill.

Prof. Frank M. Leavitt, University of Chicago and State Teachers' association.

E. R. Wright, president Illinois State Federation of Labor.

George M. Reynolds, banker.

Julius Rosenwald, merchant and philanthropist.

Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the civic federation of Chicago, who will act as secretary of the subcommittee, said in the evening that in the preliminary educational conferences every organization or club within the state interested in the public school system had been invited to participate in the conferences.

Has Statewide Significance.

"The activity of the State Bankers' association has given the movement for industrial education a statewide significance," he said, "and it is believed there will be no difficulty in getting the legislature to approve an up-to-date plan of education.

"The Chicago Commercial club more than a year ago interested itself in vocational training in the public schools and sent Mr. Cooley to Europe to study the industrial education systems there. The club has published his findings in book form. It is fortunate we will have Mr. Cooley to assist in the preparation of this proposed model bill.

State to Bear Half Expense.

"Thus far in discussion of the plans for advancing agricultural and vocational instruction in the schools the conferees have agreed the state should bear half the additional expense and the various localities adopting the proposed new courses the rest of the expense. There has been some difference of opinion as to whether the new courses should be limited to the high schools or also be included in the lower grades.

"Mr. Cooley is a strong advocate of industrial traiing in the grades. He believes the sooner the child begins industrial work in the school the better for him. The question will be decided by the subcommittee.

"It is the intention to draft the proposed bill with all the speed possible compatible with a thorough study of the matter involved in working out a first class system. As soon as the bill drafting commission completes its work Mr. Harris will call the conference together again to hear its report."

MINISTER FROM PANAMA QUITS.

Will Leave Washington Because the Arosemena Administration Was Overthrown at Recent Election.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Don Ricardo Arias, minister from Panama to the United States, today forwarded his resignation to his government and will leave Washington as soon as he is relieved. His successor probably will be Dr. Ramon M. Delve, a member of the Panama cabinet under several administrations. The overthrow of the Arosemena administration in the recent election made it necessary for Arias to give up his post.

MISSOURI HEEDS COLONEL'S ADVICE

Progressive Party Nominates Complete State Ticket with Nortoni at Head.

SPURNS PLEA OF HADLEY.

Refuses Consent for Fusion Candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The Progressive party state convention adjourned tonight after nominating a complete state ticket, including three candidates for the Missouri supreme bench, without compromising in any degree with Gov. Hadley's plea for fusion.

Albert D. Nortoni, judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, was unanimously indorsed for governor. The other nominees are:

For lieutenant governor, J. M. Burrus, Kansas City.

For secretary of state, Frederick W. Neidermeyer Columbus.

For attorney general, A. M. Hyde, Princeton.

For state auditor, A. J. Reynolds, Ava.

For state treasurer, John Ball, Joplin.

For railroad and warehouse commissioner, John W. McCoy, Kansas City.

For state Supreme court, Richard M. Dalton, Hannnibal; Frank L. Arthurd, Chillicothe, and Ford W. Thompson, St. Louis.

For Kansas City Court of Appeals, J. T. Burney, Kansas City.

For Springfield Court of Apppeals, M. E. Morrow, Westplains, John H. Spurgeon, Joplin, and John B. McCammon, Springfield.

For St. Louis Court of Appeals, Paul V. Janis of St. Louis, vice chairman of the state committee.

Two Quit Republican Ticket.

The withdrawal of two regularly nominated Republican candidates for state office and their candidacy for the same offices on the Progressive party ticket caused much enthusiasm. They did not win the Progressive party nominations. They are J. H. Mason of Springfield, Republican nominee for attorney general, and Green K. Greer of Sikeston, nominee for state auditor. Both have notified the secretary of state not to put their names on the Republican ballot.

The influences brought to bear by Gov. Hadley in favor of selectin gthree candidates for the supreme bench, one from the Democratic, one from the Republican, and one from the Progressive party, were overridden rough shod by the delegates, who long before the order of business was reached made it clear they would not listen to any such a proposition.

The matter o fobtaining places on the ballots for the party's candidates received much attention from the delegates. A report of a special committee of lawyers appointed at the session yesterday was adopted.

Plans for Place on Ballot.

This pet forward three methods by which the desired result may be accomplished. The first is through attested certificates from the convention, the second by application of the rogressive state committee, and the third through petitions signed by the electors of the state. Should all three fail an attack will be made on the constitutionality of the state primary law.

Some debate took place over presidential electors, and it was decided the convention should ratify the men who had been selected by the Progressive meeting in June at Kansas City. The convention also decided not to nominate congressional candidates, but to ratify those who already had been monated by the district conventions, and those that are yet to be nominated.

The resolutions committee offered a resolution, which was adapted, that the special committee of nine on organization that was appointed by the Kansas City meeting should be continued and that it proceed to the organization of the party in St. Louis and St. Louis county.

After adjournment of the convention the state central committee ousted Spearman Lewis as secretary and elected in his place J. A. Galbraith of Kansas City, who will serve without salary. The committee then adjourned to meet at Joplin on Sept. 23, when Theodore Roosevelt will speak there.

OHIO TO NOMINATE TODAY.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4.—The Progressive party in Ohio completed its organization and began its first state convention today. Tomorrow the convention will adopt its platform and nominate a full state ticket.

It is generally conceded tonight that Arthur L. Garford of Elyria will be the nominee for governor, but no one is able to outline the rest of the ticket. Leaders of the Progressive movement are said to favor as many spontaneous nominations as possible.

The list will contain the names of several who have heretofore been affiliated with the Democratic party, if the leaders have their way, it is said.

DEMOCRATS START FOR MAINE.

Vermont Result Encourages Wilson Supporters in Pine Tree State Fight —McCombs Again Well.

New York, Sept. 4.—After a conference today between Acting Chairman McAdoo of the Democratic national committee Senators Pomerene of Ohio and O'Gorman of New York and Representative Burleson of Texas, at which the result in Vermont was thoroughly discussed, it was decided to bend every effort to strengthen the Democratic campaign in Maine up to the last moment before next Monday's election.

With that end in view Senator O'Gorman and Representative Burleson left tonight for a speaking tour in Maine. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania started for Maine yesterday.

William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who has been convalescing from a nervous breakdown, at a camp in the Adirondacks, returned to this city today. He said the rest was of great benefit to him and that he hoped soon to be able to resume work directing the campaign.

PRAISE FOR PAUL CZOLGOSZ.

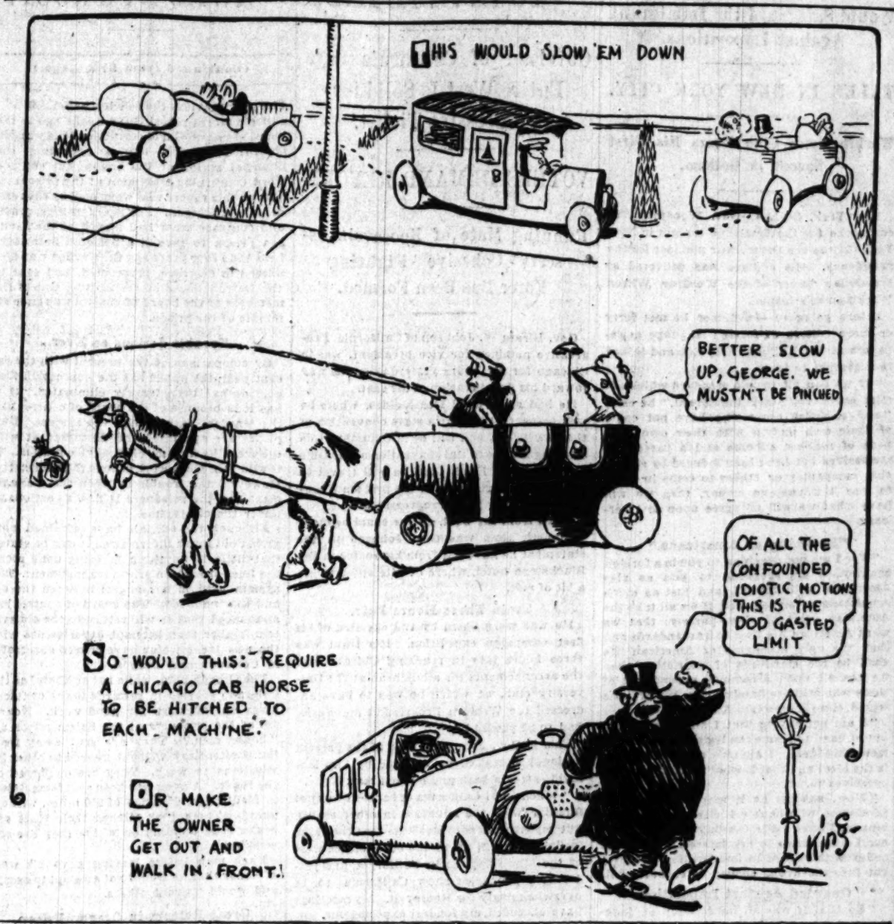

Father of McKinley's Slayer Commended by Court for Thrashing Man Who Taunted Him.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 4.—Paul Czolgosz, father of Leon Czolgosz, who assassinated President McKinley, was complimented by Municipal Judge Levine today for thrashing Synatz Russinski, who taunted Czolgosz for his son's act.

Czolgosz was in court on an assault and battery charge preferred by Russinski. After declaring the father of the assassin not guilty, Judge Levine said:

"Czolgosz was taunted by Russinski and five companions about his son's act. The father is not responsible for his son's sins. Czolgosz should have whipped the whole bunch."

DEVINE HITS AT DEWEY AGAIN

Republican County Chairman Reviews Pre-Primary Campaign.

GIVES "TRIBUNE" CREDIT.

Points to Fact Newspaper Was Responsible for New Law.

The Republican county organization took another slam at Col. Chauncey Dewey and the Progressive party policy of a third ticket in Illinois and Cook county, in a statement issued yesterday by County Chairman John F. Devine.

Mr. Devine adds considerable to the inner history of the preprimary campaign, from the point of view of the regular Republican machinery.

Gives Credit to "Tribune."

"There was no signed request presented to Gov. Deneen for the call for an extra session, as stated by Col. Dewey, by any of the legislators," says the statement. "A request was made by Col. Dewey to the legislators to agree to make a statement that they would vote for a primary bill. A few only responded. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE then interviewed by telegram the members of the general assembly and Gov. Deneen said he would call a special session if two-thirds indicated a willingness to vote for the bill.

"When two-thirds had so indicated the governor called a special session. A great many who agreed to vote for the bill opposed the calling of a special session.

"Again, the complaint about selecting the vice president of the Chicago Taft club as chairman of the convention is a half truth meant to convey a wrong impression. The Republican leaders agreed upon two persons for chairman who were friendly to Col. Roosevelt, but after it was ascertained neither could serve Mr. McMurray was chosen with the full understanding that the county committee was not to take any action that would in any way influence the presidential primary. This policy was pursued.

"Col. Dewey is one of those who is endeavoring to name spite tickets in the nation, state and county, to gratify revenge for real or fancied wrong. It will be recalled that his congressional district was the only one which broke away from the Republican organization four years ago and favored the nomination of President Taft."

KAREL VICTORIOUS BY 20,000

Democratic Nominee Eclipsed in Vote by Running Mate.

OTHER CONTESTS ARE CLOSE.

Coming Visit of La Follette Worries Wisconsin Republicans.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Estimates late tonight with election returns still far from completion, indicate that John C. Karel has swept the state with a majority of perhaps 20,000 in favor of the repeal of the present income tax law, while Harry Bolens, his running mate, ran ahead of Karel.

Karel led Schmitz two to one, while Bolens led his opponent nearly three to one, the Bolens' majority being probably about 25,000. Several counties, however, have not been heard from and are complete.

Milwaukee Late in Finishing.

Milwaukee, for example, was not unofficially completed until 5 o'clock this afternoon. The Tenth district fight for the Republican congressional nomination may require the second choice votes to give any of the candidates a majority, though Secretary of State Frear appears to have a good plurality.

Karel attributes his victory directly to his stand taken in opposition to the state income tax law. This measure was strongly defended by Mr. Schmitz, who made a vigorous campaign.

Albert H. Lonng of Prairie du Chien is leading Aldro Jenks of Dodgeville for the congressional nomination in the Third district on the Democratic ticket.

The tide seems to have turned in favor of Henry Johnson of Madison in the race with Henry Kumrey of Plymouth for the nomination as state treasurer on the Republican ticket.

La Follette Worries Republicans.

There is a hint of worry in the hearts of the state Republicans at the announcement that Senator La Follett had so timed his summer engagements as to be at Milwaukee the day the state Progressive convention is held. The rogressive leaders are not altogether delighted at the prospect, being in doubt as to what the visit may mean.

BOURNE TO SUPPORT COLONEL; SAYS HE IS PEOPLE'S CHOICE.

Oregon Senator Declares All Primary States but Wisconsin Selected Roosevelt for Presidency.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Senator Bourne of Oregon announced today that he will support Col. Roosevelt for the presidency, because the former president is the choice of the great majority of the Republican party.

"In my campaign for selection before the people of Oregon in 1908," he said, "I pledged myself, among other things, to work for Roosevelt's nomination for a second elective term.

"I did my utmost, carrying on a campaign for many months, and but for his ante-convention statement that he would decline the nomination I would have succeeded in nominating him. Had he been nominated in 1908 he would have been elected.

"The Republicans of Oregon, as well as of every other presidential primary state, except Wisconsin, selected him as their choice for president this year.

"These presidential primary returns clearly indicate that Col. Roosevelt is the choice of the great majority of the Republican party, and certainly was of Oregon, hence I, being the originator of the presidential preference law, shall support Col. Roosevelt for the presidency in the November election."

candidate in the field in the First, but failed on a test of votes. It was charged that supporters of Representative Charles Kennedy had packed the county conventions Saturday in the interests of the Republican candidate.

Fight for People, Says Colonel.

Col. Roosevelt in his speech before the convention said:

"This is only nominally a three cornered fight. In reality the fight is between the party of the people on one side and on the other the bosses and the beneficiaries of privilege who will throw their weight to whichever of the old parties they think can beat us.

"You'll find long before election day—already there are symptoms of it—that the old Republican party has been swept aside. The fight lies between us and the old machine Democracy. I appeal to every former Democrat who is loyal to the principles of Jefferson and Andrew Jackson to stand with us, and I appeal to every former Republican who is loyal to the principles of Abraham Lincoln.

"The official Republican party of today bears to the party of Lincoln the same resemblance that a ship which has been captured by pirates does to the ship before it was completed. Barnes, Penrose, Guggenheim, and the rest of them wouldn't have known what was meant by Republican principles if you had mentioned them.

"Those men represent the crooked alliance between crooked politics and crooked business which has been the curse of American life.

Knew They Courted Defeat.

"They knew at the Republican convention in Chicago that they were insuring the defeat of themselves. They expected the Democratic party to come into power, but they thought we would confine ourselves to putting the other set of bosses into power, and that after four years they would come back again.

"Nothing is gained by changing the whip of Barnes, Penrose, and Guggenheim for the scorpion of Murphy, Sullivan, and Taggart. All bosses look alike to us.

"I see that Mr. What's-His-Name, that congressman from East St. Louis, Bartholdt, he was one of the highwaymen—has asked Mr. Cummins to debate the Texas, California, and Washington contests at Chicago. I hope Mr. Cummins will refuse, for the reason that I wouldn't debate with a pickpocket the ownership of a watch he has just stolen. If the police are handy I'll hand him over to them. If they are not, I'll tend to him myself.

"Any man, any candidate for governor or other office, who has knowledge of the facts and supports Mr. Taft gives us the right to say that he is not competent to pass upon honesty in public life.

Compares the Conventions.

"Now a few words to the men who were formerly Democrats. I want to call your attention to this difference between the Chicago and Baltimore conventions. The victory at Baltimore for Mr. Wilson was achieved because the bosses finally concluded that his victory meant their victory. At Chicago the bosses knew that our victory meant their defeat.

"If the Democrats succeed in November it means that every boss will be enthroned in his own state. The representatives and beneficiaries of privilege will feel that they have had a new lease of life. It means precisely that."

Col. Roosevelt said he found everywhere among reactionary Republicans a growing purpose to support Mr. Wilson, on the theory that President Taft was beaten already and that the only hope of preserving the old parties was to support the Democratic ticket and defeat the Progressives.

Cites a Case in Iowa

"Today Judge Stevens told me about an old standpatter of the steamroler type, who said to him: 'Taft is beaten. I am going over to Wilson to beat the Progressives. We're going to throw the lever clear over the half way.'

"Where Mr. Wilson is getting support of that type we have the right to ask every independent Democrat who believes in the principles for which Democracy nominally stands to come with us. I ask every Democrat who really believes in the right of the people to rule to come with us, for every representative of privilege, every boss, is going to his side."

Here's His Views on Tariff.

Turning to the tariff, Col. Roosevelt said:

"I have remained attached to the doctrines the Progressives taught three years ago. I don't believe in free trade. On the other hand I don't believe in the standpat Republican tariff. I believe there are a great many shams and humbugs in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.

"Among the shams and humbugs was the tariff law. A little sham board was established. It was better than no board, but it had such small powers that it worked with extreme slowness and nothing was accomplished. Our proposal is to have a real tariff commission. eW favor a commission which will work speedily, so that in a few months, if the Progressive administration comes in, it can take up and report on schedule after schedule."

Col. Roosevelt prophesied disaster unless the principles of the Progressive party were put into effect.

"We are striving to correct abuses," he said, "which, if they are not corrected, may some day bring the mighty American republic down on the heads of our children or our children's children."

NEW YORK PROGRESSIVES' CONVENTION MEANS FIGHT.

Opposition to Gubernatorial Nomination of W. A. Prendergast Gives Promise of Trouble at Syracuse Meeting.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The first session of the Progressive convention to nominate a state ticket and electors, which is to open tomorrow, promises to be full of fight.

The nominations will not be made before Friday or Saturday. This delay will be due to discussions concerning the platform and the dispute which developed today over the candidate for governor. Opposition has developed to the nomination of Controller William A. Prendergast.

The following is a list of candidates for the principal offices:

For governor—William H. Hotchkiss of New York, William A. Prendergast of New York, Charles G. Aiken of Erie, Bainbridge Colby of New York, Prof. F. M. Davenport of Clinton.

For lieutenant governor—Dean Herbert E. Gale of Chester, Joseph A. Griffin of Syracuse, Chauncey Hamlin of Buffalo.

For secretary of state—Dr. Henry Moskowitz of New York, Roger H. Post of Bayport, Col. James M. Snyder of Troy.

ROOSEVELT FINDS IOWA HIS FRIEND

WORKERS AND BABIES.

Crowds Everywhere Shout Welcome to the Man and His Policies.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Iowa showed its affection for Col. Roosevelt today. Everywhere he was enthusiastically received. From 7 o'clock in the morning, when he spoke to 5,000 people at Keokuk, until 4 in the afternoon, when Des Moines, the capital, turned out as rarely in its history to greet him, Roosevelt's progress was triumphal in its character.

The country people came in wagons, buggies, surreys, and motor cars for miles around to hear the Progressive nominee. They came on foot, although the day was hot.

Among those who greeted him were many old ladies and apparently all of the young men in the neighborhood. One white haired grandmother brought the colonel a bunch of flowers which she said she had picked on her own garden, and all brought smiles of welcome for the colonel, who, they shouted, was their candidate.

Colonel Delighted by Welcome.

The colonel was delighted at the welcome extended to him here and because of the returns from Vermont. His optimism was reflected in what he said today. He spoke with vim and assailed Penrose, Barnes, Crane, Archbold, and all the men against whom he has leveled his spear.

At Eldon, where he spoke from an automobile in front of the grand stand at the fair grounds, he had to walk the distance of a city block through the tall grass in the broiling sun to get back to his car. When he boarded the train he looked as if he had just emerged from the steam room of a Turkish bath. Addressing Cecil Lyon, who is accompanying the party, he remarked in mock seriousness:

"Think of it—sixty days more of this," and then he quickly added, as if fearing he might be misunderstood, "But I don't mind it, it's a bully fight and I take it as it comes."

Railroaders and Babies.

A company of railroad men at Eldon cheered the colonel enthusiastically, their voices swelling the volume of noise made by that of more than 5,000 working men and farmers. Several women pressed forward with their babies. Roosevelt seized the babies and held them up before the crowd, exclaiming: "God bless them." There was a crowd of 5,000 at Mont Zion, where the colonel spoke for thirty minutes.

At a way station on the sunny side of Ottumwa the reception committee boarded the train and proceeded to occupy every inch of available space in the colonel's private car. The colonel was good humored about it, greeting every man cordially and saying as he fled to his staterooom:

"The only time I'd like to be an octopus is when I am shaking hands like this."

Workers Shout Welcome.

Upon arrival at Ottumwa hundreds of workingmen shouted a welcome to the colonel and struggled to grasp his hand.

At Beacon the colonel and his party were met by a committee and taken in an automobile across country to Oskaloosa. Here in the city hall park he addressed another big crowd.

Des Moines opened wide its arms for the colonel. At the station a large number of people enthusiastically acclaimed him. He pushed his way through them to an automobile and, escorted by two mounted policemen, the bridles of whose horses were decorated with bandanas, he was hurried to the Coliseum through streets lined with enthusiastic crowds. He arrived just as the convention was nominating former Judge John Stevens as Progressive candidate for governor.

Attacks Bosses in Old Parties.

When the colonel ascended the platform 8,000 throats gave a roaring welcome to the Progressive nominee. The colonel told his audience they would find before the election the old Republican party swept completely aside and the fight between the Progressive and the machine Democracy. He explained why the Republicans ought to join the new movement and why the Democrats should do so and repeated his well known statement that nothing is to be gained by exchanging the whips of Crane, Penrose, Barnes, et al. for the scorpions of Murphy, Taggart, and Sullivan.

He insisted if the Democrats triumphed in this campaign it would mean that the powers that prey would feel that they had another lease of life. He referred to the support of Wilson by Jacob Schiff and repeated his declaration that if the Standard Oil doesn't reform it would undergo "Abyssinian treatment" once more in case of a Progressive victory.

This was warmly approved by the audience, as was the statement that in the meantime he proposed to apply the "Abyssinian treatment" to Penrose.

When Roosevelt Got the Beans.

The colonel answered the charge that he had acted unconstitutionally by referring to what he did in the case of the Panama canal, and pointed out that Lincoln did not act unconstitutionally in suppressing the rebellion, though Buchanan had announced once that a state could not constitutionally secede and that the United States could not constitutionally prevent its secession.

The colonel also told an experience when in command of his Rough Riders in Cuba. He went to Siboney to obtain some supplies. He discovered 1,100 pounds of beans and asked the commissary officer to give them to him for his men. The commissary refused, stating that they were only for the officers' mess. Then Roosevelt made a requisition for his officers.

"Your officers can't eat 1,100 pounds of beans," said the commissary.

"You don't know their appetites," replied the colonel.

"But I'll have to send your requisition to Washington," said the commissary.

"Finally," said the colonel smilingly, "we agreed upon a compromise. He sent my requisition to Washington and I got the beans."

The colonel was particularly gratified when, as he was leaving the Coliseum, Dr. [illegible] plauded his statement that they should receive an equal amount of protection as others.

Wouldn't Debate with Pickpocket.

Congressman Bartholdt of Missouri, as a result of his challenge to Senator Cummins to debate on whether or not the delegates to the Republican convention were fraudulently seated, received a punch from the colonel. Bartholdt, the colonel pointed out, was one of the members of the national committee. He said he hoped the senator would refuse to accept the challenge.

"I myself would not debate with a pickpocket on the ownership of my watch," he observed. "If the police are handy, I would turn him over to them. If they were not, I would deal with him myself. But I would not get into a joint debate with him. There is no more ground for a debate with Bartholdt than there is for debating with the average offender who has just been sentenced in one of the minor criminal courts."

The colonel had a long conference tonight with Senator Cummins.

Taft Dead Issue in Iowa.

In Iowa Taft and the Republican party are dead issues. Four years ago Mr. Taft polled 275,000 votes and obtained the electoral vote of the state by a plurality of 75,000, as against double that number for Roosevelt in 1904. In the coming elections it is conceded by standpat and Progressive Republicans alike that the president will not receive more than 35 per cent of his vote in 1908. The remaining 65 per cent will go largely to Roosevelt, though some votes are expected to be cast for Wilson.

If the election were to occur today, politicians who have been traveling up and down the state say Roosevelt would win by a small plurality. Gov. Wilson has negative strength only. He is vigorously backed by the Bryan faction. The anti-Bryanites who worked for the nomination of Speaker Clark at Baltimore are for him in a lukewarm way. The Democrats say they will be able to hold all the Democratic votes, and as a result of the bitterness of the standpatters will obtain some 30,000 or 40,000 Republican votes, which will assure a Wilson victory in the state.

See Gains from Democrats.

The Progressives admit that some of the standpatters, in the hope of defeating Roosevelt, will vote for Wilson, but they say this loss will be offset by gains from the Democrats. Moreover, the fact must not be forgotten that Iowa is a protectionist state.

At the present time the tariff is not cutting much figure here. The issues engaging the attention of the people are those of common honesty and decency in government and business. The people are largely against Taft because of his record, because they are satisfied that his nomination at Chicago was stolen, and they have been confirmed in this belief by the statement of Senator Cummins to this effect, based upon a careful study of the evidence, which he made during the last two months.

But as the campaign draws near its close the tariff will become more and more an issue. The people will realize that Mr. Wilson is for a tariff for revenue. When they objected to the Canadian reciprocity agreement they expressed their conviction that it would be against their interest to lower the tariff bars to the point where their farm products would not receive the protection to which they believed them entitled, especially when they were not assured of compensation in the way of lowering the duties on goods which they buy but do not manufacture.

Think Roosevelt Will Gain.

Under these circumstances it is generally predicted that as the day of election approaches Roosevelt will grow in strength while Wilson will drop into second place.

The Taft candidacy has fallen into the hands of machine politicians. Working in his interest are Federal Judge Walter I. Smith and the first class postmasters throughout the state.

The state central committee almost to a man is for Roosevelt, but because it is Republican will decide to urge the election of the Republican state ticket and leave the Republican national ticket to shift for itself.

Because of the unpopularity of the president the Taft supporters have been forced to create a committee of their own with J. H. Trewin, who was for years a state senator and now is chairman of the state board of education, as its head. Trewin is regarded as a corporation representative, and during the last session of the legislature appeared before committees of the legislature in support of a public utilities law favored by the gas and other interests.

This committee is calling no meetings in support of the president. If it were to do so, to quote a politician who knows the situation, it could not "get the front chairs filled."

Kenyon Handicapped Himself.

The feeling against the president is so strong that it is sufficient to damn a man running for office if he declares for the Taft candidacy. Senator Kenyon, a leading Progressive, is being sharply criticised because he wrote a letter announcing his intention to stand by the Republican national ticket.

It was a brave thing to do, because Kenyon knows Iowa, and recognizing the bravery of his action many Progressives make excuses for him. But, nevertheless, he has distinctly handicapped himself. In his speeches at county fairs throughout the state he is not referring to Taft any more than are other Republican candidates, including Lieut. Gov. Clark, who is a Republican aspirant for the governorship.

How Election in Vermont Is Viewed by the Leaders.

Republican.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee—It has been widely claimed that the Vermont election of yesterday, in which, by the way, the third term party ran a bad third, would be the barometer of the November election. From that proposition the Republican national committee did not dissent. Complete returns from the six cities and from all but nine of the towns show the following results: Fletcher, Republican, 25,406; Howe, Democrat, 19,359; Metzger, third term candidate, 15,181. The Republicans have control of both houses of the Vermont legislature, and will have a majority on a joint ballot of forty. The joint assembly will therefore confirm Mr. Fletcher, the Republican candidate for governor; will elect a Republican United States senator, and will elect all Republican state officials. The two Republican members of congress were re-elected yesterday. The third term party confidently predicted a vote of 20,000 for their candidate; the vote has fallen 25 per cent short of their expectations. The fact that the third term party ran third in the race in Vermont, that it received only 7 per cent of the vote at the primaries in Detroit, and was ignored in the primaries in New Hampshire and Nevada emphasizes the decline of that movement. Republicans in other states who analyze yesterday's results in Vermont will not waste their votes. As the lesson of the Vermont figures sinks more and more into the public mind the average citizen will face the alternative of Republican or Democratic rule.

Democratic.

Woodrow Wilson—The fact that the Democrats more than held their own in Vermont, a Republican state, and also made substantial gains, means business throughout the country. The big Democratic vote is very gratifying. It is difficult to analyze the results in Vermont on any comparative basis because the total vote was so much larger this year than two years ago, and it is hard to trace the sources of the gains. The Vermont election indicates a heavy vote throughout the country in the coming election and I regard it as significant that the Democrats carried the cities throughout Vermont. One thing is sure, the Democrats did not lose any votes to the new party and the Republicans lost. The results are certainly encouraging.

Martin J. Wade—Roosevelt and his moose saved th,ptt&o,ononoe6eBoHm nww moose party have saved the Republican ticket in the state of Vermont. Rock-ribbed as Vermont is in its Republicanism it is apparent from the result of the election that if it had not been for Roosevelt the state would have gone Democratic. The vote for the Democratic candidate, added to the vote which the Progressive party polled, runs over 10,000 more than was polled by the Republican candidate. We do not claim, of course, that all the Progressive votes would have been cast for the Democratic candidate if the Roosevelt ticket was not in the field, but the vote indicates a revulsion of feeling against the Republican party. If Roosevelt will retire from the contest Wilson will carry every Republican state in the west.

Joseph E. Davies, secretary Democratic national committee—The results of the Vermont election are significant because they confirm our predictions that Wilson will carry nearly every northern state as well as the solid south. The figures are really startling when one considers that Vermont heretofore has been so completely Republican in sentiment. If only the ratio of increase in the Democratic vote in Vermont is maintained in other states Wilson will carry practically all the states in the north.

Press Comment.

New York World [Dem.]—If the Vermont verdict means anything it means a Wilson landslide in November. The Democrats have more than held their own, and when they can do this in Vermont they can do it in every state in the union. As for Mr. Roosevelt's Progressive party, on the basis of its Vermont showing it will not poll enough votes to make it a formidable factor in the election, but it will poll enough votes to overwhelm the regular Republican party in disaster.

Boston Herald [Taft]—The proportion of the Republican ballot polled in this barometric states as between Roosevelt and Taft does not differ greatly from that which expressed itself in the spring nominations. Col. Roosevelt then carried one district, Taft the other, as well as the four delegates at large, but although Taft had six of the eight delegates at Chicago his lead in the state fell far short of two to one. The Roosevelt movement submitted to the test of an actual polling has thus gained no ground. If, however, one Republican out of every three intends to desert the ticket in November no large number of Republican states can show their heads out of the tide on the morning of Wednesday, the sixth.

New York Globe (Ind.)—The result in Vermont apparently gives joy to the mathematicians and analysists of all parties. The bull moosers—those who really believe in the new party and the necessity for its organization—may well be pleased with the Vermont result. For a party to spring thus instantly into formidable existence in such a state as Vermont is surely remarkable. The new campaigners, beholding what a crop they have raised in two or three weeks in a barren soil, are encouraged to believe that elsewhere, with more time and opportunity to educate, the greater part of the old Republican party will be captured and the way thus opened to a national victory in 1916.

Progressive.

Theodore Roosevelt—I am greatly relieved at the result in Vermont. While on my three days' tour of the state I became seriously concerned lest there should be practically no support whatever for the Progressive state ticket, because a third or a half of the men who spoke to me stated their belief in the Progressive national ticket, but did not intend to vote the state Progressive ticket. This was the reason why in my speeches I practically dropped all the appeal for the national ticket and urged the support of the state ticket. While in Vermont I became convinced that the Progressive party was strong and was growing, and that we would in all probability carry the state in November for the national Progressive ticket, but I also became convinced there was danger of a complete breakdown so far as the state ticket was concerned at this time. I am relieved and pleased at the showing that has been made.

George W. Perkins—The result in Vermont is a great triumph for the new party. In a rock-ribbed state election a party not yet officially four weeks old in a campaign of between two and three weeks, fighting against two parties, each of which is more than half a century old, polled approximately 30 per cent of as many votes as one party and 65 per cent of as many votes as the other party.

H. M. Cochems—The news from Vermont should thrill every Progressive in this country. Vermont was known to all other parties to be the most stubborn territory in the union for any new propaganda. We had but three weeks to make an organization, select candidates, and organize the fight. The first contribution to the Vermont state campaign, which cost less than 70,000 votes in a full year, was $100,000 by the Republican candidate for governor, Mr. Fletcher. This fact is undisputed, and that is equivalent to a million dollars for a campaign in the state of Illinois, in proportion to population. It was a state campaign and difficult to crystallize Roosevelt sentiment in the expression on state officers in a state which for two generations has been shackled by an iron-clad organization controlled by the Proctors and the Fletchers. Before the election Mr. Hilles announced that our total vote would not be 5,000. We cast nearly 16,000. We were close in the running with both the old parties, and I firmly believe from reliable information that even at this early date Roosevelt personally would have carried Vermont and that there can be no question that the crusade started in that state will give us the electoral vote in November. It proves one thing conclusively—that the fight this fall is between the Progressives and the Democrats, and confirms our view from the beginning that Mr. Taft will in all probability not secure an electoral vote in the union.

present indications—and this is based upon statements of friends of Kenyon and Clark—is that a democratic legislature will be elected, which will mean a Democratic successor to Kenyon in the senate, and that Edward Dunn, the Democratic candidate for the governorship will achieve his ambition.

Cummins May Also Suffer.

Senator Cummins may suffer also from Democratic success in gaining control of the legislature. The standpatters have been after his scalp for years. They will be greatly encouraged by the defeat of Kenyon, whom they are supporting because he is for Taft, and will start a determined fight upon Cummins two years hence.

It is not believed the Republicans will be able this year to make inroads upon Democratic territory as represented in the legislature, while the Democrats will invade successfully Republican territory. The Progressives do not intend to put up any legislative tickets, unless the local communities decide otherwise. A sufficient number of holdovers from the legislature to be elected in November, if Democratic, will hamper Mr. Cummins seriously should he be a candidate for reelection.

The state Progressive convention, which is meeting in Des Moines, promises for the moment to hurt the chances of Col. Roosevelt. It will put up state and congressional tickets against the advice of Senator Cummins and many of his followers. Without such tickets, Cummins and his allies believe a Roosevelt victory is probable; with it they predict that Wilson will win by 30,000 plurality.

Seek Permanence of Party.

But the Progressives are of the opinion that in nominating candidates for state and congressional offices they not only will assure the permanence of the party here but will cause men to line up for or against Progressive principles. In the end they assert the action will be advantageous both to the party and the colonel.

It is significant that when the convention assembled thirty or forty counties were opposed to state and congressional tickets. But after a free for all discussion, in which Medill McCormick, state chairman of the Illinois Progressives, participated, it was decided by a vote of two to one to be advisable to have such tickets.

The Democrats, by the way, have been making a good deal of capital with the farmers out of McCormick's connection with the Progressives, asserting that he is interested in the International Harvester company. Mr. McCormick repeated that he had no such connection.

Editor Orchard of the Nonpareil of Council Bluffs said today Roosevelt would carry southern Iowa.

"The issues in my section," he said, "are the same as everywhere throughout the country. We feel that Roosevelt is the strongest man in the United States, and that he is the one candidate to solve the great problems confronting the nation. Mr. Taft's record, the theft of the nomination at Chicago, and the Archbold-Penrose controversy, have helped the Roosevelt movement.

"Most of the farmers and laboring men are for Roosevelt. Old line Republicans among the farmers, bankers, corporation lawyers, and machine politicians are against him and for Taft. The recall of judges is not engaging much attention. There is a strong sentiment for the initiative and referendum. At our state convention some weeks ago we adopted a plank to submit to a vote the question of giving suffrage to women."

To sum up, there is hardly a man in Iowa who at heart is for Taft. Those who are supporting him, except in a few instances, are doing so because they are against Roosevelt. If they think they can beat the latter by voting for Wilson they will do it. But at this writing it does not look as if they can succeed even by going to such lengths.

CALIFORNIA SURE FOR THIRD PARTY

Even Gov. Johnson's Father Defeated as Republican Candidate for Assembly.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 4.—Returns today from yesterday's primary election make it plain that only by petition can Taft electors find place on the California Republican ticket at the presidential election this fall.

The decisive manner in which Roosevelt and Johnson swept the state for the second time this year makes it certain that the nominating convention to be held in Sacramento on Sept. 24 will choose men pledged to Roosevelt as the Republican electors of California.

The Taft leaders to get their electors on the ballot will be forced to resort to petitions which must bear the signatures of 8 per cent of the total vote cast throughout the state in the last general election.

The Progressives nominated more than eighty of the 100 Republican party candidates for the legislature, as opposed to the Taft Republicans.

The Phelan [Wilson] wing of the Democratic party won easily from the Bell (Clark) faction throughout the state.

Majority for Progressives.

The Progressives apparently carried a majority of the eleven congressional districts. The result appears to be as follows:

First district—E. A. Hart, Progressive.
Third—Charles F. Curry, Republican.
Fourth—Julius Kahn, Republican.
Fifth—John I. Nolan, Progressive.
Sixth—J. R. Knowland, Republican.
Seventh—James C. Needham, Republican.
Eighth—E. A. Hayes, Republican.
Ninth—C. W. Bell, Progressive.
Tenth—W. D. Stephens, Progressive.
Eleventh—S. C. Evans, Progressive.

Woman for Superior Judge.

In the local contests for Superior judgeships, Miss Lucy Goode White, a Socialist newspaper writer, was nominated.

Grove L. Johnson, father of Gov. Johnson, appears to have been beaten for nomination to the assembly by a Progressive candidate. Mr. Johnson had represented his district for many years and met defeat for the first time two years ago when his son was an insurgent candidate for the governorship.

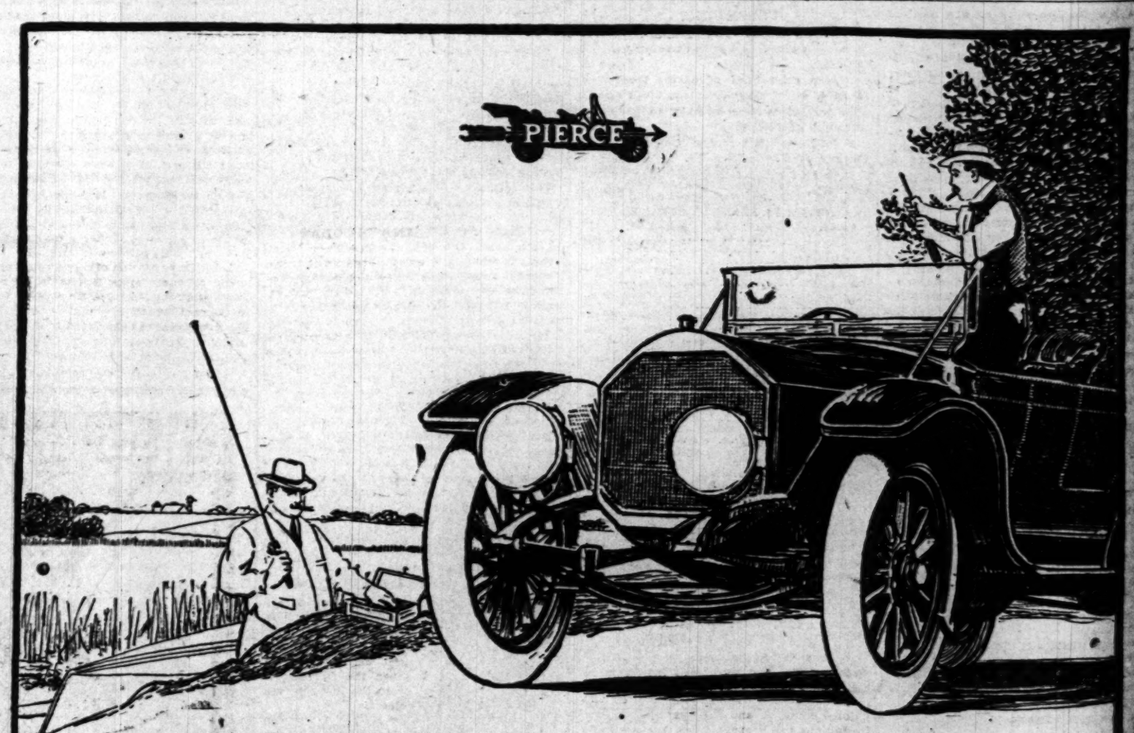

The vote was light, particularly in the northern half of the state. In San Francisco out of a total registration of 117,000, only 55,000 ballots were cast. Women especially were inactive, with the exception of the leaders who enthusiastically helped in the voting booths and were complimented by the register on the efficiency of their work. Light rains in the rural districts kept many farmers away from the polls.

DEADLOCK CRISIS IN CAR DISPUTE

Companies Given Until Today to Decide on One or Two Arbitration Boards.

MAHON IN ULTIMATUM.

Roach Asked to Agree on Settlement That May Be Made with Busby's Company.

After two days of private caucuses and joint conferences the deadlock between the officials of the street railway companies and the leaders of the union car men over the arbitration plans developed one yielding spot yesterday.

The deadlock over the point whether there shall be one or two boards of arbitration may be broken today if John M. Roach and the Chicago Railways company agree to abide by the arbitration settlements between the union men and the Chicago City railway company.

L. A. Busby, president of the latter company, and President W. D. Mahon of the international union refused to move an inch to accommodate each other yesterday. Busby held out for a single arbitration board to settle the disputes alone between his company and Street Car Men's union No. 200. He said one board of arbitration could not serve both his company and a rival street railway company.

Mahon Wants One Board.

Mahon insisted that one board should adjust the wage and working condition contracts for both the south side and the west side company. The labor leader went as far as to issue his ultimatum, giving the companies twenty-four hours to accept his proposition or reject it.

It was after this ultimatum had been issued in the form of resolutions and submitted to the company officials that the one ray of hope appeared. Mahon is said to have turned to Busby and asked him if he were willing to abide by the terms of settlement between the union and the Chicago Railways company. Busby promptly refused. Mahon then asked Roach if he would be willing to accept the arbitration results between the union and the south side company. Roach said he would think about it.

President Roach has till today to think. In the meantime he is in communication with the head of his company in the east. If he and his associates decide to subscribe in advance to whatever contract is drawn up by an arbitration board representing the Chicago City Railway company and the union, the deadlock will be broken at once. If not Chicago will take another step closer to a street car strike today.

Busby and Mahon Clash.

It was a heated meeting in the office of Mayor Harrison. Mahon and Busby both were in fighting moods. Busby repeated his demands and said he would insist on running things his own way. Mahon held out with his bulldog tenacity. But they left the conference in different moods. Busby was smiling. Mahon scowled.

It was explained that Busby was satisfied he would carry his point, and that the Chicago City Railway company would arbitrate its dispute with local No. 200 alone. Mahon's bad temper was said to have been aroused by the apprehension that he would have a harder battle dealing with Busby alone than if both the railway companies were parties to the arbitration.

After the conference in the mayor's office had been in session for nearly an hour Mahon asked permission to consult privately with the union leaders. Mayor Harrison, Busby, and Roach withdrew to an inner office.

Car Men Give Utimatum.

Mahon then drew up the following resolutions, which he presented to the two railway officials:

Be it resolved, That we request a reply from the companies' officials within twenty-four hours as to whether they will agree to a joint arbitration board or else that we arbitrate with one company and both companies abide by the decision made by the one arbitration board. If this is not agreed to within twenty-four hours, we will consider all negotiations broken off.

The joint committee, representing the union men, walked out of the meeting after delivering this resolution. Later the committee issued a statement explaining the resolution in part as follows:

"What our committee wants is justice and a fair show for our rights, and we will not be divided up and have our organization demoralized by any such tactics as proposed by the companies. We do not want to involve the city or our membership in a strike and we have patiently negotiated and pleaded with the officials of the companies for eight weeks in an effort to secure reasonable and fair conditions. Therefore we feel the time has come to bring this controversy to a close one way or the other."

President Busby explained why he would continue to insist on a separate arbitration board.

"There is not one dollar of financial interests in common between my company and the west side company," said Mr. Busby. "The physical conditions are different, and they always will be different until the companies are consolidated.

"The west side company gives its men who are old in the service the night cars, and pays them a bonus for short service. We give to our veterans the pick of the straight runs, days and the shortest service."

WILSON HAS ALIEN SOLUTION

Would Safeguard the Immigrant Against Impositions.

TALKS IN NEW YORK CITY.

Workingmen's Club Hears His First Speech in Gotham.

New York, Sept. 4.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson spoke for the first time tonight in New York City as the Democratic nominee for the presidency. His address was delivered at the dollar dinner of the Woodrow Wilson Workingmen's league.

Before going to the dinner he met forty or more editors of foreign language newspapers at the National Arts club and talked immigration to them.

"If we can hit upon a standard which admits every voluntary immigrant," he said, "and excludes those who have not come of their own motion with their own purpose of making a home and a career for themselves but have been induced by steamship companies or others to come in order to pay the passage money, then we will have what we will all agree upon as Americans.

"Speaking as Americans."

"For I am not speaking to you in a foreign country. I am speaking to you as also Americans with myself, and just as much Americans as myself, and if we all take the American point of view—namely: that we want American life kept to its standards and that the only standards of American life shall be the standards of restriction, then we are all upon a common ground, not of those who criticise immigration, but of those who declare themselves Americans.

"I am not saying that I am wise enough out of hand to frame the legislation that will meet this ideal. I am only saying that that is the ideal and that is what we ought to hold ourselves to.

"Now, strange as it may seem to some gentlemen who have criticised me, the only blunder I have made, the only practical blunder I have made in my interest in a liberal policy with regard to immigration is that I got into the wrong society to encourage it.

Guarded Against Imposition.

"So that it was an indiscretion of judgment and not an indiscretion of purpose, for my interest in immigration is to see that the immigrant is properly informed, is properly safeguarded against imposition of every kind, whether by the government or anybody else, and is directed to the place where he can attain the objects he has come for with the greatest advantage to himself. That, to my mind, is the solution of the immigration question.

"Of course, if the immigrants are to be allowed to come in uninstructed hosts and to stop at the ports where they enter and there compete in an oversupplied labor market, there is going to be unhappiness; there is going to be deterioration; there is going to be everything that will be detrimental to the community, as well as detrimental to the immigrant.

Government Should Encourage.

"And therefore it is to the interest of the government that the government itself should supply, or at any rate encourage, the instrumentalities which will prevent that very thing. Multiplying the ports of entry for that purpose, for example, will ease and facilitate and guide the process of distribution, and will above all things also supply the sympathetic information which is the only welcome that is acceptable to those who come."

IMPORT WORKERS, IS CHARGE.

Alleged Violation of Contract Labor Laws to Be Investigated by Federal Authorities.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Investigation of violation of contract labor laws by Lawrence mills as well as of dynamite planting during the great textile strike there early this year will be made by the Boston federal grand jury next week. Two men have been held for the grand jury on charge of conspiracy in importing workers from England to mills at South Barre, Mass., and federal agents believe that many more Massachusetts mill workers have been brought to this country illegally. During the strike there were reports that a large woolen company had solicited immigrants abroad by motion pictures, postal cards, and posters. The men already held for the grand jury by the United States commissioner are Francis Vernon Willey, treasurer of the Barre Wool combing company, and Arthur T. Saville. Willey is an Englishman well known in Newport and Narragansett Pier society. Twenty-five immigrants are being cared for by the immigration authorities to testify against them.

JOHNSON ON WAY TO INVADE EAST

Governor of California Says Entire West Is Solid for Progressive Ticket.

VOTERS DEMAND REFORM

Running Mate of Roosevelt Asserts Cohesive Fighting Force Has Been Formed.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California, Progressive nominee for vice president, was in Chicago for six hours yesterday on his way toward his first invasion of the east.

He had come from Des Moines, where he was present at the Iowa state convention of the new party, and will be in Columbus this morning for the initial convention of the Ohio Progressives. From Ohio he will travel to Syracuse to participate in the first state convention of New York Progressives.

Fresh from the west, no one could be more optimistic than was Gov. Johnson in the statement he gave out from his rooms in the Blackstone hotel, where he attempted to get a bit of rest.

Train Three Hours Late.

He was worn down by the exertion of his first campaign expedition. His train was three hours late in reaching Chicago and the arrangements for a luncheon at the University club, at which he was to have addressed the Western Progressive managers, had to be passed by.

This is Gov. Johnson's idea of the present national situation, as dictated by him last night, after a bath and a short rest:

"When I left California of course I was not familiar with the situation in other states, but my trip has convinced me that the same feeling exists in all of the other states west of the Mississippi as in California, and yesterday's primaries show California to be overwhelmingly for Roosevelt. My meetings have exceeded my fondest expectations.

For Justice for All.

"I have been endeavoring to preach the doctrine of humanity, social and industrial justice, and everywhere I found that men and women who have been unselfishly devoting themselves to humanitarian work are overjoyed to find at last a national political party that proposes to do what has heretofore been left to the individual and the social worker.

"The common people recognise in the new movement, in the Progressive party, their hope, and in every state where I have been a cohesive fighting force has been formed of men and women who think and who are endeavoring to do their part in the solution of their country's problems.

"I find also tat toilers and workers, farmers and the ordinary men generally who have not profited from the exploitation of government, regard the Progressive party as the culmination politically of what they prayed for and its success as essential to them.

Spirit of Victory.

"The same fervent spirit that pervaded the Chicago convention of three weeks ago is abroad all over the land, and it is a spirit which means victory.

"In the states where I have been Mr. Taft is wholly a negligible quantity. Mr. Wilson is hardly in touch, while all know Mr. Roosevelt and all recognize his wonderful personality, typifying the highest type of American statesmanship. If the east is anything like the west in the early stages of this campaign the later stages will witness the complete rout of our adversaries."

Gov. Johnson departed for Columbus at 11:30 p. m. While he was in Chicago he was in consultation with Henry F. Cochems, in charge of the Progressive speakers' bureau; George F. Porter, and others of the officials at Progressive national headquarters.

JACKSON FELONS AWED BY TROOPS

The year previous the deficit was $91,000.

In his recent report three weeks ago to the board of charities and corrections the warden presented glowing figures regarding the financial status of the prison, but not one word concerning treatment of the prisoners.

Even this report was welcomed by the residents of Michigan. For years politics, graft, and contract labor had served at the Jackson prison to give it a national notoriety. Less than four years ago the warden was dismissed in disgrace, prosecuted, and sent to the Detroit house of correction. One of the members of the board of control was once an inmate of the prison.

Trouble Serious as Ever.

By comparison of the present with the recent past, the public has the impression that politics has been largely eliminated. If it has it is because of the board of control and the warden, rather than the system. Employés are appointed and dismissed at will, the state having no civil service system. It is said that more work is done than formerly. However, the trouble between the management and the prisoners is now as serious as under the old régime.

Although the officials have refrained from giving out much information it can be stated that little if anything is being done along the lines of modern prison management. The system used is a mongrel between the old and new methods. The board of control has announced that it will return to the old system, rather than attempt experiments with the new ideas which have proved successful in Colorado and Oregon.

The Oregon plan, while not as liberal as the Colorado scheme in rewards to the convicts, gives an incentive for good work. Nearly 200 of the prisoners at the Salem prison are "honor men." They are sent away from the penitentiary without guards to other institutions to work. They are employed on the roads. A gang has been sent from Salem to Medford, a distance of 250 miles, without guard. There they pitched their tents and began road building on which they are still working.

Each man before leaving gave his word of honor that he would not attempt to escape and would prevent others.

Great Reform in Oregon Prison.

The men employed in the road making receive pay from the towns and counties asking for their services. The convicts employed around the insane asylum, tuberculosis sanitarium, and industrial schools earn $1 a day, of which each worker gets 25 cents. The men placed on the honor roll are the men of good deportment who have earned good treatment.

It has not been long ago since the Oregon prison was known far and wide for its cruelties. This is the penitentiary from the tortures of which Harry Tracy made his bloodthirsty dash for liberty several years ago.

Under the old system the Oregon prison created a deficit of $40,000 yearly. Under the honor system last year it made $2,000 above all expenses. In addition it furnished $14,000 worth of brick to various other state institutions.

This plan was inaugurated by Gov. Oswald West and has been in operation eight months. He personally selected the first twenty upon whom to try the experiment. Since it succeeded he has imposed confidence in a number of individuals.

Slayer Saves Home; Returns.

One of these was convicted of murder. His aged father-in-law and mother-in-law mortgaged their home to get him a lawyer. He was convicted and sentenced for life. The governor heard that the mortgage was about due and that the aged and infirm couple probably would lose their home. He called in the convict, granted him his liberty to get to work to pay the mortgage.

When the money was repaid in a period of six months the convict returned to the prison.

No stories of that character have been found in Jackson. Possibly they are prejudiced.

It is said that between 400 and 600 residents of this city are ex-convicts and half that number are former employés. Some of these men give the impression that the management is inefficient. The warden has charged that they are attempting to have him removed. Most of these ex-convicts were hired to contractors during their terms and are now working for the same contractors on the outside.

SCHOOL ENGINEER DEFIES THE BOARD

J. L. McNamara Announces He Is Assured of $4,400 Promotion by Mayor.

COMES NEAR FISTICUFFS.

Civil Service Reform Association Demands Inquiry Into Character.

John L. McNamara, engineer of the Harper school at a salary of $1,600, announced yesterday that he was about to become chief engineer of the city schools at a salary of $4,400 through his friendship with Mayor Harrison.

The engineer's announcement was made in the lobby of the board of education's rooms following a meeting in which the board refused to accept the recommendation of the buildings and grounds committee that McNamara be given a temporary appointment to the place.

"I don't give a ——— for the board of education," Mr. McNamara explained. "I am going to get the job."

Mr. McNamara's profanity, which was profuse, and his temper, which was extreme, were partly explained by what happened at the board meeting. Herbert E. Fleming, secretary of the Civil Service Reform association, had presented a petition asking that Mr. McNamara's character be the object of inquiry.

Fleming and McNamara Clash.

Immediately after the meeting of the board Mr. Fleming and Mr. McNamara met in the lobby.

"I want you to understand, Mr. McNamara, that we have no personal feeling against you," said the civil service reformer. "We are fighting the spoils system in politics which you happen to represent."

Mr. McNamara's reply attracted the attention of two members of the board, Harry A. Lindy and Oscar F. Griefenhagen. The engineer's subsequent remarks caused Mr. Griefenhagen to leave, saying he was a man of family.

"You are a ——— hound, and if any man called me a ——— hound I'd hit him in the eye," Mr. McNamara said in one of his milder moments.

"I see what your game is," remarked Fleming. "You want to see a story in the newspapers about how a reformer engaged in a fist fight with a city employé."

"You are a reformer for pay," McNamara shouted. "You get paid for digging up these things. You tried to get Ed Cummings and you couldn't put it over."

Fleming Stirs Stream of Invective.

Mr. Fleming assented to this reference to the failure of himself and his co-workers to obtain a conviction of Edward N. Cummings, chief examiner of the county civil service commission, on charges they brought.

McNamara responded with a stream of invective, displaying a vocabulary of profanity which astonished his hearers by its variety.

"There," he rounded up, "I've called you names that nobody would dare to call me without getting two black eyes. The only way to deal with a fellow like you, you ———, is to slap you in the face. It's all I can do to keep from doing it right now."

"Do you think a man who will use such language as you have used here is a fit person to be associated with children at a public school?" Fleming asked.

"You're a ——— ——— cheap reformer," McNamara answered.

James J. Spain, engineer of the Gary school, who had been standing beside McNamara, broke in at this point.

"Come on home," he said.

"All right," McNamara said, and he walked off sputtering the unprintable.

McNamara May Have Exaggerated.

It is possible McNamara exaggerated the depths of Mayor Harrison's friendship for him.

The executive committee of the civil service reform association asserted the mayor had written several letters to the board recommending McNamara's appointment.

"I wrote only one letter to the board of education in regard to the appointment and that was about a year ago," said Mayor Harrison later. "The place was vacant and I merely recommended Mr. McNamara as a suitable man for the place. I did this simply as a suggestion, subject to the indorsement of the board. I have done nothing since then in regard to the appointment."

Mr. Fleming explained the secret of the civil service reform association's objection is the temporary appointment of McNamara was the fear this was a device to enable him to prepare himself for the civil service examination. Opponents of McNamara asserted there was no reason for a temporary appointment to the position.

IT'S ALL IN A DAY'S WORK; THEY DIED WHILE ON DUTY.

WARREN H. HUNTER, chief coroner's physician and one of the best known doctors in Chicago, died at West Side hospital yesterday morning. Dr. Hunter sacrificed his life in the pursuit of his calling. He died from blood poisoning, absorbed through the pores of his hands while he was examining bodies at post mortem investigations.

At the county hospital there are hundreds if not thousands of post mortem records, scientific data, on cases which Dr. Hunter examined. They form valuable records for present and future physicians. Dr. Hunter might have left less complete records, in which case he might have lived much longer, according to his professional brothers.

Supt. Daniel P. Teter of the county hospital said it probably took a long period for Dr. Hunter to absorb the poison which caused his death. He had been investigating death mysteries for seven years.

Dr. Hunter was 45 years old and was born in Chicago. He was a graduate of the Rush Medical college. He was married in 1901 to Miss Louise V. Greenwood, who, with two children, Robert H., 8 years old, and Elisabeth, 10 years years old, survives him.

SOMEWHERE in Chicago a careless teamster and his two horses are enjoying life because a railroad crossing watchman did his duty yesterday morning.

Of course, people who cross railroad tracks are supposed to look out for themselves, but it is the specific duty of railroad crossing watchmen to look out for the safety of all those who cross. That was what Patrick Gissinger, veteran crossing guard of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, knew to be his duty. He was killed in the performance of it.

Gissinger was at his post, Kingsbury street crossing, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning when a freight train came in sight. Gissinger waved his danger flag, and while he was still waving it he saw a man driving a team of horses approaching the crossing on the far side. The man paid no attention to the flag which Gissinger waved, nor to the roar of the approaching train.

The crossing guard saw that the teamster faced death. It was his business to see that people were not killed at the crossing. He leaped in front of the train, headed off the driver, but was struck by the train and killed.

JAMES JOHNSON, a motorman on a La Grange electric car, lost control of the brakes on his car early yesterday morning when he was approaching the Douglas Park branch of the Metropolitan elevated road at Fifty-second avenue and Twenty-second street. Johnson labored at the brakes and lost his life in an attempt to save the passengers of his car from death. He could have jumped in plenty of time and saved himself.

He was unable to stop his car and it crashed at high speed into the Douglas Park train, which at Fifty-second avenue runs on the surface.

Johnson, whose home was in La Grange, was trapped in a mass of wreckage and nearly every bone in his body was broken. The crushed body was found between the wreck of his switch and the half circular castiron rod which fences off the motorman on the front platform, showing that he had stuck to his post.

More than a score of people were hurt, some of them seriously. It is believed, however, that many more would have been hurt and others killed outright if Johnson had not worked at the brakes in face of certain death.

ARTIFICIAL LIFE POSSIBLE, SAYS ENGLISH PHYSICIAN.

Declares Living Substances Can Be Produced from Inanimate Matter by Suitable Processes.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

DUNDEE, Sept. 4.—Life can be produced artificially. This statement was the central feature of the address of President E. A. Schaefer at the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which opened here tonight. The hall was crowded by a tensely interested audience. The address was a clear and dispassionate one, rather the judgment of a judge who summed up the evidence than the advocacy of a partisan new theory.

President Schaefer, who is professor of physiology at Edinburgh university, declared that, while he saw no reason to doubt the formation of a living substance, he did not hold any hope of prolonging life indefinitely, although he submitted a budget of facts to show that the line between living and lifeless objects was growing less and less sharp as science penetrates into the heart of things.

"By suitable processes living substances can be produced from inanimate chemical matter," he said.

In the light of evolution, said Prof. Schaefer, living matter must be regarded as having been produced by a gradual process of change from lifeless material through a material on the borderland between the animate and the inanimate to a material which had all the characteristics to which the term life is attached.

ARGUMENT IN WOODMEN CASE.

Insurgents Seek Restraining Order to Prevent Increase in Rates, Claiming Hardship on Old Members.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Insurgent Modern Woodmen in outlining their position in the suit on trial in the Circuit court to obtain an order restraining the head officers from putting into effect the new increase in rates, told Judge Shirley today they are not opposed to the new rates, but are fighting a plan to build up a large reserve fund.

Attorneys for the insurgents said that in the past only nine or ten assessments were made during the year, but under the new system monthly assessments would be made, even if the money is not needed to meet the liabilities of the organization.

The day was taken up in arguments and three witnesses were on the stand to show that the new rates would be a hardship upon some of the older members. It is probable that the hearing will last throughout the week.

HAS NO NICKEL FOR HIS PHONE; SEES ROBBERS FLEE WITH CASH

Bartender Locked in Booth Tries to Get Central Without the Demanded Coin —Forced to Break Way Out.

Because their victim lacked a nickel for his nickel first telephone yesterday two highwaymen were enabled to rob a saloon and escape.

About morning closing up time, John Carroll, bartender in the saloon of Paul Gehrke, at 3501 West Twelfth street, looked into the barrels of revolvers held by two lingering customers. They ordered Carroll to get into the telephone booth in the saloon. Carroll did. He was locked in. Then through the glass he saw the two men rob the saloon of $42.

Carroll searched around in his pockets for a nickel, but could not find one. Then he tried to get central without a nickel, but it was useless. He waited until the robbers had left, and broke open the booth, got a nickel the robbers had failed to get in the cash register, and summoned the police to get him out of the saloon, which also had been locked.

SOLDIERS FALL 400 FEET FROM AIRSHIP TO DEATH.

Three Men Cling to Craft Which Squall Carries Off, Until Exhausted, Then Drop to Earth.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BUDAPEST, Sept. 4.—During a squall at Oerkeny today an airship, which was being held by 100 soldiers, was carried off. Three of the men did not release their hold on the ship until it had risen to a height of 400 feet. Then they were unable to hold on any longer and let go. All three were killed instantly.

PLEADS CAUSE OF "DOWN AND OUTS"

Malcolm McDowell Asks Help of Association of Commerce in Charity.

TELLS OF COFFEE WAGON.

Declares Majority of Unfortunates Really Are Unable to Get Work.

Malcolm McDowell at a luncheon given by the Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle yesterday told how he originated the phrase—"Coffee wagon"—nearly six years ago. It was done by feeding 1,000 "down and outs" at Madison and Jefferson streets while the temperature was below zero.

Mr. McDowell, a member of the executive committee of the association, recited conditions among the unfortunate and urged the organization to take up the work of helping the men who "carry their beds all winter on their backs," as he put it.

"The idea was suggested by Ald. John J. Brennan of the Eighteenth ward," he said. "I had been wandering around the neighborhood where those men—half starved and some half drunk—suffer through their existance. It was in the middle of winter—one of the coldest nights in December. I found them tramping up and down West Madison street all night to keep warm.

"On asking several why they did so they would say: 'Well, the saloons chase us out at 1 o'clock. The police won't take us in and the churches are not open during the week.'

Ald. Brennan Supplies Idea.

"The next day—which was New Year's—I happened to run into Brennan and asked him what he would advise doing for these men—famished and half frozen. 'Get a wagon, some coffee, rolls, and sugar, and hand this stuff out to them,' he said.

"That night I appeared at West Madison street and Jefferson, where the sidewalks, gutters, and street were lined with 'down and outs.' I had 'Pittsburgh Joe' with me—a saloonkeeper around the corner. Both of us were fearful of being mobbed as soon as the men got a whiff of the coffee. We almost were.

"They made a rush for the rear of the wagon, where I was sitting with a generous pile of rolls, and jumped straight for me. Now, there are only two things to do in that sort of a case. One is to treat the men as children, and the other to hit them with clubs. I did the latter, and effectually, too. They quieted down and formed a line—stretching six times back and forth from Madison street to Monroe street.

"That night 'Pittsburgh Joe' and myself handed out fifteen ten gallon cans of coffee and were forced to replenish our supply of sugar and rolls several times.

General Prejudice Strong.

"The general prejudice the public have against helping these unfortunates is that 'O, they wouldn't work if they had a chance—if they would they would not be starving in the streets.' To show how untrue that opinion is, I will tell of my experiences since that New Year's night.

"After visiting the municipal lodging house and then 'Hogan's flop' and other nickel a bed joints and seeing three and four men sleeping in a space hardly large enough for one, I rented a building on Canal street—a deserted railroad warehouse. I put in beds, shower bath equipment with towels, and a lunch counter and 'opened shop' for the use of these men—gratis.

"It really made me sick to see how these 'down and outs' piled up in the other lodging houses. I even found them sleeping in heaps in the fumigation room of the municipal lodging house. To think that in this wonderful city of Chicago men must go down to that. This city cannot brag about charitable work until it helps the 'down and outs.'

"The winter of 1909 I boarded 900 to 1,500 men in that building for seventy nights and gave them three meals a day. The total cost for all of that was just about $4,500.

Lack of Work the Cause.

"Out of the 1,500 only thirty refused to work in the streets. Those men were down and out because they could not get work.

"The men would tell me how they had got along each year. They would go up in the ice fields and harvest the ice. They would return with a check for about $57. How can a man in rags and unshaven get his check cashed? Who will cash it? No one but a philanthropic saloon keeper. That meant they must spend all of their money in a barroom. Those men can be called the improvidents for not thinking of the fact that that money should carry them through the winter.

"Most of them, however, were smart. They bought several drinks to get their checks cashed and then invested their money for beds for the rest of the winter."

In conclusion Mr. McDowell advised that every man with a job help the man without one.

"Every one in this room today might be begging coffee and rolls from our 'coffee wagons' next Christmas," he declared. "Give a man a nickel if he asks you for it on the streets. What if he does get a drink with it? It will cheer up his nights of tramping the streets keeping warm.

Give Summer Clothes in Winter.

"Some people—a good many—do charity work. But many go 'slumming' and give baskets full of summer clothes to the men in winter. Imagine the warmth of a straw hat when the temperature is ten below zero. These are facts. I have seen these baskets of clothes, full of straw hats, summer underwear, and summer trousers—not fit to keep a wooden man warm.

"I certainly hope this association will take steps to help these men and then Chicago may truthfully talk about its charity work."

JUDGE GETS DEATH THREAT.

Believed to Be Work of Demented Man Who Has Confessed to Arson Charge.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—County Judge J. B. Weaver received a letter today threatening his life if he remained on the bench after Sept. 15. The letter also contained vile epithets and the federal authorities have been asked to investigate. The letter was dated Sept. 1. County authorities who have arrested Charles Hannibal on a charge of burning houses in the vicinity of Salisbury say Hannibal admitted writing the letter to Judge Weaver. Hannibal, who is believed to be demented, has confessed to the arson charge.

Valuable Discovery in Complexion Beautifier

Because of its peculiar power of absorption, also because it serves every emollient purpose, ordinary mercolized wax is perhaps the most valuable complexion beautifier discovered within recent years. If one uses this she needs no toilet cream. Some use powder afterward, but this is not necessary and is inadvisable, particularly when one perspires freely. This rule for applying mercolized wax has been found very satisfactory: Wash the face with warm water, drying lightly. Before thoroughly dry, anoint face and neck with the wax, but don't rub it in. The favorite way is to use before retiring, allowing to remain on all night and washing it off in the morning with warm water. All druggists have this wax in original one-ounce packages.

For the removal of a wrinkled or flabby condition there's nothing better than to bathe the face in a solution made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Beneficial results are quickly noticeable.—Advt.

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

Progressive Republicans overwhelmingly carried the California primaries.

Standpat Republicans, for the first time in history, lost a majority of the Vermont vote.

All the progressive amendments to the Ohio constitution were adopted excepting woman suffrage.

This shows that the temper of the people is for progress.

Dominance of progressive doctrines in California in the Progressive Republican party and the fractional showing of the Progressive party in Vermont give emphasis to the stand of Senator Cummins and other unimpeachable Progressives for continuation of their efforts as Republicans.

However, the essential thing is that the leaders of the new movement in national life, Progressive Republicans and new party men, should find common ground for coöperation and not fight each other for the benefit of the reactionaries.

MENTAL MUSH.

We suppose we've got to listen every day until election to the utterances of Dave Mulvane of Kansas, who has been appointed the vocal end of the Taft campaign committee in Chicago.

Mr. Mulvane is paid to say something about everything. He is earning his salary. There is no objection to this, but what we do object to is the mental mush that he puts forth. For instance, in commenting on Vermont, he said that the Progressives "had concentrated all their batteries of money" on the Green Mountain state and had been thoroughly licked!

All THE TRIBUNE can ask its readers to do is to place the same estimate on Dave Mulvane and his opinions as his neighbors in Kansas do. There is wisdom in the tactics of the Taft managers in sending David Mulvane of Kansas to Illinois and John M. Harlan of Illinois to Vermont.

PERSPIRING MANHOOD.

"As THE TRIBUNE is the pioneer in all good movements for the betterment of humanity," writes one of our readers, "I send you the inclosed clipping from the Christian Herald, in the hope that you will publish it and thereby help to induce men to become more sensible in the matter of summer clothing."

The clipping is a reprint from the New York Tribune, which, after noting some slight improvement in men's wear of late years, adds the following sapient remarks, to which we subscribe:

But the coat remains as conservatively oppressive as ever. Perhaps one man in a hundred wears clothes of some light washable fabric, but the number does not increase from year to year. Such clothing is cheaper than woolen clothing, and might be worn with advantage on a good many summer days besides those which have their record of death.

We raise this question, in spite of its being not quite as seasonable as it would be in June, out of respect for our reader's crusading zeal. We discussed sensible clothing when it seemed a more timely topic, but neither then nor now with much hope of accelerating a stubborn world. If a man will wear heavy, scratchy swathings of cloth, if he will wrap his neck in a lath, put a vise of stiffened straw around his temples, load his feet with bands of leather—and run for a car in all that armor with the mercury in the nineties—if he will do that, and we all do it, no weak words of ours will turn him from his folly.

And yet there is hope for him. Remember the frock coats and the hard hats and the shirt fronts of yesterday. The waistcoat has gone. The stiff collar and stiff cuff are going. The wash suit is appearing on the horizon. Perhaps some day we shall dress as coolly as women and more comfortably.

A HOME AND A ROOST.

A girl of 18 and a boy of 20, found together in a café, were brought before a Municipal judge on a charge of disorderly conduct. The court imposed a fine and the following bit of advice:

"The best treatment for children like you two is a sound spanking."

The judge was tackling a new problem with old ideas. The best treatment for the young man and young woman in question, and for thousands of young men and young women like them in big cities, is to give them a chance for wholesome companionship.

When the judge was 20 the American home was a different affair from what it is today. It was pretty generally a story and a half or a two story house. It had a lawn and a small garden—plenty of room. Most of the amusements of the time were found in the home or near it.

The young man of that day did his courting in the parlor of the girl's home—a safe retreat giving considerable privacy.

It is a far cry from that sort of a home to the home of today. In the four or five room flat space is at a premium and privacy likewise. It is no place to bring a friend to. It is a roost. It affords shelter for the night and a place to eat in, but there it stops.

The city home of today makes little provision for the social needs of the young. The child finds its amusement and play in the street, in the public playground, or in the kindergarten. The school is more and more supplementing the home and making up for its deficiencies. It is becoming more and more a recreation and social center. The social needs of the child are in a measure looked after by the community.

But what of the girl and boy who are past school age, who work in a shop or factory or store? There is no outlet for their social cravings in the home. The community provides none. The private agencies which undertake to furnish amusement and pleasure are not concerned with the risks and dangers which the amusements may carry with them.

The city gives young men and women plenty of chances to work, but too few chances to play innocently.

"ISTHMIAN GAMES—EVENT NUMBER 1."

It was announced Tuesday, and then the announcement was said by the British foreign office to be "premature," that Great Britain would request our government to submit to arbitration at The Hague the question which has arisen between the two nations as to the Panama canal tolls.

The question is one which may properly go to arbitration, since it involves neither the security nor the honor of the United States, but only the making of more or less money by American shipowners at the expense of other Americans who are not shipowners, and other shipowners who are not American.

But suppose our jingoes prevail, and our government refuses to arbitrate, what then? Would Great Britain start playing tit for tat with us?

At present Great Britain accords us equal rights with herself through her canal, the Suez. Could she be expected to continue to do this if we refused her equal treatment through our canal, the Panama?

Great Britain controls the great majority of good harbors and advantageous coaling depots on the five oceans. What if she decided, by means of discriminatory port charges, to make our ships less welcome at her harbors than the ships of other nations?

Would it be strange if other maritime nations followed her lead? For be it remembered we are not discriminating against Great Britain alone at Panama, but against all nations. And we are doing this in spite of our plighted word not to do so.

We reprint today a cartoon from Punch—significant particularly for its caption, "Isthmian Games—Event Number 1." There is a distinct implication of an "Event Number 2" to follow.

Is it worth while to violate our word this time? Isn't honesty the best policy in this dispute? Could we not arbitrate with better grace than maintain we are to be both judge and defendant in our own case?

THE MAN IN STRIPES.

The few who saw John Galsworthy's terrible play, ironically called "Justice," will be able, perhaps, to guess at what is happening in the penitentiary at Jackson, Michigan.

The situation there cannot be dealt with with a hose and a cat-o'-nine-tails, though the prison warden and trustees seem to think it can be. It is because they think so that this terrific situation has arisen. If the warden and the trustees were wiser they would look a good deal deeper into the tragic depths of life than they have yet done.

THE TRIBUNE invites attention to a series of reports that Mr. Oscar E. Hewitt will make upon the situation at Jackson, comparing the systems of other states, whose treatment of condemned men and women belongs to the twentieth, not the eighteenth, century.

There are few phases of our American social advance so full of dramatic human interest and so optimistic in their promise.

VERMONT may not be the habitat of the bull moose, but see what a lot of friends he has up there!

COMMERCIAL travelers, who mingle with more representative people than other men do are almost unanimous for the colonel.

CALIFORNIA, being a progressive state, naturally goes that way with a capital P.

THE Democratic candidate for governor of Vermont received about 20,000 votes, out of a total of more than 62,000, yet Woodrow Wilson finds this "very gratifying." Mr. Wilson is a thirty-third degree optimist.

OHIO puts a damper on woman suffrage, but goes enthusiastically for good roads—which may be taken as a hint that every facility will be given the woman suffragists to make an easy exit from the state.

A READER sends us a clipping from the Baldwin Times, an old Democratic newspaper of Baldwin county, Alabama, adding that the strength of the Progressive party is growing rapidly not only in Alabama but in other southern states, especially "in the territory along railroads and where industrial enterprises are flourishing." The inclosed clipping reports a recent meeting at Whitesville, Marshall county, at which, after a debate, a vote was taken with the following results: Roosevelt 507, Taft 1, and Wilson 0. The community is settled largely from the north and represents what has come to be called the new south. No electoral votes may be won at this election by those thriving districts, but the new party has not a little to hope for in the new south.

IN A MINOR KEY.

'Nuff Said.

Traveling Man—Judge, how do the people down your way stand on the presidential question?

Prominent Citizen—Well, sir, about five out of six of us are standing at Armageddon.

Unanswerable.

The chairman of the campaign committee was trying to get a big contribution out of Mr. Muntoburn.

"Why should I give you anything?" demanded the latter. "Your platform denounces me almost by name."

"I know it does," rejoined the chairman, "but I'm giving you an excellent opportunity to return good for evil and thereby heap coals of fire on our heads."

Reflecting on Solomon.

The sluggard had gone to the ant and was considering her ways.

"I'm wise to you, all right," he said; "you're industrious enough, but you're a blamed little nuisance, and I can prove it by every housekeeper in the country."

Nothing So Crude as That.

"I hear you are going to pump out that gold mine of yours and—"

"You have been misinformed, sir. We are not going to do so commonplace and unprofessional a thing as 'pump it out'; we are going to unwater it."

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. FIRST AID TO THE POISONED.

IN poisoning, as the lawyers would say, time is the essence of the contract. Action should be quick. It is much better to work with jumped up things than to let the opportunity go by while trying to get just the right thing.

The first thing to do is to cause vomiting. While somebody is running for mustard and warm water the patient should produce vomiting by tickling his throat with his finger, or a feather, or anything right at hand. As soon as the mustard and warm water arrive a tablespoonful of the mustard should be dissolved in a glassful of warm water and the mixture gulped down. Then run a finger into the throat. If this fails give two tablespoonfuls of sirup of ipecac.

Unless vomiting has been free, and in the cases of powerful poisons regardless of vomiting, the stomach must be washed out. If there is a fountain syringe at hand it should be filled with warm water, the tip removed, and the tube swallowed. When two-thirds of the water has run out of the bag it should be dropped to a point lower than the patient's belt and the stomach siphoned out.

If the patient will not vomit a hypodermic of apomorphine will bring results. As apomorphine tablets may be had in the first aid case sometimes, it is advisable to give it before the physician arrives. There should be no hesitation in doing this unless vomiting has been satisfactory. The dose is one tablet.

In treating poisoning the first step is to produce vomiting; the second, to give an antidote.

Some of the more common poisons and their antidotes are:

Alcohol—Coffee in large quantities by the stomach or rectum.

Chloroform taken internally—Large doses of bicarbonate of soda in water.

Mushrooms—Twenty drops of belladonna, repeated in half an hour if necessary.

Opium—Tincture of belladonna, 20 drops; repeat in half an hour if necessary; coffee in large quantities; give no alcohol, either as whisky, wine, or spirits.

Arsenic—Hot, greasy water; lime (scraped from the wall if need be), toothpowder, sweet oil, castor oil, limewater, raw eggs, tincture of iron.

Strychnine—Tannic acid, tea, bromide of soda.

Phosphorus—Sulphate of copper, 2 grains every five minutes; French turpentine; magnesia freely.

Acids—Alkalies, soda, soap, chalk crayons, lime, toothpowder, eggs, milk, oil.

Oxalic acid—Lime from the walls, toothpowder, crayons. Do not use soap.

Carbolic acid—Large doses of Epsom salts, Glauber salts, eggs, oil.

Corrosive sublimate—Eggs, milk or mucilage in abundance.

Caustic potash—Vinegar, lemon juice, hard cider, eggs.

Lead—Epsom salts.

Lye—Vinegar, lemon juice, milk, oil.

Iodine—Starch, white of eggs.

Matches—Epsom salts, French turpentine.

The third step is to treat so much of the effect of the poison as has not been washed out or neutralized. Some part of what are called antidotes is better called physiological opposites, and, therefore, might be classed in after treatment. In the main after treatment consists in stimulation and protection against shock. In a general way symptoms should be met. For example, if the body is cold, external heat and stimulants internally are called for. If the patient is disposed to sleep he must be kept awake, etc.

NERVOUS AND RUN DOWN.

A. M. writes: "I am run down from overwork and am thin and weak and nervous. I have been advised to take three grain hyponuclane tablets to enrich the blood and make me strong and healthy. Is there any harm in taking these tablets?"

REPLY.

I have not been able to find out what this tablet contains. It is not likely to hurt you. It may not help you much without feeding, plenty of sleep, and plenty of open air. Don't you think these will fatten you up and rest you?

NO BACTERIA IN SOAP.

F. E. L. quotes a recently published newspaper article in which Dr. John J. Mullowney of the Boston board of health is said to have declared soap "a carrier of virulent germs and a menace to health." F. E. L. says the soap used by his own family is made from savings of meat scraps and fat which are boiled in water containing concentrated lye.

REPLY.

The bacteria in the fat from which soap is made do not live long enough to get into the soap. Either the heat or the lye would kill them. When soap transmits germs, and that is possible rather than probable, it is by being passed from hand to hand. Home made soap may be economical, but it is no safer.

DIABETES.

F. M. asks: "What curative value has 'bacillus Bulgaricus' in diabetes?"

REPLY.

I don't think it has any. I have read an abstract of Metchnikoff's paper read in Paris in June and think those who have written me misunderstood his article. At most, this bacillus would help only that kind of glycosuria due to eating more sugar and starch than the system could convert. It would not help in cases of diabetes due to nerve, brain, pancreas, or to some liver changes.

MUSHROOMS.

Mrs. H. L. M. writes: "Don't you think it would be a good idea to write an article on mushrooms every year? The 'toad stool' has its victims, and people should be educated. I for one know only one kind—the spongelike ones—and would not eat any other. There are, of course, a great many edible ones."

REPLY.

An article describing the edible varieties would not help much without good colored illustrations. The government bulletins are well illustrated. Why would it not be a good idea for state agricultural boards to have a mushroom display made and send it around to county fairs? Many people, seeing such an exhibit, would be able to recognize a few new edible varieties.

[Copyright: 1912: By the Brentwood Company.]

RUSSIA'S foreign minister, Sergius Sassonoff, who reaches Great Britain this week from St. Petersburg to spend several days at Balmoral as the guest of King George, is an old friend and favorite of that monarch.

He spent more than ten years in London as first secretary of the Russian embassy, and it was due to his tact and conciliatory manner as chargé d'affaires that serious trouble between Russia and the United Kingdom was averted when Rojestvensky's fleet fired with fatal results on the English fishing smacks off the Dogger banks, under the impression that they were Japanese torpedo boats.

Rich, scion of an ancient house of the untitled aristocracy, and married to a charming woman, who was Mlle. von Neidhardt, he was popular in English society, and owed his appointment as minister of foreign affairs largely to the fact that his wife's sister was married to the late Premier Stolypin, who was assassinated last year at Kieff during a state performance at the opera, under the eyes of the imperial family.

Sassonoff has contributed in no small degree to the understanding and de facto alliance which now exists between Russia and England, and his visit to Balmoral, where he is to meet Sir Edward Grey, is for the purpose of discussing with King George and his secretary of foreign affairs the new naval convention negotiated by Admiral Prince Alexandre de Lieven and concluded the other day by the French premier, Poincaré, on the occasion of his recent stay at St. Petersburg.

Sassonoff doubtless also will confer with the king as to the policy to be pursued by the members of the triple entente—Russia, France, and Great Britain—with regard to Turkey in the event of the breakup of the Ottoman empire.

When England's parliament reassembles next month the upper chamber will receive an addition in the person of young Lord Rodney, who by that time will have attained his twenty-first birthday.

On reaching his majority he will not only become entitled to a seat in the house of lords but also will enter into the enjoyment of an hereditary pension of $10,000 a year from the national treasury for the services rendered by his ancestor, the famous admiral, Sir George Rodney, who has justly been described as the greatest commander in England's naval history, with the exception of Nelson and Blake. His principal victory was that over the French in the West Indies, resulting in the peace of Versailles.

The Rodneys, whose family motto is particularly appropriate, since it is to the effect that "eagles do not bring forth doves," have been noted time out of mind for their irritability and for the inequality of their tempers.

Thus the great admiral rendered himself so hated by his officers that at the naval battle with De Guichen in April, 1780, the captains of half a dozen ships of his command refused to follow him into action, thus robbing him of what would otherwise have been a crushing victory over the French, and placing on record one of the most disgraceful incidents in the naval annals of England.

The late Lord Rodney had evidently inherited some of this peculiarity from his famous ancestor, for his first wife, mother of the present peer, a daughter of Lord Wimborne, and a sister of Lionel and Frederick Guest, obtained a divorce from him in 1902, proving that he had been guilty of beating her. He was denounced from the bench as "a bad tempered man."

With the royal family he was on the blackest of black books, not only on account of his treatment of Lady Rodney, a favorite at court, but also because of his vigorous protest against the grant of the colonelcy of the First Life Guards by Queen Victoria to the late Prince Henry of Battenberg.

Prince Henry had held a commission in the Garde du Corps at Berlin, which is the German counterpart of the English Life Guards, and Queen Victoria was anxious that her favorite son-in-law, the one who made his home with her, should hold the command of the regiment that was particularly intrusted with her protection.

While the authorities were perfectly ready to comply with the queen's wishes in the matter, some of the officers of the regiment, led by the late Lord Rodney, who was a captain thereof, were so vigorous in their open denunciation of the plan and their opposition to the prince's command of the corps, or even to his holding a commission therein, that Prince Henry himself, realizing that he was unwelcome, begged the royal mother-in-law to abandon her intention and to let him have an unattached colonelcy instead—that is to say, the rank without any command.

His subsequent death on the west coast of Africa during the Ashantee campaign served to embitter still further the royal family against the late Lord Rodney.

The late peer left everything he could to his second wife, because all his four sons (by the first marriage) sided with their mother, and consequently the present baron will be dependent upon the hereditary pension and what his mother may be able to allow him.

Lord Channing, who, with Lady Channing, has been spending a few weeks at his cottage on the south shore of Long Island, offers the only case on record of a man born an American citizen who has been created a British peer; for Lord Fairfax, of the old Virginia family of that name, owes his peerage to inheritance.

There is but one other instance in the last hundred years or more of a man of alien birth, English only by naturalization, receiving a peerage—namely: that of Sir Henry Tufton, who was formerly a French citizen, and who, as inheritor of the extensive estates of the last Earl of Thanet, was raised to the house of lords as Lord Hothfield in 1881 by Queen Victoria on the nomination of Gladstone, then premier.

These two instances serve to call attention to the fact that the former limitations placed upon the crown with regard to the bestowal of peerages upon British citizens of alien birth have been abandoned.

They were devised owing to the number of Dutch favorites of William III. whom he raised to the house of lords, notable among them being Hans Bentinck, Earl of Portland, ancestor of the present duke of that ilk, and Arnold van Keppel, who received the earldom of Albemarle.

George I. bestowed British titles, one of them ducal, upon his two Hanoverian "sultanas"; but these were not peerages, and lapsed with the death of the recipients.

Lord Channing's elevation last summer on the occasion of King George's birthday shows that the old restrictions no longer exist, and that there is no legal obstacle in the way of the elevation of W. Waldorf Astor, or of his eldest son, now Tory member of parliament for Plymouth, to the house of lords when the Unionists return to power.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

TO OUR ASSISTANT ED.:
GREETINGS.

Thy mournful ba-a-a gives me compunctious pangs,
Thy wasted body eloquently chides;
But lift the head that now so listless hangs,
For here is fodder for thy shrunken sides.

Patience. We'll tidy up this dusty place,
Then serve the mailbag as a fatted calf;
Then may'st thou feed thy long, reproachful face:
I'll take the wheat, and you shall have the chaff.

BUT first (in order to make certain of our 3 per cent) we desire to record that one of the great afflictions of travel is the compound served under the name "coffee" in public eating places. A bad breakfast may not spoil a landscape, but a good breakfast puts one in a humor to enjoy the distant prospect.

WHAT becomes of all the good coffee imported? It isn't spoiled in the making, for good coffee may be distinguished by flavor, not strength or clarity. One pound of the berry will make a gallon of strong coffee—or thirty-five to forty cups. These, at 10 cents apiece, amount to $3.50 to $4. Yet if the average innkeeper is asked to pay more than 25 cents a pound for something that he sells for $4 you may hear his screams a mile away.

AT certain hotels in Gotham, notably the Grand Union and the Martinique, the coffee served is of a high grade, and people go out of their way to patronize these enlightened caterers. Coffee has gone up in price, and the wholesaler in this instance pays the bill. Thanks to the Brazilian government, he has to give from 10 to 12 cents more per pound than formerly, but all he can squeeze out of the ult. con. is 3 to 5 cents.

"THAT'S enough about coffee," said the March Hare.

IN the matter of analysis of the baseball situation one has to convey it to the New York Sun's expert, who is nothing short of clairvoyant. "The Cubs," he writes, "have been gaining on the Giants. Consequently the fact that the Cubs for some time have been winning more games than the champions is not difficult to account for."

THE RECORD RECORD.

Sir: The best record Mr. Taft ever made was for a phonograph company four years ago, in which he tells how the Republican party stands by Theodore Roosevelt and in which he promises a continuation of "his policies." The Friend of the People.

CAN HE VOTE?

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—A foreign family came to this country several years ago and the father became a naturalized citizen and has since resided here continuously. One of his sons returned to his native country when he was 20 years old and resided there for two years, but during this time did not vote, take oath, or perform any other act that could be construed as testifying his allegiance to that country.

When 22 years old this son returned to this country, where he has since resided, but has not voted. He desires to vote at the election this fall, but is doubtful of his status as a citizen, and therefore refers the matter to you for your opinion.

BULL MOOSE.

Section 2172 of the Revised Statutes of the United States reads, in part, as follows:

"The children of persons who have been duly naturalized under any law of the United States, or who, previous to the passing of any law on that subject, by the government of the United States, may have become citizens of any one of the states, under the laws thereof, being under the age of 21 years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof. . . ."

Whether or not an absence of two years in the native country of the person referred to would constitute a change in his citizenship status I am unable to state without more detailed information.

A DIFFERENCE OF TIME.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Why is it that more cars on State street do not run south of Sixty-third street? Every eighth car only goes through, counting through route cars. Passengers frequently have to wait thirty-five minutes. As many as ninety people at a time have waited for a car at Sixty-third street to go south.

W. D. HIGGINS, 6001 Lafayette avenue.

The average headway south from Sixty-third on State street is four and one-half minutes and during the morning and afternoon rush hours much closer. CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY.

WILL REMEDY CONDITIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The car track in front of my store has sunk where the tracks are joined, and every time a car passes it gives an awful jar. I have lost several tenants in my house on account of this noise. I have written to the car company several times, but have received no reply. Knowing you can do something about this, I will be much obliged if you will interest yourself in the matter.

AUG. RUSS, 1115 West Sixty-third street.

Our men are now repairing the tracks on Sixty-third street and will reach the place complained of in the near future. Temporary repairs were made on July 13. We will have the place in question inspected and necessary repairs made to remedy conditions until our men complete permanent work at this location.

TEARING UP GOOD PAVEMENT.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—About two weeks since one of our public service corporations tore up a perfect piece of street paving under the Chicago and Northwestern railway viaduct at Fifty-second avenue and Lake street to permit the laying of conduits. When the work was completed the excavation was filled with loose dirt and broken concrete, fitting the brick back on top. The surface is now sunk about six inches and its use for vehicles is destroyed. It is a piece of vandalism on a par with barking shade trees.

N. D. HUNT, 608 Laurel avenue.

After temporary repairs were made in pavement in the Fifty-second avenue subway, between Lake and Kinzie streets, there were heavy rains, which caused the conditions complained about in the attached letter of N. D. Hunt. Since that time the subway has been repaved and restored to good condition.

A "FRIENDLY" ACT.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—We are pleased to state that the inconvenience of which we have complained recently—about that stationary boiler that blocked the sidewalk in La Salle street between Kinzie and Michigan—has been removed, and undoubtedly the credit is yours, and we wish to extend to you our thanks.

HOODLUMS AND REVELERS.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am a resident of Racine avenue, between Leland and Lawrence avenues, and wish to state that it is impossible to sleep nights with the noise of drunken revelers returning from the saloons and gardens north of us. Last Sunday night the noise was almost unbearable, keeping up almost to dawn. Men and women, in various stages of intoxication, pass our windows, singing and shouting, and sometimes fighting. Is there no relief for a person who has signed a lease and is otherwise well satisfied with the neighborhood? Have the police no jurisdiction over this neighborhood? Must this noise go on, and must we stand for it? Where are the police?

A TIRED OUT WORKING MAN.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Every Sunday morning, after the saloons close, a gang of young fellows assemble at Harrison street and Western avenue and use language unfit to print. Their talk and laughter have repeatedly disturbed our sleep, and, having no other recourse, I have decided you can do more to put a stop to this disorderly conduct and destruction of property, such as electric lights, signs, etc., than any one else. I trust you will kindly bring this to the attention of the proper authorities and oblige

AN HONEST MAN'S QUESTION.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Riding downtown the other morning on a Cottage Grove avenue car and changing seats at about Van Buren street for one which had been vacated by two women, I picked up a purse from the floor. Taking it to the conductor, he opened it and found a small roll of bills. The owner evidently had the purse on her lap and on rising it slipped to the floor. Now, why in Sam Hill don't the dear women have a secret pocket in some convenient place to carry their purses in? T. E. N.

A COPPER TRUST?

Muscatine, Ia., Sept. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why is the copper trust, if there is one? Does it restrict production from the mines and from the factories in order to bolster up prices? A recent incident will illustrate: In answer to an order to one of the largest—if not the largest—metal dealers in Chicago for common sheet copper, stock that in the trade is or should be as common as brown muslin, word was returned: "Can only fill order by shipment from factory, which will require eight to ten weeks." And this is the way it has been in the past. Chicago jobbers all issue comprehensive price lists, but eternally the word comes back in answer to an order: "Can supply only from factory." What is the matter? Isn't there enough copper to go around?

SALARIES OF MINISTERS.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Bishop Hughes, in an address at Winona Lake, is reported as saying: "I don't believe the ministry is as well paid as it ought to be, and I hope that it never will be. Is that Methodist bishop honest? I understand that he receives $5,000 a year. Does he mean what he says? If so, let him look up his "I hope that it never will be" by accepting annually only $800 and return $4,200 to the wretched, underpaid ministers of his church. BARNEY O'LAUGHLEN.

WHAT ARE YOU AND WHY?

Chicago, Sept. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The reason for the dissatisfaction with the political conditions are not as yet fully realized even by all the members of the Progressive party.

The standpatters, who are self-satisfied because they have made money, whether by fortunate investments, location, or whatever the cause may be, are anxious to let well enough alone so far as their interests are concerned. The great mass of the people, however, are progressive. But how best to accomplish the desired results is where the division begins. The president claims to be wisely progressive. A casual investigation, however, shows this to be a false claim.

I can understand why it looks like progressive steps for a Democrat to choose administrations and put in one of his party, but, as a matter of fact, is it a forward or backward step? The old rule, so long known to be the only sure guide for the future, is "that of experience," says it is a wise one. M. D. H.

BLAST KILLS MAN; 30 GIRLS IN PANIC

Excess Gasoline in Huge Hotel Rug Ignites in Dry Room of Cleaning Plant.

MANY BURIED IN RUINS.

All Young Women Who Leap from Windows Escape Injury Except One.

One man was killed, more than a dozen others were injured, several seriously, and almost 100 narrowly escaped death in an explosion yesterday which partly wrecked the cleaning and dyeing shop of Kraus Bros.-Loewy company at 310-316 West Twenty-fourth street.

Rudolph Spinner, foreman of the dry room, was crushed to death under the wreckage. Thirty girls at work on the top floor of the two story building when the blast occurred were thrown into a panic. Some leaped out of second story windows. Others fought madly to reach stairways, some being knocked down and trampled in the crush. One girl, who had leaped out of a window, was found unconscious on the ground, her body bruised and one leg fractured.

Try to Stop Panic.

Anna Behnkey, 817 West Sixty-seventh street, and Arthur Berg, vice president and treasurer of the company, were on the second floor. They tried to quiet the frightened young women.

"We were powerless," Mr. Berg said. "The girls pushed and fought to get to the windows. Miss Behnkey was cool enough, and the two of us tried to push the girls toward the stairs, but they rushed past us. I believe over twelve or fifteen girls jumped. I couldn't stop them. They would have had time to go down the stairs."

The girls who jumped landed on the rear porch of a building next door, about twelve feet below the windows.

Among the girls driven out were Mary Starek, Gertrude Ern, Mary and Lillie Lynch, Anna and Rose Harlock, Anna Steiner, Florence Oswald, Isabelle Schweitzer, Kathryn Ross, Rose Stanek, Beatrice Lenyon, Anna Kloud, Anna, Lucille, and Mary Flechner. The men fled down stairways.

Some of the Injured.

Among the seriously injured were:

ERNEST BLODEN, 18 West Forty-fifth place; leg fractured, internal injuries.
WILLIAM HANNON; arms, legs, and body cut; possible internal injuries.
ANNA STEINER, 2919 Wallace street; leaped from second story window; leg fractured.
EDWARD SUTHERLAND, engine company No. 5, thrown from apparatus while responding to the alarm; leg fractured.
DAVID WILLIAMS, 912 Maxwell street; burned on arms, legs, and body, gash in head.

Most of the victims were taken to the People's hospital.

The cries of the injured men could be heard by the throng of spectators while firemen were digging in the wreckage to rescue them.

Theory of Explosion.

The explosion was caused in the dry room in the basement by placing a large rug owned by the Hotel La Salle in the drying compartment while it had too much gasoline in it, officials said.

The blast blew out the west wall and tore off a portion of the roof. Most of the windows in the structure were shattered and windows in dwellings along West Twenty-fourth place for 200 feet were broken. Women were hysterical when the police arrived.

Berg's automobile in front of the building was blown to pieces.

The home of Michael Hurley, superintendent of the Fourteenth street yard of the Erie railroad, was badly damaged.

Officials of the company estimated the loss on the building and contents at $50,000. William Loewy is president of the company and Robert M. Birck secretary.

Investigation to Be Made.

An investigation will be made to determine the cause of the explosion, the third within a week in dyeing and cleaning houses in Chicago. One man was killed the day before and others injured in a similar explosion in a shop at Chicago avenue and Noble street. Another dyeing and cleaning shop on the northwest side was partly wrecked by flames on Sunday night.

American Bluejackets Seize a Small Steamer in Nicaragua.

REPORT CABLED BY ADMIRAL

Marines Are Expected to Open Railway from Managua South.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—American bluejackets from the cruiser Glacier, under Ensign Robert G. Coman, have recaptured a small steamer which the Nicaraguan rebels had seized near Corinto and taken to the bay of Fonseca to transport insurgent troops.

Admiral Sutherland's cable from Corinto reporting the capture, does not state the time, nor say if there was a fight.

Although the admiral has reported that all is well with the Americans at Managua it is evident from the irregularity of his dispatches to the navy department that the lines of communication between the Nicaraguan capital and the coast are still precarious.

More Marines at Corinto.

This is accounted for by the fact that the revolutionists are in control of the country between Corinto and La Paz, about a dozen miles north of Managua, although they are not attempting now to prevent the movement of the American sailors and marines along the railroad.

The 750 marines taken from the isthmus by the California were expected to entrain at Corinto today, but owing to the dilapidated condition of the railroad, caused by the attempts of the rebels to destroy a large part of it, this force, under Col. Pendleton of the marine corps, probably will not reach Managua until tomorrow.

Railroad to Be Reopened.

With 1,150 marines at his back in Managua Admiral Southerland is certain Col. Pendleton will take control of that place and also open the railroad to the south leading to Granada.

MODERN PORTIA BESTS FATHER.

Charged with Being Stubborn Child, Bay State Girl Proves She Is Married.

Malden, Mass., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Casky Carlo, aged 18, appeared today in court, charged by her father, Louis Casky, with being a stubborn child. She was her own lawyer, and produced a marriage certificate that procured her release. Her father claimed that he did not know that she was married.

"She stays out late at nights," he told the court. "She won't mind me, and I want her put away."

Portia spoke up in her own defense:

"I am married, and here is the certificate to prove it. My husband, Jacob, is here with me, too, and we are keeping house."

Judge Bruce ordered the father to leave the court by one door and the daughter and son-in-law by another.

Mr. Carter was a member of the firm of Osgood, Carter & Co., and a member of the American Society of Mining Engineers. He was a writer and speaker on mining topics and an author of works of fiction. Among the latter is his recent novel, "Out of Africa."

When in Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Carter lived at the Drexel Arms hotel.

DOCK LABORERS QUIT WORK.

Milwaukee Lake Traffic Tied Up—Men Want Pay While Waiting for Boats.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 4.—Five hundred dock laborers went on a strike today. As a result the freight business of the great lakes as far as Milwaukee is concerned is hampered. The men demand that they be paid for the time that they are waiting while the boats are being shifted and during the switching of freight cars. They claim that, inasmuch as they are paid by the hour, they should not be compelled to lose this time.

SHOTS STOP FLEEING CONVICT; EMPTY AUTOS AND STREET CARS

Joliet Prison Guards See Man Dash from Quarry Gang, Open Fire, and Make Him Surrende to Save Life.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—A hail of bullets emptied street cars and automobiles along the outside wall of the state penitentiary here today while prison guards on the walls fired at a fleeing twenty year convict a quarter of a mile away.

The convict, Frank Tzurkalski, sentenced in Chicago for murdering his rival in a love affair at Ohio street and Milwaukee avenue a few years ago, was obliged to stop to save his life.

Tzurkalski and a hundred other convicts were being taken to the stone quarry. As the men filed into the inclosure he slipped out of line, turned and fled down the street. His break for liberty almost instantly was observed by the guards on the prison wall behind him, and they opened fire with rifles. Automobilists and passengers and crews on streets cars in the line of fire left their vehicles and with many pedestrians sought cover along the roadside. Tzurkalski had run several blocks, pursued by guards from the quarry gang, when he suddenly turned around and abjectly surrendered. He was bleeding in half a dozen places.

Prison officials thought at first a mutiny, like that at Jackson, Mich., might follow, but no other outbreak occurred.

DR. M'GEE, NOTED SCIENTIST, DIES OF CANCER AT CAPITAL.

Explored Tiburon Island and Studied Unknown Savage Tribe—Was Chief of Government Bureaus.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Dr. W. J. McGee, noted anthropologist, geologist, hydrologist, and author, died here today from a cancerous growth. Dr. McGee was taken seriously ill several weeks ago. He was born in Dubuque county, Iowa, fifty-nine years ago.

Dr. McGee made many contributions to science and his work was known throughout the world. In 1883 he became geologist in the United States geological survey and spent seven years surveying and mapping 300,000 square miles in southeastern United States.

One of his most important works was the exploration of Tiburon Island, Gulf of California, where he made a study of a savage tribe of people never before recorded. He was then ethnologist of the bureau of American ethnology, which position he occupied ten years, resigning in 1903 to become chief of the department of anthropology of the St. Louis exposition. Later he was director of the St. Louis public museum for two years and in 1907 became secretary of the inland waterways commission, which position he held at the time of his death as well as being an expert of the department of agriculture.

Dr. McGee never had a surname other than "W. J." and always signed and insisted that he be addressed by those initials without periods after them. He was married in 1888 to a noted physician, Anita Newcomb, daughter of the late Prof. Simon Newcomb, lecturer in hygiene at the niversity of California.

THREE BULLETS WOUND MAN THREATENED BY LETTERS.

Carlo Capenze Victim of Mysterious Attack While with Children in Front of Sedgwick Street Houre.

Carlo Capenze of 822 Sedgwick street was shot and probably fatally wounded last evening in front of his home. The assailant was declared to be Samuel Mamanio. The police could not learn the cause of the shooting. Neighbors said Capenze had received several threatening letters.

Capenze was at the front of his house with his five children when Mamanio is declared to have walked up to him and shot him three times without warning.

When the children saw their father fall they shouted for help. Some of the neighbors called the police while others chased Capenze's assailant, who fled through an alley. No one appeared to know anything about Mamanio except his name.

Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 4.—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of George W. Beatty, the aviator, upon the sworn complaint of his bride of a few months. Mrs. Beatty appeared in police court with her hair awry, her face scratched and bruised. Mrs. Beatty said that the prelude to the fight was her finding in the aviator's pockets letters of an endearing nature written to him by women. The warrant charges assault.

SENATOR CLAPP WANTS FAIR PLAY

Chairman of Investigating Committee Declares There Must Be No Whitewash.

TO HEAR COLONEL EARLY.

Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood, and Chairmen of Three Parties Called.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4. — [Special.]—Senator Moses Clapp, chairman of the subcommittee of the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is investigating campaign contributions, in a statement issued today said the committee would do no whitewashing.

Every person who knows any facts concerning contributions to campaign funds will be subpoenaed to testify, said Senator Clapp.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt will be given the first opportunity to tell the facts. He probably will appear on Oct. 2 or 3. Chairman Clapp has been informed unofficially that the colonel's speaking dates will bring him east about that time.

Letters were sent to Speaker Champ Clark and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, Chairman McCombs of the Democratic national committee; Representative William B. McKinley, chairman of the national Taft bureau; Senator Joseph M. Dixon, chairman of the national Roosevelt executive committee, and others, asking them to testify before the committee.

Committee Wants All the Facts.

Mr. Clapp was emphatic in declaring the committee wants all the facts.

"How could the committee whitewash, composed as it is?" he asked. "There are two Taft men to see that everything that hits Roosevelt comes out, and there are two Wilson men to see that the Republicans are exposed as much as possible."

"And one Roosevelt man to see fair play for the Progressives?" was suggested.

"Yes, one Roosevelt man, the chairman," said Senator Clapp.

"No, I don't for my life see how anybody will be whitewashed when that committee once gets into action."

Senator Clapp spoke with emphasis when he said that he would see to it that Col. Roosevelt got fair play. There will be no juggling of the testimony or anything else that will work to the injury of the leader of the Progressives.

Frameup to Help Democrats.

Senator Clapp has a "tip" that the Republicans on the committee are going to frame their work so as to get out of witnesses all that will be of help to the Democrats. They are going to follow this course because they would rather the Democrats profit than Roosevelt.

"Have you received any documents of any kind from John D. Archbold since he testified?" Senator Clapp was asked.

"None whatever," said Senator Clapp. "I do not know how that impression got out."

Senator Clapp said he did not know whether the Bliss books and letters had been located or not. If the Bliss receipts to Archbold have been found Senator Clapp has not heard of it."

A Boy's Whole Time
A Boy's life at Lake Forest is a busy and interesting one. Class work, Manual Training, Dramatics, Debates, Athletics — Sane Social life—all have their due attention. There are no idle hands, no shirking of real responsibilities. And to these facts is due our wonderful success in training boys for good citizenship.
We do not accept boys who have had bad records in other schools, or who cannot furnish excellent references. The equipment of the Academy is complete and attractive. The students live in three home like residences. There is a large recitation building and gymnasium. The health record is remarkable. Each boy receives personal physical training each day. A new swimming pool, ready in September, completes the physical equipment. Graduates are now attending Yale, Cornell, Dartmouth, Williams, Amherst, Chicago, Leland Stanford, etc.
A representative of the Academy is in Chicago daily and would be pleased to call upon you. Or write for illustrated literature.

Get Horses in Shape for Lake Forest Show.

LAKE FOREST admirers of the horse are showing interest in the twelfth annual horse show and gymkana to be held at Onwentsia club next Saturday. Daily all the bluebloods of the local equine kingdom are being put through their paces on the tanbark of the show grounds.

Many new horses have been bought especially for this show. Among the large stables that have made recent purchases are those of Charles W. Folds, who has added the two Kentucky winners, Lacy Crawford and Lord Forest; Prentiss Coonley, who secured from a Toronto firm a lightweight hunter with a long string of ribbons; Edward Carry, a three gaited woman's saddle horse, and Alfred L. Baker, a pony tandem.

In spite of the many new arrivals practically all of the old favorites again will match their quality to maintain their established positions in horse society. Mrs. Prentiss Coonley will ride Mollie Bawn, and Miss Florence Folds will ride Peggy McCree.

Polo ponies will be exhibited in freak stunts as a new feature. One of the most sensational tricks will be the ride "When Knighthood Was in Flour." This will enlist Walter Brewster, Laurance Armour, Volney Foster, and Newton Perry. These men will be obliged to jump their ponies through a scaffold from which will be suspended bags of flour. If a head strikes one of the bags in the leap over the barrier the bag will burst and the rider will find himself in a flood of flour.

There are more than 200 entries. The proceeds will be presented the Alice home at Lake Forest and the Lake Forest Orphanage. The amount cleared last year was $2,700.

New Books.

The Hon. Mrs. Robert Hamilton's "THE YOUNG PRETENDERS" (Longmans) is as sympathetic an analysis of child character as can be found anywhere, and will be appreciataed by young readers and lovers of children. "The Young Pretenders" are two English children, a brother and sister, of perhaps 5 and 3 years, respectively, who, although their father and mother have been in "Inja" ever since they could remember, think it is pretty good to be alive, because they live so much in a world of their own creating. The book is abundantly illustrated, and American readers will be interested, not to say diverted, by the picture of an English "sponge bath."

Those who take up David Gray's "ENSIGN RUSSELL" (The Century company), remembering the refreshing hours spent reading "Gallops," both the first and the second series, or the ebullient fun of "Jim Carteret, Ranchman," will be disappointed to find that the tone of the present volume of short stories is far from humorous. This is due to the choice of subject matter, for it is most serious when men, young men, too, know they must conquer their unreasoning fear as they face the bullets of the enemy. That they overcome their momentary cowardice shows that Mr. Gray has the right point of view, which, as much as the skill with which the stories are written, the deftness of the characterization, and the concise completeness of the descriptions, makes the volume a welcome addition to the general collection of short stories.

Mr. Hamilton Jackson, the English architect, who wrote such interesting books about the Italian and Dalmatian shores of the Adriatic, has now prepared a third similar work, "RAMBLES IN THE PYRENEES AND ADJACENT DISTRICTS" (E. P. Dutton & Co.), and dealing, like the others, with the architectural features, not of well known places, but the out of way towns which the tourist does not so often visit.

He takes the reader, for instance, to Pau, St. Sever, St. Gaudens, Oloron, St. Lizier, Villefranche-le-Conflent, Céret, Marbonne, Carcassonne, Auch, Toulouse, Moissac, and other spots which are mere places on the map to most persons. In scope the book takes in a sweep across southern France from the Bayonne to Arles and Tarakon, including, as has been said, many places off the beaten track of travel.

While Mr. Jackson is largely concerned with the architectural features of these places, his book contains much which should interest any one, bits of history, nature description, quaint costumes, fêtes, and traits of the people he saw. The churches and cathedrals are noted for their rich carvings in stone and wood, examples of eleventh and twelfth century art showing great imagination and skill which survived the iconoclasm of wars and bigot zeal. The book is profusely illustrated with photographs, line drawings, and plans.

"WIT AND HUMOR OF COLONIAL DAYS," by Carl Holliday, is not so droll and happy a volume as the title might lead the reader to expect. The compilation bears evidence of faithful work; often, however, the material is not highly stimulating. In one thing the author errs: he fails to distinguish between what was intentional wit or humor and what now is a thing that we laugh over because of its perversity or eccentricity. Illustrative passages here and there are naïve and delightful; others are merely crude. To be of historical import, the book should show more of the interpreter's and less of the compiler's art. By eliminating half its contents—that which is gently stupid—a smaller but more authentic, as well as fascinating, book would be the result. (J. B. Lippincott company.)

"EVERBLOOMING ROSES" is the title of a work by Georgia Torrey Drennan (Duffield & Co.), who cites among other varieties the tea, hybrid tea, climbing tea, Bengal, hybrid Remontant, Polyantha, and Bourbon. There are chapters on the planting, care, and propagating of the various kinds of roses, the flower's enemies, winter protection, building of arbors, pergolas, etc.

McBride, Nast & Co. have published two works of interest to those intending to build. They are "Architectural Styles for Country Houses," edited by Henry H. Saylor, and "Concrete and Stucco Houses," by Oswald C. Hering. Each book is profusely illustrated.

News of the Theaters.

"The Whirl of Society" at the Lyric Theater.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

"THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY" is one of those "Let's-go-to-some-show" things with a lot of songs and dances in it, some good looking girls in short skirts, and Mr. Al Jolson. Perhaps Mr. Jolson's name means nothing to those who are addicted to the comic theater. An experience of several years attending musical entertainments provides no memories, pleasant or otherwise, of Mr. Jolson. One recalls without difficulty Mr. George Evans, Mr. Lew Dockstader, and other eminent burnt cork clowns, but Mr. Jolson seems to have no niche in our black face reminiscences. Hereafter Mr. Jolson will be among those remembered. He is a blithe young fellow with an eager method of comedy, a melodious voice, and a charmingly inoffensive insolence not to be found elsewhere in foolish exhibitions of "The Whirl of Society" sort. He walks down the middle aisle of the Lyric theater, talks intimately to the occupants of the aisle seats, springs japes new and old, and is quick, responsive, and magnetic, a pleasant buffoon, inspiring laughter without vulgarity, so far as I could see, and belonging to the "our set" of metropolitan entertainers. As has been said in another periodical, no show is a bad show that has Al Jolson in it. "The Whirl of Society" wouldn't be a bad show for those who like musical comedy whirls of society even if Mr. Jolson were otherwise engaged. A sophisticated, irresponsible, tenderloinian concoction make up for the celebrant from Altoona, Pa., with plenty of dames and dancing, a smart bit of satire now and then, and tunes galore. Perhaps the timid debutante might find minor episodes not quite polite, but; like Mr. Ziegfeld's plays, "The Whirl of Society" is no place for a debutante.

No plot encumbers "The Whirl of Society," a condition regarded by many as ideal in musical comedy. It is a big, expensive vaudeville show, with plenty of ragtime, a ballet or two, many white arms, and "twinkling" ankles in proportion. The immaculate Mr. Melville Ellis, highly primped and and swallow-tailed, contributes a few melodious minutes at the piano, playing "snatches" from everything from "Thaïs" to "Tantalizing Tommy," talking to Miss Ada Lewis the while in a smart monotone and in the quick Broadway repartee of Mr. Harold Attrige, the librettist. Mr. Lawrence D'Orsay yawns and manipulates his monocle, Miss Fanny Brice sings septic songs effectively, and always in the background are a lot of ladies dressed up like circus horses. The Misses Cortenay sing coon songs effectively, and Maurice, the cabaret king, dances discreetly with a pretty girl who is graceful and interestingly gowned. A speedy after-dinner show, contrived to divert the tired business man, if there is such a thing. Mr. Jolson's frivolous patter is worth the time and trouble, and the Messrs. Shubert have done the best they could to make the pictures pretty.

The dancing specialties possess more elegance of manner than might be expected from an entertainment originally designed for sophisticated Broadway audiences. The Cinderella waltz by Oscar Schwarz and Laura Hamilton is a dainty pianissimo affair, done in a pale silver light. Maurice, the prince of tango art, also cultivates a repose and finesse which is unknown to the redoubtable "Texas Tommies" of "A Modern Eve," and his partner, Miss Florence Walton, has far more personal charm than is usually found among lady quicksteppers. Maurice may be further identified as the blasé apostle of intimate dancing who cabaretted at Martin's a few months ago. Those who like to seem "wise" in New York café gossip may appreciate that bit of information.

Lawrence D'Orsay plays himself with amiability, as usual; in the vortex of society as represented by this Winter Garden spectacle he is not an animated figure, but he makes for mild amusement at intervals. Miss Ada Lewis, one of the best representatives of the perishing art of burlesque, assists in the merrymaking as an aspiring parvenue.

MISS LUCY WESTON IN "THE GIRL AT THE GATE"

Miss Weston's appearance in "The Girl at the Gate" reveals her as a thoroughly proper young woman with no desire whatever to sing the questionable songs which have made her eminent. She is one of the major diversions of the new La Salle play.

Invasion of Music Publishers.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 4.—American music publishers have decided to combine and establish a clearing house in London to deal with the publications of all American houses. They will pool their expenses. Experience has shown that running a London branch is a big proposition. Several publishers were accordingly forced to arrange with English publishers to act as agents for them in the United Kingdom. These agents always had the right of selecting whatever they chose from an American publisher's stock and they took successful issues that did not need advertising. Thus the business has been far more profitable to the London middleman than to the American publisher. Three weeks ago a representative of leading New York houses came to London and fixed up arrangements for a new establishment and lively times may soon be expected in the English musical world.

MAN OF 70 MARRIES NURSE AFTER HOSPITAL ROMANCE.

Police Board Operator Weds in Secret, but "Fishing Trip" Is Disclosed as His Honeymoon.

A romance starting when John Barrett, 70 years old, suffered with appendicitis in St. Anthony's hospital eight months ago culminated yesterday afternoon in his marriage to the nurse who attended him, Mrs. Catherine Conklin, a widow, 4117 West Twenty-fifth street. Barrett has been an operator at the police switchboard at the Twenty-fifth precinct for twenty years.

The marriage was kept a secret until night, when the best man, Frank Sullivan, 126 North Walnut street, told the story. The marriage took place at 2:30 p. m. in the Church of the Epiphany, Forty-second avenue and Twenty-fifth street. Barrett just began his month's vacation and intended using this time as a honeymoon disguised as a fishing trip on Fox lake.

The couple left for Milwaukee, where they will spend several weeks. On their return they will live at the bride's home, 4117 West Twenty-fifth stret. Eight months ago Barrett was afflicted with appendicitis. He was rushed to St. Anthony's hospital. Sullivan said Barrett declared that the first day he was there his tortured face was remodeled into one expressing sublime comfort by the tender care, kind face, and untiring watchfulness of the nurse who is now his wife.

"ANTI-HIGH BROWS IN BAD."

Faction of the Chicago Medical Fraternity Feels the Weight of Bartzen's Displeasure.

The "anti-high-brow" faction of the Chicago medical fraternity is "in bad" with the Bartzen administration of Cook county. President Fredric Greer of the civil service commission admitted this yesterday after the commisison had formally accepted the recommendation of a special committee advising the examination for members of the attending staff of the county hospital, held last December, be thrown out. Another examination will be held within the next thirty days. In selecting the committee, no attention will be paid to the medical factions.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS VOTE FOR MERGER NEGOTIATIONS.

United Typothetæ Takes Action Which May Result in Uniting with the Ben Franklin Club.

The United Typothetæ of America and the Ben Franklin Club of America may be merged into one organization, according to action taken at the session of the typothetæ in the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

A committee was named to confer with a similar committee from the Ben Franklin organization.

The association adopted resolutions urging the creation of a labor bureau and an advisory board.

Another resolution adopted called for the creation of a credit and collection bureau through which the financial interests of the association and of its individual members will be cared for.

The morning session was devoted to a discussion of organization work and the afternoon to discussion of insurance and technical items concerning printing shops.

The convention adjourned to meet at New Orleans in 1913 after choosing the following officers: President, A. M. Glossbrenner, Indianapolis; vice president, George Courts, Galveston, Tex.; treasurer, A. E. Southworth, Chicago.

The delegates will attend the fourth International Cost congress, which begins its fourth annual meeting at the Hotel Sherman today, and tonight both organizations will join in a banquet at the Hotel Sherman.

DENIES ATTACK ON HIS WIFE.

Husband Held as Razor Wielder Insists Woman Slashed Own Neck While Demented.

William Horne, held in the South Clark street police station on suspicion of having slashed his wife's throat, remains firm in his declaration that she attempted suicide last night. He says the woman was temporarily insane, due to the heat. Mrs. Horne, who is slowly recovering, says she was attacked as she slept. Evidence of a struggle—overturned chairs and the table in one end of the dining room led the police to believe the husband did the cutting. He tells conflicting stories.

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice
By Laura Jean Libbey

The Village Gossip.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

WE all know her, that smooth loquacious woman whose wealth gives her entrée into our homes, the society woman to whom we dare not have the message given: "We're not at home," the audacious sweetly smiling woman who asks us point blank if we are engaged to the handsome young man she has seen calling so often. She makes no bones of asking what his business is, or if he has expectations from his relatives. She hints that the same young man has paid attentions to other girls. When the father had asked him if he had matrimonial intentions his calls dropped off. Somebody had told her that he had been seen with a gay young widow for awhile. But now they don't speak as they pass by. By the time that she rises to take her leave it is found that the young man has scarcely a shred of character left.

At the next home, it is the young woman whom she last visited whom she draws over the coals, insinuating that a certain minx, whose name she could hit if she tossed a stone over her right shoulder was doing an awful deed in taking away the lover of a young widow who had even gone so far as to be making her wedding clothes to marry him. But in another way the widow deserved it, she added: Were not half of the married women in the village up in arms with their husbands for returning with interest her soft glances?

At the home of the little widow in question the village gossip was all sympathy, declaring that all the married women in the town pitied her for being wroth with her lover; that manlike he was simply flirting with others in order that he might have her recall him.

Then the widow replies that she would not have him back, she has a new beau, a lawyer to whom she has just become engaged. Upon making her call at the next house the village gossip brings startling news. She whispers ominously that she has just heard authentically that the young widow has engaged a lawyer to start something and that the town may look for a sudden surprise in the near future.

She meets the young man in question, the first corner she turns, and not having the key to her interrogations he is no match for her in parrying off her insinuations.

It does not set well in his mind as she tells him the girl number one is boasting everywhere that she is circulating that her father refused to allow him to call, after he had been seen riding with a certain young widow. That the widow had declared she had to accept another sweetheart just to get rid of him.

The third young woman was boasting that before she accepted a certain young man in marriage she would make it her business to find out what his income was. Also the habits of his cousins and likewise the habits of his sisters and his aunts. She intended to inform him of the result of her inquiry the next time he visited her. Yet, no one ascribed the right cause as to why the young man left the village so suddenly.

"Slander, that worst of poisons, ever finds
An easy entrance to ignoble minds."

A young man takes up this question and writes somewhat bitterly: "Is there anything you can say to clip the tongue of the village gossip?—An Innocent Sufferer."

To listen to a gossip is as ignoble as to follow her example. They can be silenced if they find no willing ear. No gossiper commands respect, but rather fear instead.

Another "Beautiful Brunette."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a beautiful brunette of 27 and married and as my husband can only get home about three times a year I get very lonely. I have had several invitations from young men to go to the theater or automobile riding. Do you think it is proper for me to go out with other men? What would you advise me to do? RAINBOW."

No, you should not go about with other men. It seems to me the thing for you to do is to arrange so you can be with your husband more than you are. Simply tell your husband that you do not feel that is the way for a married couple to exist and that he must make arrangements in his business or else change his business so that you can be together more frequently.

* *

Does She Love Him?

"Dear Mis Libbey: I am desperately in love with a young lady, but am not certain that she is in love with me. I have tried several times to propose, but when the time arrives my heart always fails me. I know if she refuses me that I will be heartbroken. Could you suggest some way to make it easier to propose? I feel that I could write my proposal better than I could say it. Would that be all right? FAINT HEART."

Yes, it would be all right to write your proposal, but I think you are very foolish to allow yourself to become so frightened at the thought of proposing to the young lady. She probably will be delighted to hear your declaration of love. Tell her that you love her and that you feel able to support a wife and that you wish she would accept you. Try to have some decision of character and not be shaking in your shoes so at every crisis in your life.

* *

How Often Should He See "Lady Love"?

"Dear Miss Libbey: How often should a young man go to see his lady love? Is twice a week too often? How long should he stay? Is 12 o'clock too late to stay? If a young man wishes to have a young lady's company to a picnic should he go to her and ask her or should he write and ask her? If a young man should ask a girl to see her home and she would say, 'No, not tonight,' should he ask her at some other time? C. HARRISON."

Twice a week is far too often, unless you are engaged to the girl. You never should stay later than 10:30. It is immaterial whether you write or ask her verbally for her company. Yes, if he wants to go home with her very much he might ask her again, again, and again.

The Letter Box.

Rhubarb Jam.

ALLOW a pound of sugar and a lemon for each pound of rhubarb. Peel the lemon as thin as possible, being careful not to get any of the bitter portion. Put this thin lemon peel into a bowl, add the pulp of the lemon, extracting all the seeds, and put in the rhubarb, cut into inch pieces. Cover all and let stand in a cool place over night. In the morning put the ingredients into a preserving kettle and cook slowly, stirring frequently for three-quarters of an hour. Take from the fire, put into jars and, when it begins to cool, seal. (Kindness of Mrs. B.)

Sausage Rolls.

Make a dough as for baking powder biscuit, roll it out and cut it into large rounds with a biscuit cutter. Lay sausage meat on half of each round, turn the other half over it and pinch the edges together. Bake and serve with a brown sauce poured over it.

(Kindness of Mrs. C. R. P.)

Almanac.

"If 'Y. A. S.' will write to Dr. J. MacDonald, Binghamton, N. Y., she will get the almanac desired for 10 cents. MRS. S. A. P."

Alligator Pears.

"I saw the reply of 'Mrs. C. T. S.' to 'Mrs. H. K. M.' for a recipe for the preparation of alligator pears. Besides the manner mentioned we served them in Cuba in other ways more appetizing to the northern palates accustomed to salads. First, we cut them into halves, remove the stones, and serve them with a French dressing, made of lemon (or limes if preferred) and olive oil, with the usual condiments. Sometimes we added a few drops of onion juice. We also serve them with a sweet cream dressing (or cocoanut milk) sweetened, to which we added lime or lemon juice. We also removed the rind, taking care to preserve the vivid green layer next to the rind, slicing them thin and adding a little grated onion. Serve in this way with mayonnaise. The rich green delicate cream color of the inner layer of the fruit, and the golden mayonnaise make a salad as artistic as it is delicious. We also serve them with sugar and lemon juice. When one is a lover of this fine fruit one delights to eat it with a little salt alone, as the cucumber lover often prefers that vegetable.

"I note that the new Cuban consul proposes to bring the Cuban fruits to Chicago markets in their prime condition. The alligator pears, like other Cuban fruits, would not be recognized and would certainly be disowned by any Cuban or any American who has known the luscious fruits of Cuba. When you have pineapples so ripe that they are colorless and you can eat them with a spoon, and sugar would be an insult to them—you will understand that the fruits called 'Cuban' are a libel on the delicious productions of that Island Wonderful! "IDA E. B."

Cure for Roup.

"'Mary F.': I have raised many chickens and find for the 'roup' a cure in witch hazel oil. Rub on the eyes carefully. And for the tongue get peach tree leaves—a good, big handful. Mash them well and put into the drinking pan. As you have chickens I will send you a never failing cure for cholera. Epsom salts—one teaspoonful to one pint of water. Keep the chickens in a pen. MRS. C."

* *

Popovers.

"I wish to help 'S. M. E.,' who has asked how to make popovers—the real kind. They must be made in only one way and with absolutely no liberties taken. One egg beaten; one teaspoonful of salt (level); one level cupful of sifted flour; one cup of milk. No more, no less! They can only be made in hot iron muffin rings—that is to be perfect. V. R. F."

"I have used the above recipe exactly as written for years, and failed as often as I succeeded. The whole secret is to use two eggs, then follow the rest of the formula as given above—and success for every attempt will be assured. A. A. S."

Verse.

"I read the inquiry of 'E. L. J.' It may be that the following are the words desired:

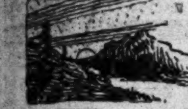

"'We twain have met like ships upon the sea,
Who hold an hour's converse, so short, so sweet—
One little hour! and then away they speed
On lonely paths through mist, and cloud, and foam,
To meet no more!'

"The author's name I do not know. W. S."

Poultry Raising.

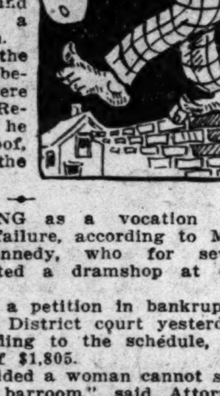

"If 'Mrs. L. L. T.' will write to the agricultural department, Washington, D. C., for their bulletin on 'Poultry Raising,' they will supply her with an abundance of the desired information, more valuable than her desired magazines—besides being free of charge. "I. C."

Lights and Shadows of the Day.

SLEEPING on a roof in combination with a habit of walking in his sleep proved fatal for Vincent Rosalski early yesterday.

While slumbering on the roof of a three story house at 1227 Milwaukee avenue, where he roomed, he became imbued with the "sleeping wanderlust." He arose and strolled about the roof. Suddenly Rosalski stepped over the low wall along one of the sides, falling to the roof of a bank building. He struck on his head on a skylight. His skull was fractured and he was dead when a watchman found him.

Harry G. Gross, the bank watchman, believed burglars were trying to break in. Revolver in hand, he mounted to the roof, where he found the body of Rosalski.

SALOONKEEPING as a vocation for women is a failure, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy, who for seven years conducted a dramshop at 418 Wells street.

Mrs. Kennedy filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District court yesterday. Her liabilities, according to the schedule, are $2,615, with assets of $1,805.

"Mrs. Kennedy decided a woman cannot successfully conduct a barroom," said Attorney Harry R. Rathbone, who filed the petition. "She ran the business for seven years after the death of her husband. She continued to conduct the saloon, believing that she could make a success of it.

"Now she is convinced the saloon business is one line of commerce to which women are not in any way adapted."

A WEALTHY Lake Shore drive woman yesterday saved the lives of six dogs which Municipal Judge Gemmill had ordered killed because of the inability of Prof. Carl Kunze, a musician, to pay their license fees.

Prof. Kunze lives at 247 North Artesian avenue. He is well along in years and his hobby is providing for homeless dogs. In some way he became involved with his neighbors, who had him summoned into court for keeping unlicensed canines. He appealed to Hugo Krause, secretary of the Anti-Cruelty Society and enlisted his sympathy.

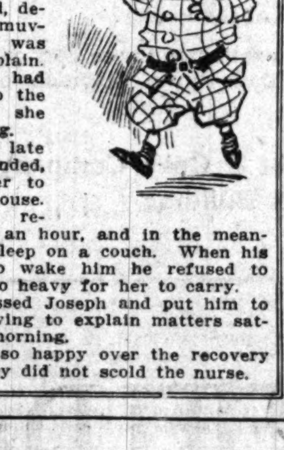

The story of the professor's plight was printed in THE TRIBUNE yesterday morning. When he appeared in court later in the day he told Judge Gemmill that he was a victim of persecution. The court entered an order for the killing of the dogs.

Then the Lake Shore drive woman, who had read the professor's story, came to the front and through Mr. Krause paid the $12 necessary for licenses and saved the lives of the dogs.

THE obesity and somnolent tendencies of Joseph Barys Jr., caused his parents a sleepless night and a morning of anxiety.

Joseph Jr., who is 3 years old and lives at 2756 South Sacramento avenue, disappeared on Tuesday evening while playing in the street. The mother and father of the youngster instituted a search and the police were notified. Friends joined in a scouting party.

At 8 o'clock in the morning Joseph Jr., holding to the hand of his nurse, walked into the presence of his parents. He held forth his hands and cried, delightedly, "Hello, muvver." The girl was called upon to explain. A young man had asked her to go to the picture show and she took the baby along.

It was getting late when the show ended, and she went over to her mother's house. The young man remained about half an hour, and in the meantime Joseph fell asleep on a couch. When his nurse attempted to wake him he refused to get up. He was too heavy for her to carry. The nurse undressed Joseph and put him to bed properly, resolving to explain matters satisfactorily in the morning.

The Barys were so happy over the recovery of little Joseph they did not scold the nurse.

Economical Housekeeping.

Gingerbreads.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

ALTHOUGH I cannot vouch for the excellence of all the following recipes I can commend the first as one making an excellent and inexpensive gingerbread.

Gingerbreads are the best kind of sweet bread for stout people, who would get thin, to eat. Such people nearly always like sweets exceptionally well, and there are good reasons why gingerbread is the best thing they can take.

Inexpensive Gingerbread.—One teaspoon each of soda, salt, and ginger, one cup of New Orleans molasses, one-half a cup of sugar, one-half a cup of melted lard, one cup of boiling water, flour enough to make a thin batter. Bake slowly twenty to thirty minutes in a small, deep dripping pan.

Warm Gingerbread.—One-half a cup of butter, fill the remainder of the cup with boiling water. One-half a cup of sugar, fill the remainder of the cup with dark molasses. Two cups of flour, one egg, two teaspoons of baking powder, one scant level tablespoon of ginger and a little cinnamon. Half of this recipe is enough for four persons.

Soft Gingerbread.—Mix together one-half a cup of brown sugar and a scant half-cup of meat drippings. Add one egg, well beaten, one-half a cup of light New Orleans molasses, and half a teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon. Into one-half a cup of boiling water stir one even teaspoon of soda. Fold in one cup and a half of sifted flour. Bake with a slow fire for half an hour if baked in a sheet—if baked in muffin tins a little less time is needed.

Mrs. Lincoln's Recipe for Frosted Gingerbread.—One cup of molasses, one teaspoon of soda, one tablespoon of ginger, one tablespoon of butter melted, a half a teaspoon of salt, one-half a teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half a cup of boiling water, two cups of flour. Mix in the order given and beat well. Bake in a moderate oven. Frost with two tablespoons of milk, stirred thick enough to spread with powdered sugar.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.
By Lillian Russell

Personal Beauty.

[Copyright: 1912: By Lillian Russell.]

WOMEN formerly were young longer than they were beautiful. Today we know that women are beautiful longer than they are young.

The most intellectual woman of Napoleon's court was Mme. de Stael; the most beautiful woman was Mme. Recamier. Mme. de Stael was not beautiful of face, but her beauty of talent and cultivation brought her fame and admiration. Her great book, "Corrine," written more than a hundred years ago, is today as up to date and wonderful as though it had been written during the last month.

Mme. Recamier, though with some claims to "bel esprit," gained little distinction by her learning, but she won all hearts by her great beauty. These women were frends and not rivals. Each realized the other's power. It is on record that Mme. de Stael said more than once that she would gladly exchange her intellectual superiority for the beauty of Mme. Recamier. Great as was the intellect of Mme. de Stael, she longed for beauty, not realizing her equal charm.

Would Judith have saved her country and woman an imperishable fame had she not been as comely a Jewish maiden as ever crushed with white feet the purple grapes of Olivet?

Nothing is more powerful—few things are more notable—than personal beauty. It is a shallow fashion to decry it, to hold it lightly, or pass it by as transitory or superficial.

It is this beauty—"skin deep," as you will—that inspired the pencil of Raphael and the chisel of Michael Angelo. It is this inspiration of beauty which renders the works of the great masters of art immortal.

It invests their productions with a sweet and mighty influence, which gives them a value far beyond what dollars and cents can possible express.

Plato found God nowhere so manifestly present as in beauty. So he expressed himself. Some people declare that the matter of personal beauty is merely a caprice of the fancy. Let it be remembered that the matter of personal beauty is a harmony of form and color, quite as severely regulated by mathematical formula, yet capable of quite as infinite variations as that other harmony which we call music.

When Goethe was asked "What is beauty?" he answered: "I do not know, but I can show it to you." We should follow the advice of this great master and trouble ourselves no further as to the right and wrong of it. We must learn how it is to be acquired and how it is to be kept; then show it.

Apart from the fact that health and beauty are synonymous, the hour is present when the improvement, the maintenance—if possible, the creation of personal beauty—deserves to be recognized as forming a legitimate and worthy department of medicine; "cosmetics" it should be called, if one can rid the word of the current, baser meaning as applied to the meretricious parts of the toilet.

If one reflects how much mental suffering even slight deformities give and how often the loss of beauty is the forerunner of the loss of health, it will not seem unworthy of the highest skill to take cognizance of such trifles. There is no vanity, necessarily, in making the best of ourselves, and a desire to please others in our appearance as well as in our actions has nothing about it the least reprehensible. There is nothing blameworthy in the love of beauty or in its cultivation—nothing contrary to purity or religious faith.

Remember: That in the judicious cultivation of the house of our soul we cannot but improve the inmate.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

PUZZLED: Blonde hair should be washed once a month to keep it bright and in good condition. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be happy to send you a shampoo for blonde hair, also a curling fluid.

MABEL: I have never heard of anything you could eat to make you grow. You are still young and have plenty of time to grow. Take plenty of exercise in the open air and eat good, nourishing foods. This is the only thing you can do. Do not, above all things, attempt to bleach your hair. Leave it alone.

The Best Tonic for That Tired Feeling

Is Ten Minutes Rest Daily in a Big Tub of Warm Water.

Next to a vacation in the woods there is nothing so invigorating or rejuvenating.

The daily bath is a refreshing stimulant. It puts vitality in tired brains and bodies.

The Doctor says there is nothing to compare with it as a tonic to help us build up our constitutions.

Unquestionably it is the cheapest of all the boons to health and comfort that are available to rich and poor alike.

Here in Chicago it is simply inexcusable folly to live in a house where the lack of hot water ever deprives anybody of a daily bath.

Because—for the small sum of $17.00 you can buy a little gas water heater that will provide a tub-full of new life for every member of the family any hour of the day or night.

The same heater will also provide an abundance of hot water for the wash tubs and kitchen sink.

We have installed fifty thousand of them in as many homes.

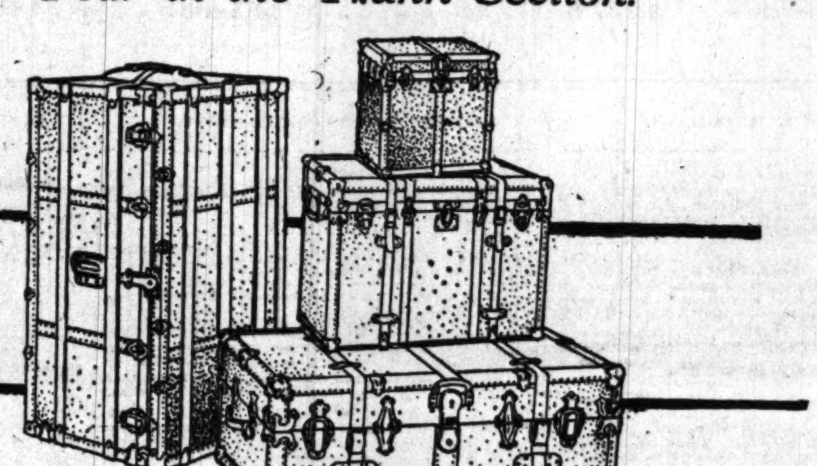

Why not make your household a present of one to-day?

Phone Randolph 4567 and we will send a salesman to see you, or, you can call and inspect the several types of heaters at our down-town exhibition room—or at any of our branch stores.

WILSON'S HOMER BEATS CUBS, 5 TO 2

Long Drive in Eighth Inning Scores Three Runs and Wins for Pirates.

BRUINS FALTER IN RACE.

New York Now Six Full Games in Lead; Lavender Opposes O'Toole and Robinson.

BY SAM WELLER.

If Chief Wilson had only decided to stay down in Texas and herd cattle instead of playing ball the Cubs would be a lot better off in this mad race for the National league flag. The chief is a member of Fred Clarke's Pirate band and he beat the Cubs yesterday at the west side park by a mighty four base blow with his big bat in the eighth inning.

The score was tied at the time with Honus Wagner on third, Jack Miller on first, and two men out. Perhaps had there been a Mordecai Brown or an Orvie Overall to come to the rescue of the Cubs at that psychological moment the chief might have been repulsed. The task was left to Young Jimmy Lavender, who had been hurling gallantly, and the second ball that he pitched to the umber chief was a curve, low and on the inside. The chief whaled it a mile high in the air, far out over Schulte's head, dropping over the screen into the right field bleacher for a home run and driving in two others.

Home Run Clinches Game.

That clinched the game, making it 5 to 2, and it remained that way to the finish. Just before that sad blow was struck the fans were figuring on the bright chances for the Cubs to beat out the Giants. The score board showed the McGraw horde had split even in a double header at Philadelphia, and the Cubs, by winning, would have gained a half a game. While this delightful anticipation was going on the chief hit the ball and in a jiffy the figures were reversed. Instead of gaining a half a game the Cubs lost just that much, and now are six combats behind the Giants.

It was a corking contest until the chief broke it up with his great wallop. Marty O'Toole, the costly hurler, was on the mound opposing Lavender. For five innings the two young men battled almost on even terms, Lavender having just a shade the better of it because of his superior control. Marty was inclined to be a trifle wild and twice was in tight places, but each time a double play saved him.

Neither side could count in these five rounds. In the sixth the Cubs, being a bit more ambitious than their rivals, threw themselves into an attack with more care and determination and produced a couple of runs only by means of alert and active base running, combined with three singles, two of which were infield hits. Those two runs looked like twice as much as was needed to win that game, so of course the fans began counting the distance to the Giants and forgetting about the battle before their eyes.

Pirates Score in Seventh.

They were counting the chickens before they were hatched, as was plainly shown in the first of the seventh, when the Pirates landed on the ball a little harder, and the Cubs, especially Heine Zim, were a little careless in their defensive play. This gave the Pirates a run in the seventh that wasn't deserved, but still the Cubs were in front by one tally, and that seemed sufficient to win.

The eighth came and there was one man, Carey, on first base with two out and Hans Wagner at bat. Wagner hadn't made anything that looked like a base hit, still tradition causes one to be careful in pitching to him, and not get one right over the middle. Lavender exercised this care with the result that the Dutchman walked.

This brought Jack Miller to bat and he fooled away a lot of time fouling off bad balls until Lavender happened to get one in the right place, then he pulled it sharply past Heine Zim for a single. Carey sprinted home with the tying run and Hans raced around to third base before Sheckard could get the ball and heave it back to the infield.

Wilson Drives Out Homer.

Then the somber chief, Wilson, ambled to the plate in his quiet manner. He's such a peaceful looking fellow that one is fooled into thinking he never will cause trouble. Lavender shot a straight one right over the plate for the first strike, and the chief spat at it in careless abandon. Lavender decided to give him a curve and possibly fool him for the second strike. He curled one down over the inside corner, the chief being a left handed hitter. But the chief swung just as if he had been waiting all summer for that particular ball and he whaled it so high that one almost lost sight of it. Schulte was seen to back up little by little until he bumped into the wall and sat down on the grass. The ball came down with a crash just over the screen. The chief already was around second and tearing for third, then he slowed up and jogged the rest of the way, both Wagner and Miller having crossed the plate ahead of him.

That put the Pirates three runs to the good and the Cubs had only two more chances to attack them. O'Toole had been removed to allow a pinch hitter to bat for him in the seventh inning and Young Lefty Robinson had taken his place. Robinson set the Cubs down in their last two attempts with only one man getting as far as first base.

As it was the last appearance of the Cubs for a period of three weeks, there was a good big crowd out to look them over before they would leave on their final tour of the east, probably 6,000 persons attending.

Carey and Tinker Double.

Carey of the Pirates and Tinker of the Cubs got doubles in the first inning, but neither was able to score. Then the game settled into a pitchers' battle. Up to the close of the fifth round only one other Pirate had reached first base, and he got there on a pass. On the other hand, the Cubs had threatened in the second, third, and fifth. Double plays killed the first two openings, and a man cut down at the plate when the bases were filled with only one out spoiled the opening in the fifth.

In the sixth with one out Heine Zim made an opening with a blazing single to left. Leach waited carefully and drew a base on balls, Heine taking second. Vic Saier seemed to kill this chance by striking out, but Johnny Evers cut a grounder to deep short, and, though big Hans Wagner got his paws on it, the ball got through him and rolled just far enough to allow Heine to leg it to the plate. Leach had to stop on second.

Then Needham followed this with a smash to deep short and again Wagner skidded over and stopped the ball, but he couldn't make a play at first even on Needham. However, Leach was compelled to stop at third, leaving the bases still filled. In pitching to Lavender O'Toole tried to fool him with a high fast one, but he got it too high and it skipped off the top of Simon's mit and rolled about twenty feet behind the plate. Like a flash Leach was racing for home and he was safe by a hair, Simon recovering the ball and shooting it to O'Toole, who had covered the plate. Lavender then struck out and everybody thought the two runs surely would win.

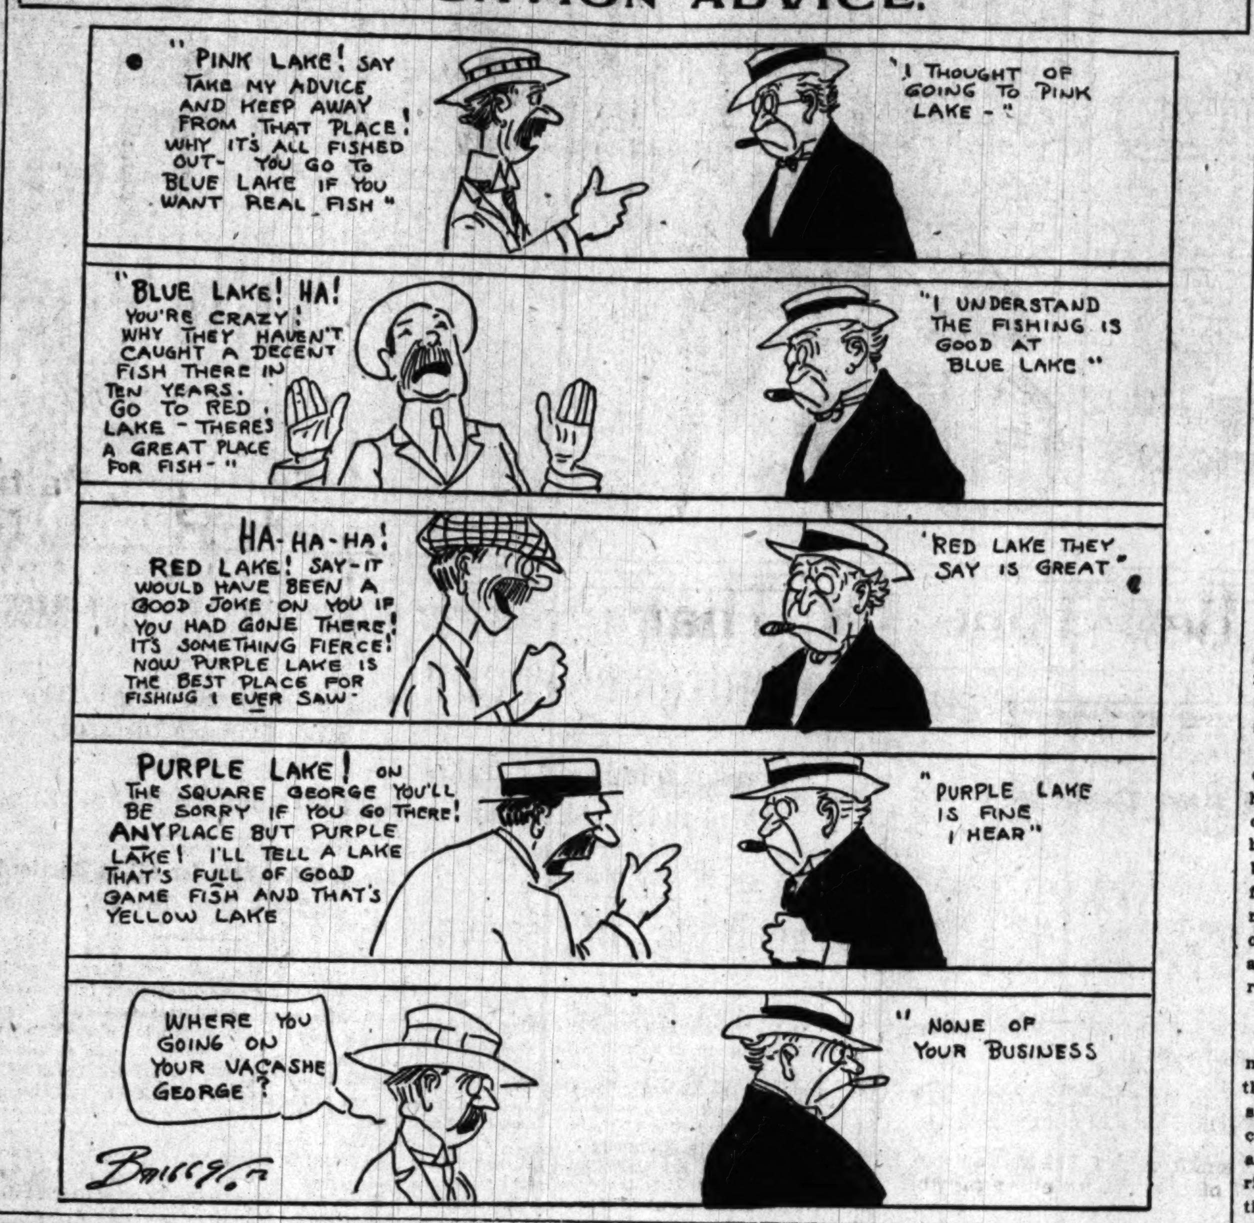

Jack Miller Leads Rally.

Right away Jack Miller started a rally for the Pirates by opening the seventh with a double to left. Wilson laid down a bunt along the third base line and Heine Zim got muddled. He thought he couldn't get the chief at first, so he let the ball roll merrily along the foul line, hoping it would go foul. But it didn't go foul, and while Heine was trotting along with the ball Jack Miller ran up to third base. Heine could have grabbed up the ball and had Miller trapped between the bases. The ball never did go foul, but rolled on fair ground until it bumped into the bag. McCarthy then slapped a grounder to Evers and a double play resulted, but Jack Miller scored on it. Viox was sent up to bat for O'Toole and fanned.

The Cubs had a fine chance to add one in their half of the seventh. Sheckard led off with a single and took third on Schulte's sacrifice. Tinker, however, bounced one to Byrne and Sheckard was trapped and run down between third and home, delaying the tag long enough to allow Tinker to reach third. Robinson tried to pass Heine Zim, but the third pitched ball was within reach and Heine cracked it down by second base, but McCarthy scooped it up and got Heine at first, retiring the side.

Byrne was first up in that terrible eighth and fanned. Carey singled to right and Donlin popped to Tinker. Wagner drew a base on balls, Carey taking second, then Jack Miller followed with his single past Heine Zim, scoring Carey and tying the count. Wagner raced to third on the hit and Chief Wilson followed with his home run wallop, scoring Wagner and Miller ahead of him. McCarthy walked, but Gibson ended the stampede with a pop to Tinker, and the rest of the game was devoted to nothing.

SAM WELLERISMS.

The Cubs left last night for Cincinnati to open a four game series against the Reds today.

Following the games with the Reds, the Cubs will go to Boston, New York, Brooklyn, and Philadelphia, playing eighteen games before they return to the home grounds.

Only one of the eighteen games is a postponed game, a double header being booked at Philadelphia. Four games are scheduled at Boston, three at New York, three at Brooklyn, and four at Philadelphia.

Pitsburgh is he only club in the league that has bested the Cubs so far this season. They have played eighteen games, and the Pirates have won ten of them. Four remain to be played here at the close of the season.

Sheckard made a sparkling running catch of Donlin's long high foul out by the grand stand in the fourth inning. He was about ten feet from the wall and going at top speed when he captured the ball.

Marty O'Toole showed some classy pitching in the fifth inning after his wildness had filled the bases, with only one out. Sheckard was the next batter, and he bounced one to Jack Miller, with the result that a man was forced at the plate. Schulte then ended it with a pop foul to Miller.

Artie Hofman did not come here with the Pirates, and the report was spread that he had quit the game and gone home. Over in Pittsburgh Artie informed us he was going home to rest some more, but might play again in a week or two, and expected to return to the game with as much spirit as ever next season.

Chance's athletes are not in the best shape for the tour, being deprived of the services of Jimmy Archer. James was at the game yesterday on crutches, and may not catch another game this year. Mordecai Brown was the only other member left behind. His lame knee will not permit his playing yet.

Cunningham Named Head Coach.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 4.—Logan Cunningham, who coached the freshman football team at Princeton last year, will be head field coach for the Tiger varsity eleven this fall. He will have full charge of the men in the field, but will work under the advisory system of coaching. "Bill" Roper was head coach last fall but resigned in order to give more attention to his law practice. Capt. "Tal" Pendleton has called on all the old football men to be on hand for work next Monday.

New York Bunches Hits in the Opener and Wins, 5 to 2.

CHALMERS TRIMS LEADERS.

Hurler Returns to Game After Long Layoff and Bests Marquard, 4-2.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4.—New York and Philadelphia broke even today in the first of three successive double headers to be played between the teams. The visitors landed the first game, 5 to 2, and the Phillies won the second, 4 to 2. In the first contest New York won by bunching five doubles, a single, and a pass off Moore's delivery in the second and fifth innings. Tesreau kept his opponents' hits scattered.

In the second Chalmers returned to the game after a long layoff and did excellent work. Marquard was hit for a double by Paskert, two sacrifices, a single by Luderus, and a home run by Walsh in the first inning. These runs decided the game, but Devore contributed another on two muffs after two were out in the sixth inning. Scores:

Single by Hummel Scores Runner on Third in Hurling Duel Between Stack and Dickson.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Hummel's single in the thirteenth with a man on third beat Boston in the greatest pitching duel of the year in Brooklyn, the locals winning 2 to 1. Stack and Dickson allowed only three hits each up to the twelfth inning. Boston scored its run on a triple by Titus and a single by Devlin in the second inning. Brooklyn tied in the ninth on Northen's single and Campbell's fumble of Daubert's single. Score:

TIGERS BURY SOX IN HOT GAME, 12-4

Scott and Douglass Hurl for Locals, but Receive Inferior Support.

WILLETT TIGHT IN PINCH.

Slips by Ens and Weaver Responsible for Lot of Tallies; Collins Poles 3 Hits.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

All in after their tremendous efforts of the day before, with yesterday's heat superimposed, the White Sox and Tigers went through the motions of a ball game on Comiskey park. The Tigers, being better acclimated to the jungle-like atmosphere, made more motions than the Sox did, also more of everything else except errors. Score 12 to 4 the wrong way.

Manager Callahan gave Jim Scott of Wyoming another chance to demonstrate that he can come back, and it was partially successful. Scotty's work showed that he still has much distance to cover before he comes back to form, but it was encouraging as far as it went. In the first inning the Tigers made a base on balls, two hits, and two runs off Scott; in the second they made two hits and two runs; in the third, two hits and one run, and in the fourth one hit and no runs.

Douglass Follows Scott.

This exhibition of progressive improvement satisfied both Callahan and Scott, so the come back pitcher was sent to the shower, and Bill Douglass, the giant recruit from Des Moines, was put through another set of examination papers. The big right hander started off like a whale, retiring three men in a row in the fifth. He achieved the pinnacle of popularity when he crossed Ty Cobb at the start of the sixth and struck out the Georgian. Then his supporters began to weaken, and before the game was over the Tigers were running rings around our boys. In the eighth inning they scored almost at will, in spite of the fact Douglass struck out three men. That seemed the only way to get anybody out.

In spite of all that happened Douglass strengthened the good impression he made in Cleveland a few days ago, and looked particularly good because he did not weaken or let up under adversity. He had good control and did not lapse into the usual beginner's fault of passing batsmen rather than let them hit him.

Ens Tried Out at First.

Ens was tried out on first base and had a tough day of it. He and George Weaver, formerly Buck, made most of the boots behind Douglass, and their slips were responsible for a lot of the runs scored off him. Some day when it is cooler we will figure out just how many of the seven runs scored in the last four innings would have counted if the Sox had backed up Douglass as he deserved. Taking a quick slant at the score sheet it looks as if the Tigers ought to have had only one run off Big Bill.

Jennings sent back at the Sox Edgar Willett, who finished the extra inning combat of Tuesday. Willett was hit freely most of the way, but did his hard work only in the pinches, consequently a lot of Sox hits were wasted. Callahan's men scored one run in the first and another in the second, making two hits in each round.

As the Tigers scored two runs in the first and two more in the second on the same number of swats it was apparent the Sox could get nowhere at that rate of retrogression. Consequently when Ty Cobb robbed Zeider of a beautiful long drive in the third and pulled a double play which sterilized two previous hits the Sox said "O, fudge," or words to that effect, and turned their attention to the score of the Cub-Pirate game.

Not until the ninth inning did the White Sox wake up enough to count again. In that half Ernie Johnson was tossed into the fray to bat for Douglass and stirred things up with a three base hit which even Tyrus Cobbus could not reach. It proved the backbone of two tautological tallies.

Collins Poles Three Hits.

Several athletes accepted the opportunity to swell their batting averages, four of them getting three hits apiece. Collins was the only Sox swatter to clout three safeties. Jones, Cobb, and Bush did it for the visitors. The negative feature of the batting was the failure of Crawford or Mattick to bag a safe one all day.

Scott started coming back by passing Jones in the first. Corriden singled and Crawford struck out. Cobb singled, scoring Jones and driving Corriden to third, from where he rode home on Louden's fly to Collins. Shauno nearly nipped the run at the pan and Cobb went to third on the effort. In a minute Ty started to steal home on Scott, but Easterly tagged him out.

Rath opened the home half with a single and went to second, while Easterly and Lord were being retired. Collins delivered the first of his singles, sending Rath home. Ens whiffed.

The second was much like the first. Weaver's fumble gave Moriarity a life and Bush singled. Kocker bunted them ahead a notch, and Willett scored Moriarity with a fly to Mattick. Jones singled Bush across and stole second himself, but Corriden was third victim.

Zeider led in the local half with a single, made on Weaver's out, stole third, and scored on Easterly's first single. Scott bounded out and Rath walked, only to be forced by Mattick.

The third saw more improvement in Scott. Cobb singled, with one out, and went to second while Weaver was disposing of Louden, and scored on Moriarity's safe wop. The throw let George go to second, where he was caught off balance by a pass from Scott.

Cobb Starts Double Play.

Lord led in our half with a single and Collins duplicated it. Ens struck out again, but Zeider rammed a long drive to the left of center. Cobb ran back and pinched it, then doubled up Lord, who started with the pitch and was far over third when Cobb overtook the ball. That was where the Sox went out of business. They made only three hits off Willett in the next five innings, during which the Tigers accumulated an unbeatable lead.

Scott blanked the Tigers in the fourth with the help of a Weaver double play, then gave up his job to Douglass. The younger and larger gunner began at the top of the Tiger batting list and got rid of Jones, Corriden, and Crawford with ease. He struck out Cobb in the fifth amid loud yelps but fortune smiled the other way thereafter. Ens missed a crooked bounder from Louden, who stole second, went to third on Moriarity's demise, and scored on Bush's single.

In the seventh with one down Jones singled and Corriden poked out a double. These swats were wasted when Jones tried to sneak a couple of steps on Crawford's fly to Lord. Davy beat the throw home all right, but was declared out for leaving third too soon when the Sox made the claim.

The eighth was a mess. 'Ens' muff of a swift throw from Weaver gave Cobb a life. Louden's fast roller skittered through Weaver untouched and Moriarty dumped a Texas leaguer into short center. Cobb scored and Louden reached third. Bush struck out. Kocher doubled, sending in two more runs. Willett struck out. Jones singled, driving in Kocher and making second on the peg home. Davy then stole third and kept on to the plate because Easterly's throw went to left field. Corriden struck out, being the third to whiff in that round.

Errors Give Tigers Tally.

Cobb's single and steal, Weaver's low throw of Louden's rap, and a slow thinking play by Ens gave Detroit its twelfth tally in the ninth. Easterly copped his second single in the last half. Johnson whaled a three bagger to center, scoring Ted. Rath beat out a bunt on which Johnson stuck to third. Mattick lined to Louden and a double play was escaped. Lord's fly let Johnson count, then Collins struck out.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Cleveland here today.

The White Sox lost a chance to gain on Philadelphia yesterday, but seem unable to get farther than one game away from the 500 mark.

Part of the White Sox being in Monroe, Wis., under the management of Kid Gleason, relieved some of the congestion in the home coop.

The orphaned Naps, under the guardianship of Joe Birmingham, are booked for a series of four games lasting through Sunday and winding up their year's work here.

The groundkeeper must have gone to Monroe with the second team. When the strap that anchors first base broke in the ninth Manager Callahan trotted out with a new anchor and performed the necessary operation.

Polly McLarry, the first baseman purchased from the Austin club of the Texas league, was disposed of yesterday to the Lincoln team of the Western league. He has had less experience than either Borton or Ens, the other candidates for first base.

Cleveland has three recruits in its regular lineup—Chapman of Toledo at short, Johnston of New Orleans at first, and Hunter of Flint in the outfield. Three more rookies are expected to join the Naps in Chicago. They are Outfielder Hendryx from New Orleans, Pitcher Brenner from Racine, and Infielder Kibble from Portland, Ore.

Ens could have stopped Cobb at the plate in the ninth inning. Ty was on third with one down when Moriarity hit a sharp bounder to Ens. Instead of pegging directly home he waited to touch first base and then his throw was too late to get Cobb. With the score wide open Ens did well to make sure of one man, for at that time everybody wanted to get home to dinner.

COLLINS IS A PUZZLE.

Gandil, with Single and Triple, Only Visitor Able to Hit Ball Effectively.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—Washington lost to the league leaders, 6 to 2, in the opening game of a series which will have an important effect upon the Senators' chances. Manager Griffith sent a relay of four young pitchers against Boston, but with poor results. Collins, for the Red Sox, was in fine form and received gilt-edged support.

The locals clinched the game in the second inning when they piled up four runs. Two passes which Engel gave among four hits assisted in the scoring. Gallia, who succeeded Engel, was also wild; Musser, who followed, was both wild and ineffective, Boston scoring two runs off him and Herring, who finished, showed little. Gandil knocked in both of the Washington runs with a triple and a single. Score:

Three Bagger with Bases Loaded Breaks Up Game, Giving Yankees Six to One Victory.

New York, Sept. 4.—New York hit Coombs hard and won easily, 6 to 1. Daniels broke up the game in the sixth when he tripled with three on bases. Chase's hitting, a wonderful stop by Barry, and a great catch by Lelivelt were the features. Lelivelt robbed Baker of a home run in the eighth, with two on the bases, when he jumped into the air and pulled down a drive with one hand. Score:

FOUR CHICAGOANS GOLF SURVIVORS

Paul Hunter, Phelps, Evans, and Wood Reach Third Round for Title.

WALDO IS AMONG LOSERS

PAIRINGS FOR TODAY.

Mason Phips	v s.	Jerome Travers
Paul Hunter	v s.	H. Kerr
Charles Evans Jr.	v s.	H. Schmidt
W. K. Wood	v s.	N. F. Hunter

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Four Chicagoans survived the second round of match play in the national amateur golf championship at the Chicago Golf club yesterday. They were Mason Phelps and Paul Hunter of the Midlothian Country club, Warren K. Wood of the Homewood Country club, and Charles Evans Jr. of the Edgewater Golf club.

The four other survivors are Norman Hunter of Scotland, Henrich Schmidt of Worcester, the Massachusetts champion; Hamilton Kerr of Ekwanok, the Vermont champion; Jerome Travers of Upper Montclair, the Metropolitan champion.

C. Gilbert Waldo of Brooklawn, the Connecticut champion, who defeated Champion Harold Hilton in the first round, was painted out of the picture, and the other seven losers all were former national, state, city, or intercollegiate champions.

Three of the victorious artists used vigorous splashes of the elimination paint, the other five being a little more sparing. Only two matches reached the home green, and both these were finely fought.

Travers and Evans Favorites.

Of the eight survivors, Jerome Travers and Charles Evans, who are in different halves of the draw, are the favorites, but all four matches today should be close. Travers will meet Mason Phelps, twice western champion and one of the best fighters in the west. Paul Hunter will meet Hamilton Kerr, and, judging from their play of yesterday, this should be a hot battle. Evans, who will meet Schmidt, the Massachusetts champion, has had more tournament experience than the easterner, but the sturdy little player from Worcester Polytechnic has shown remarkable nerve so far.

Warren Wood is picked from Hunter, especially if the weather keeps as warm as it was yesterday. Hunter was indisposed yesterday, and as he feels he cannot perform properly without a coat on he plods around the course and perspires. He evidently was tired yesterday, and several times sat down on the greens while waiting for his opponent to putt. He played better golf in the afternoon, but Wood was in better form.

Wood Easily Beats Fownes.

The Homewood crack made amends for his defeat by Fownes in the final at Brookline in 1910. The Pittsburgher won then 4 and 3, but yesterday Wood came home with a margin of 7 and 6.

The meeting of the two Metropolitan stars was easily the feature match of the day. It marked their fourth contest in the amateur championship. In 1905 they met in the third round at Englewood and Travis won 3 and 2. They clashed next in the semi-finals at Garden City in 1908 and Travers won 2 up. Last year at Apawamis the luck of the draw brought them together in the short first round and Travers won 3 and 2. Altogether they have met in eight or nine tournaments. Travers was one of the first of the younger players to take the measure of the Garden City wizard, who for a number of seasons had the youngsters beaten almost before they started.

The two T's were the magnet for the gallery and the fans who braved the heat saw some remarkable golf. It was a nip and tuck battle in the morning and in the afternoon, when Travers began to shoot all over the shop from the tee, it looked as if the veteran would win.

Travers Takes Five Holes.

The younger player then used good judgment in forsaking his wooden clubs and after Travis had taken three holes in a row, Travers accomplished the feat of taking five straight with a run of 6 5, 3, 6 2. This kind of golf is of the brand known as unbeatable, all mistakes barred.

A hot sun beat on the players all day long and the course again was fast. There was not enough breeze to affect the scoring.

The morning play indicated the final results, with one exception. Norman Hunter being the only player who was down at feeding time to win in the afternoon.

Travis and Travers.

Travis and Travers, whose play is about as close as their names, had a close battle in the morning, the latter leading 1 up when they adjourned for lunch. Travis put his second for the first hole in to a bunker and pitched his next into the bunker guarding the green. Travers had two for the hole and won, 5—6. Par fours followed at the next two holes.

At the fourth hole Travers sliced into a pit and he lost, 5—4. The sixth hole, 500 yards, went to Travis, who holed a thirty-five foot for a win, 4—3, one under par. Travers sliced his tee shot for the eighth hole into a bunker and lost, 5—4. At the pond hole Travis splashed and Travers won, 3—5.

This left the veteran 1 up at the turn, but he lost this advantage at the tenth hole by sliding his drive into a bunker. Travers stymied himself on a four foot downhill putt at the twelfth hole and lost, 6—5. A twelve foot putt gave Travers the fourteenth hole, 3—4, and put him on even terms. Travis overdrove the short sixteenth and found the pit, but got a clever half in 5. Travis was too strong on his second for the seventeenth hole and lost, 5—4. Par fours followed at the home hole. Cards:

Travis—Out	5	4	4	4	4	4	4	4	5—38
Travers—Out	5	4	4	5	4	4	4	5	5—39
Travis—In	4	5	5	5	4	4	3	5	4—40—78
Travers—In	3	5	6	5	3	4	3	4	4—37—76

Travers played remarkably fine golf in the afternoon his thirty-five on the out coind being the best mark of the tournament. He was wild with his wooden club, and at the fifth hole he took his iron for his tee shots and did much better. The metropolitan champion beat Travis at his own game of putting.

Short approaches cost Travers the second and third holes in the afternoon and he dropped the next. 3—4, putting Travis 2 up. For the next five holes Travers played almost unbeatable golf. He won the fifth hole 3—4 with a twelve foot putt. At the long sixth they both reached the green in 3. Travis had the closer approach, but missed a short putt and lost, 5—5. A twelve foot gave Travers the next hole 3—4, and another long putt gave him the eighth hole 3—4. At the ninth he pitched his tee shot dead and won 3—2, having taken four straight from the veteran. This left Travers 3 up at the twenty-seventh hole.

Travers found the rough on his drive for the tenth hole, but got a half in 5. At the long eleventh both missed putts for fours. Travers again found the rough at the twelfth hole, but Travis took three putts and lost 5—4. Travers 4 up and 6 to play. A good approach and a five foot putt gave Travis the fourteenth hole 3—4.

The veteran sunk a twenty foot putt on the sixteenth green, and Travers missed from ten feet. At the seventeenth hole Travis drove into a bunker and was out short on his second. Travers only needed a half and got it easily, winning 2 and 1. Cards:

Travis—Out	4	4	4	4	4	6	4	4	4—38
Travers—Out	4	4	5	5	5	3	3	3	2—37
Travis—In	5	5	5	5	3	4	3	2	5

MOTOR OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE RULES FOR MILWAUKEE MEET.

Strict Regulations Will Be Enforced to Avoid AccidentsVanderbilt Race to Be Decided on Sept. 21.

BY REED L. PARKER.

Rules for the protection of drivers and spectators at the Vanderbilt and Grand Prize cup races to be held in Milwaukee from Sept. 17 to 21 were announced yesterday. The regulations are so strict that a repetition of the slaughter attendant to the 1910 Vanderbilt at Long Island seems impossible.

The course will be closed at 10 o'clock on the night preceding each race. Only those equipped with military passes will be permitted on the road after that hour. A regiment of state militia and hordes of special police and deputy sheriffs will preserve order. The Grand Prize race will be held on Tuesday. No one will be permitted to enter the course until 6 o'clock on the morning of the race.

The ticket office will be opened at that hour and guides will aid the crowd to seek seats, parking spaces, and boxes. Occupants of parking spaces must be at their stations by 9:45 o'clock. At 10 o'clock a squadron of motorcycle police will clear the course. The task of herding the spectators within the lines is expected to be accomplished by 10 o'clock, when the race will start.

On Friday, Sept. 20, the Pabst Blue Ribbon and Wisconsin Motor challenge trophy will be run. The course for the two light car races will be cleared by 12 o'clock. The Pabst race is 220 miles, the Wisconsin challenge clash 175 miles. Warning bombs and regular arrangements will be similar in relation to starting time to those of the Grand Prize.

The Vanderbilt cup race will close the speed carnival on Saturday, Sept. 21. The race will start at 11 o'clock in the morning. The distance is about 300 miles and will require about five hours.

Arrangements for hospital service have been placed in charge of Chief Surgeon M. L. Henderson. He is organizing a large staff. Four hospitals will be erected. They will be situated one to each leg of the course. Each hospital will have two surgeons, two assistants, two nurses, and a motor ambulance.

ENGLISHMEN LIFT MOTOR BOAT CUP

Edgar's Maple Leaf IV. Takes Third and Deciding Contest for Trophy.

RELIANCE III. SECOND.

Huntington, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The Royal Motor Yacht club of England today lifted the Harmsworth trophy. In the most spectacular race since the Americans brought the trophy across the Atlantic five years ago the British built hydroplane Maple Leaf IV. won the deciding race of the series on Huntington bay this afternoon.

It covered the thirty mile course in 47:46 defeating the only American entry then running, Baby Reliance III., by 1:05. Another of the American defenders, the thirty-two foot Ankle Deep, had led the race by about half a mile for twenty-five miles, when, in sight of goal, the propeller snapped off.

The remaining pair furnished an exciting race, but American hopes were severely set back by Ankle Deep's mishap and when Maple Leaf finally scored its triumph, the second in successive days, it was a stunning blow to the patriotic enthusiasts. Sportsmanship asserted itself, however, and the British victor, its crew, and owner, E. Mackay Edgar, were cheered by those aboard countless yachts assembled near the finish.

Maple Leaf's speed was at a rate of 37.11 knots, or 42.68 statute miles an hour.

Five boats, three American and two British, started in the race. Baby Reliance II., owned by Mrs. J. Stuart Blackton, aided by no small amount of luck, had won the first race last Saturday and both Maple Leaf IV. and Mona finished ahead of the American yesterday.

The only boat other than the winner to finish today was the Baby Reliance III., owned by Commodore Blackton, which covered the course in 48:51, or at an average speed of 27.69 knots or 31.84 miles an hour. Ankle Deep, before its mishap, had maintained a speed of 41.29 miles. Baby Reliance II. and the British boat, Mona, both broke down on the third lap.

DAZZLE PATCH SETS RECORD.

Son of World's Champion Pacer Goes Half Mile in :59½ at Great Western Meeting.

Hamline, Minn., Sept. 4.—Dazzle Patch, owned by M. W. Savage of Savage, Minn., and the 2 year old pacing son of Dan Patch, world's champion pacer, in the feature event of the day's Great Western races here made a mark of :59½ for the half mile, which is claimed as the best time ever officially made by a 2 year old pacer. Dazzle Patch has an unofficial record of :59 and will attempt to make a lower mark on Friday, when George Gano and Minor Heir also will attempt to lower the pacing team record of 2:02¾, now held by Lady Maud C. and Hedgewood Boy. Dazzle Patch was paced by a runner.

Picaroon and Prairie Game in the 2:21 trot had the hardest brush of the afternoon. Picaroon won by taking the fifth heat, in which Mount Hurst and Gremona were distanced, third and fourth moneys reverting to the association.

In the 2:26 pace over the half mile track, won by Wiley Custer, Caler O., with Driver Paul up, stuck his foot through Skylight's sulky in an attempt to get the pole on the turn. Paul was slightly injured about the head and Caler O. probably will be out for several days. Summaries:

Knight Onward Wins Three Miles by Some Distance.

SECOND GOES TO MANSFIELD.

Sir R. Takes Free for All at Hartford Track from The Eel.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 4.—Grand Circuit racing in the Connecticut state fair started this afternoon at Charter Oak park. The track was out of commission since Monday owing to the heavy rain. It was so bad in spots today that the $10,000 trot, the classic event of the meet, was put over until Thursday.

The 2:10 pace was won in straight heats by Knight Onward, and the free for all pace developed into an interesting contest between The Eel and Sir R., the latter finally winning.

In the 2:10 pace Knight Onward had things all his own way. Manedeid pushed the fleet footed stallion in all three heats, and in none was beaten by more than a neck. Denver Jay had third place easily.

In the free for all The Eel was favorite and won the initial heat. It looked like a contest between the favorite and Don Dennmore. The tables were turned in the second heat, when Sir R. swept from the field in the stretch and shot past The Eel just as the wire was reached. The same trick was repeated in the final heat.

Tomorrow's program will include the $10,000 Charter Oak stake, the 2:20 trot for 3 year olds, and the 2:30 Juvenile trot. Summaries:

JOHN G. FINISHES FIRST IN FEATURE

Ancient Looking Nag Takes Event with Ease at Libertyville Track.

MR. ROSS ALSO A WINNER.

BY HENRY TEN EYCK WHITE.

The Lake county fair, while not as much of a social function as in former years, opened to a good crowd at Libertyville yesterday. No attractions other than two trotting races and two events for runners were on the card. Today there will be an extensive and well planned show of trotting and stock, that department of the fair being under the management of John R. Thompson of Chicago. The most interesting of the exhibits are Suffolk Punch stallions and mares owned by Samuel Insull of Chicago.

The trotting races were a special for Lake county horses and a 2:25 class. In the former event John G., an ancient looking nag of small pretensions as to beauty, driven by his owner, a venerable resident of Waukegan, was in front all the way in 2:48¼, 2:45, 2:48¾. He finished with an ease that betokened reserve speed had the field contained anything of his class.

Five Nags in 2:25 Trot.

The 2:25 trot brought out a well matched field of five, and although Mr. Ross won in straight heats the others were after him all the time. In the second heat Irish Lad led until within a few yards of the wire, when a rush by Mr. Ross sent him to a break. Irish Lad, being double gaited, had troubles of his own in scoring, but once he got away flat footed he showed plenty of speed.

Irish Lad's driver, a negro, argued with the judges about the placing of Counts ahead of his in the second heat, claiming that horse had done a good deal of running, and the same complaint was made on behalf of Steadfast L after the fifth mile, in which Counts made two breaks and lost. Steadfast only a little for the place. The judges, however, did not act on the suggestion that Counts be set back for his work. Steadfast L. is a 4 year old son of Loyal, which was a member of the Geers stable a few seasons ago, and acts like the making of a good trotter. Summaries:

The running races were a dash of five-eighths of a mile and another at a mile. In the short race Benny L. was the victor in 1:10, with Seattle second, Kingfisher third, Pinola fourth, and Mary Boy fifth. Sylvia won the mile dash in 1:43, beating Buttons one city block, with Seattle, the official starter, on the horizon's purple rim when the race was reached.

Three harness races and some runs are on today, and in the trots and paces large fields of good horses are carded.

WHEAT ADVANCES; MART OVERSOLD

Wet Weather in Canada and Firm Liverpool Cables Are Chief Bull Factors.

SEPTEMBER CORN STRONG

Cash Sales of All Cereals Liberal; Hog Products Under Pressure.

Continued cool, wet weather in Canada, with predictions for general rains in this country, helped check the selling of wheat, and there was enough new buying, with covering by shorts, yesterday to give prices net advances of ⅜@⅝c. Aside from the weather news, a fair cash demand was reported, which was a bull help, while the relative firmness at Liverpool and the sharp advance at Paris on the heavy rains in France also were influences. To offset the bull factors receipts continued heavy, and from now on there promises to be no letup in the movement of spring wheat.

Total primary arrivals were 1,979,000 bu, against 1,244,000 bu a year ago. Local run was 576 cars, with 297 cars inspected yesterday. In the northwest arrivals were 849 cars; last year, 531 cars. Minneapolis stocks, however, only increased 15,000 bu for four days.

Large Cash Sales Reported.

The cash trade was good, and there were sales of 340,000 bu, a large percentage of which was winter wheat for export. While exporters are reporting a slow inquiry, sales recorded every day for export indicate there is some business doing. It is also understood there is considerable business being done in spring wheats. Ocean freight rates are at prohibitive figures in many instances, with room hard to get. Minneapolis reported heavy flour sales. No. 1 northern at Minneapolis was quoted 1@2c premium over the September.

Southwestern cash markets were firm and a little higher for both hard and soft wheats. Country offerings were reported a little smaller. Local mills are doing a good business, and all mills in the northwest are said to have made big sales recently.

Frosts in Western Canada.

Frosts were reported in western Canada, and lower temperatures again were predicted, with the forecast for continued showery weather all over the spring wheat country. In this country most of the wheat has been secured, but the weather is decidedly unfavorable for the Canadian harvest. Private estimates indicate a Canadian crop of about 200,000,000 bu. Liverpool was ¼d up to ¼d off, larger and cheaper offerings of Canadian and Russian wheat being offset by the bad weather in France and the good demand for parcels of American wheat. Paris was ⅜@¾c higher; Antwerp, unchanged; Berlin, ⅝c off; and Budapest, ⅜c off. World's stocks decreased 1,566,000 bu, compared to a decrease of 720,000 bu a year ago.

September Corn Acts Light.

Corn was strong, especially the September, in which there were more indications of congestion. Shorts were free buyers of all months, the predictions for lower temperatures inducing some buying of the May. Final quotations were ⅜@¾c to 1⅝c up. Generally crop reports were of an encouraging kind, and, aside from the possibility of frost damage to the late corn, the outlook is regarded as extremely favorable.

The cash demand was good and there were sales of 260,000 bu, with sample prices ⅜@1c higher. Offerings from the country were moderate, and the current receipts are being applied on old sales, so there does not promise to be much of any increase in stocks. Outside cash markets were firm and higher. Receipts were 872 cars, with 374 cars inspected yesterday. Receipts in the west were 880,000 bu; last year, 931,000 bu. Cables were unchanged to ⅜d up, the firmness being due to expected smaller Argentine shipments.

Firmer Tone in Oats.

Oats prices closed ¼@⅜@⅝c higher. The strength in corn, with a good demand for spot oats helped firm up prices. Cash prices were ¼@½c higher and cash sales were 515,000 bu. Country offerings were moderate, but receipts are expected to continue heavy. Weather conditions were unfavorable and further rains were predicted. Receipts here were 951 cars, with 478 cars estimated for today. Primary receipts were 1,698,000 bu, against 613,000 bu a year ago.

Provisions Lack Support.

Hog products were firm early and weak at the close. Bullish statistics, with a big reduction in world's lard stocks during August, with the small receipts at the yards, were the early bull factors. Packers were credited with buying early, but later the support was poor and prices eased off sharply. Local receipts were 20,000, with 15,000 the estimate for today. Western receipts were 61,000, or about 20,000 less than a year ago. Hogs at the yards were unchanged to 5c up. Deliveries were 2,000 brls pork, 1,750 tcs lard, and 50,000 lbs ribs. Receipts of product were 34 cars; shipments, 98 cars.

Rye Prices Weaken.

Rye prices were steady to a shade lower, with sales of No. 2 at 67½@68c and of No. 3 at 63@65c. Receipts were 14 cars.

Barley was firm to 1c higher, with better grades showing the appreciation. Malting closed at 55@ 65c; feed, 40@55c; screenings, 30@38c. Receipts, 81 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at $3.50@4.50 for cash and $5.10 for contract. All futures were $4.25 bid and $4.75 sellers. Clover seed was firm at $13.00@ $1.60 for cash lots.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Notwithstanding reports that export business is out of the question, sales of No. 2 hard winter wheat are reported for export today, and it is understood there is quite a little business being done in spring wheats from Duluth, although no noise is being made about it. The milling demand is fair and sales yesterday from here were 340,000 bu. Most of the wheat sold was said to be for export. Some local brokers reported recent buyers offering to resell cheaper than the wheat could be sold from here. Minneapolis mills were good buyers of wheat, and there were large flour sales reported from there, all the mills doing a good business. At St. Louis both hard and soft wheat was reported ½c higher. Country offerings of winter wheat are beginning to show signs of dropping off.

Bradstreet's report of the available supply last week shows the following increases:

A marked tightening up of the cash market was a feature of the corn trade. Country offerings were moderate, and receipts here, while liberal, are being applied on old sales. The cash market was reported ½@1c higher here and there were sharp advances at outside markets. Shippers again were reported fair buyers of the September and that future showed signs of increasing congestion. Local sales were 265,000 bu. Oats were ¼@⅜c higher, with a good demand, sales being 515,000 bu, with 100,000 bu of this for export. The country is not selling oats as freely as expected.

Following is a view of the northwest situation as wired to Sincere & Co.: "Wheat is safe for the largest crop ever raised in the northwestern states, although Canada's crop can still be harmed in the far north by frost. It has been a cold summer and everything is maturing late. As this bumper crop follows two rather light ones, the farmers will need money and are likely to sell their grain freely at the present favorable prices. Consequently I do not believe there can be any permanent advance until after the heavy receipts in the northwest are marketed."

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were unchanged to ¼c lower; corn, steady to 2c higher; oats, unchanged to ⅜c higher; rye, ½c higher.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 297 cars; corn, 374 cars; oats, 478 cars; rye, 14 cars; barley, 24 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

Deliveries on September contracts were 2,000 brls of pork, 1,750 tcs of lard, and 50,000 lbs of short ribs.

STARTS INQUIRY INTO OVERCROWDING OF TRAIN.

Assistant General Passenger Agent of Grand Trunk to Investigate Reports of Women Fainting.

Investigation of the report that eighty-three passengers were compelled to stand for hours in the aisles of crowded cars while six women and one man fainted on a through Grand Trunk passenger train which arrived in Chicago two hours late Sunday night was started yesterday by J. D. McDonald, assistant general passenger agent.

J. G. Sherman, manager of the Davis Engineering company, who returned on the train, charged in THE TRIBUNE that although there was not an available seat in Pullman or day coaches after the train left Marcellus, Mich., the crew continued to take on passengers, who suffered in the suffocating atmosphere.

Mr. McDonald admitted passenger traffic has been heavy on west bound trains since the first of the month on account of the number of persons returning from eastern summer resorts and that every seat has been taken on a number of occasions, but declared he had no knowledge of conditions such as those described by Mr. Sherman.

"It would be difficult to regulate the number of coaches in order to handle this unusual traffic," he said. "It will continue until about the tenth of the month, it being practically impossible to take on additional coaches at intermediate points.

"Conditions on Sunday night were probably worse than usual because the through train made local stops, as the local trains do not run on that day. I have ordered an investigation, although I have a voluntary letter from a passenger who wrote that he was on the same train but saw so crowding."

PIG IRON ACTIVITY KEEPS UP; FURTHER ADVANCES IN PRICES

Foundry Requirements for This Year Greater Than Was Estimated Two Months Ago.

New York, Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The Iron Age will say tomorrow:

"Activity in pig iron at further advances in prices is still the outstanding feature of the market, and cautionary expressions are coming out there that heretofore have only been considered necessary in finished steel. Blast furnace companies after a profit famine of over four years are not disposed yet, however, to see any cause for alarm in the price.

"The week has shown no slackening in the buying of foundry iron in some markets; particularly in the central west it has increased. Northern furnaces, which have long been out of line with southern prices, have made further advances of 25 to 50 cents a ton, generally the latter figure, and for the most part are on a level nearly $1 higher than that of late July.

"Foundry requirements of pig iron for this year are now seen to be much greater than was estimated two months ago. Many furnaces are fully sold up for 1912, and still the unsatisfied needs of melters appear large. Much of the heavy buying for next year is plainly inspired by conditions which point to further price advances.

"Our blast furnace statistics of Sept. 1 show that while production of pig iron was 100,000 tons more last month than in July, it was then only equal to the May output, and fell below that of June. The total was 2,512,431 tons, or 81,046 tons a day, against 2,410,889 tons, or 77,738 tons a day in July, when high heat and humidity were a handicap in all districts."

LEASE LEADS TO BIG IMPROVEMENT

Store, Office, and Theater Buildings to Be Erected at Dearborn and Division.

$100,000 LOAN IS SECURED.

Deal to Result in $135,000 Apartment House at Drexel and Hyde Park Boulevards.

Immediate improvement of the property at the northwest corner of Dearborn avenue and East Division street with two story buildings, comprising two stores, twelve offices, and a theater, representing an aggregate cost of about $80,000, will follow the closing of a ninety-nine year lease yesterday between George J. Williams of Elmhurst and Percival W. Jones, a builder. The buildings will be white terra cotta.

The ground is 100x149 feet. The rent is on a basis of $2,750 a year, representing a valuation of 5 per cent on $55,000, or $550 a front foot. Mr. Jones, the lessee, is required to pay all taxes and erect buildings to cost not less than $25,000, to be ready for occupancy not later than Sept. 1, 1913. The buildings are to go to the lessor at the end of the term. The lessee has an option to purchase the ground for $55,000 at any time before Sept. 1, 1942. John B. De Voney & Co. represented both parties.

Buys Flats for Children.

Nelson Landon Hoyt of Winnetka, a director of W. M. Hoyt & Co., wholesale grocers, has purchased from John W. Sturtevant the eighteen apartment building at the northwest corner of Grand boulevard and Thirty-eighth street as a present to his children, William M. Hoyt II. and Sarah Elizabeth Hoyt, to each of whom he has given an undivided one-half interest. The lot occupied by the building runs 100 feet to Calumet avenue. The consideration is not given. It was subject to an incumbrance of $48,500. In part payment Mr. Hoyt gave the apartment building and ground 38x120 feet at 1223-1227 West Forty-sixth street.

Henry J. Tillia of Des Moines has quitclaimed to Solomon H. Goldberg title to the leasehold estate and buildings at the southwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and East Forty-first street, 102x90 feet, subject to an incumbrance of $14,000.

F. H. Bartlett & Co. have sold to Ignatz Neumann the property at the northwest corner of Western avenue and Jackson boulevard, improved with a three story brick and stone building containing four stores and fourteen flats, for a reported consideration of $60,000, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000. In part payment Mr. Neumann conveyed to William P. Haughton, who took title for Bartlett & Co., the residence property at 5137 Michigan avenue. The balance was cash. Charles T. Gilbert of Baird & Warner represented Bartlett & Co. and Mr. Jacobson represented Mr. Neumann.

$100,000 Loan Secured.

Charles H. Kusel has given a trust deed to the Chicago Title and Trust company on the property at the northeast corner of Drexel and Hyde Park boulevards, 100x221 feet, to secure a loan of $100,000 for ten years at 5½ per cent. Mr. Kusel plans to erect a fifteen apartment building of seven, eight, and nine rooms, to cost approximately $135,000. The land is valued at $50,000.

Alexander Belfeld and Morris Hirsch have sold to Samuel Spira the two story and basement mercantile building at 2875-2877 Milwaukee avenue, 46x125 feet, for a reported consideration of $35,000. D. Geliebter & Co. negotiated the deal. J. M. Laubenthal and Eugene F. Kline of Felsenthal & Beckwith attended to the legal details.

Asher R. Gluck has sold to W. A. Whitcomb of Bloomington, Ill., the store and flat property 72x92 feet in Huron street, 24 feet west of Ada street, for a consideration of $30,000, subject to an incumbrance of $8,000.

De Forrest A. Matteson, the builder, has sold to Emanuel Leavitt of the Henry Horner company the new fifteen apartment building with 180x54 feet of ground at the southwest corner of Jackson boulevard and South Spaulding avenue for $47,725. A nine apartment building at 120-124 South Spaulding avenue with a lot 75x110 feet, valued at $25,000, was given as part payment. C. E. Grip & Co. represented both parties. The same brokers have resold the nine flat building for Mr. Matteson to Milton S. Plotke for $25,000 cash.

More Deals in Flats.

Charles Kiper, who recently acquired the property at the southwest corner of Van Buren and Morgan streets from the estate of Calvin De Wolf, has purchased from James M. Taft the property adjoining, 94x180 feet, 136 feet west of Morgan street, for $30,000 and other valuable consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000.

MONEY RELEASED FOR CROP MOVING

Heavy Shipments to Interior, Coupled with Subtreasury Demands, Excite Concern.

IMPORTATIONS INCREASE.

July Shows 20 Per Cent Excess Over Exports, Giving European Balance.

Bankers are showing some concern over the daily reports of currency shipments to the interior and transactions between the associated banks of New York and the subtreasury in the east. The August report of local currency movements, published yesterday, was satisfactory, showing smaller excess of shipments than had been anticipated.

The New York banks reported yesterday that since Friday the loss to the subtreasury had reached $3,500,000. Should this rate continue the loss shown in the Saturday bank statement would be close to that of a week ago, although there is yet no indication of such large Canadian withdrawals. The week's loss to date shows that the crop moving shipments are already well under way.

In addition to the large funds required for the crops there are certain definite demands on the banks created by expanding business. All this goes to tighten money and indicate a period of marking time in the investment market. Fortunately there are not large interests requiring liquidation.

More Manufactures Imported.

A favorable feature of international trade is the considerable American balance that is being built up in Europe, making easy the importation of gold that the banks may find necessary in the fall.

So far as the seven months' balance is concerned there has been a noteworthy excess of imports, with goods for manufacturing in the lead. This is due partly to the larger buying by American manufacturers and jobbers started at a time when tariff agitation was severe, and was in the form of insurance.

As a result of this and other causes the importations through July were close to 20 per cent more than in 1911, with exports showing an increase of only 12 per cent or so. With allowance for the manufactures the variance is not marked. The seven months' figures follow:

Sears Earnings at Record.

A rumor originating in New York that Sears, Roebuck & Co. is contemplating extraordinary plant additions in prospect of largely increased business through the parcels post is called unfounded by one of the leading interests in the mail order house.

"Nothing of the sort is contemplated at this time," he said. "The company is doing remarkably well, showing in August something more than the normal increase of the past years, but so far we are not making any preparations for an increase due to the parcels post. I do not feel sure that it will exert any particular influence."

At the current rate the company will show net earnings of around $8,000,000 and a $4,500,000 surplus. It is on this that recent rumors have been based.

A director offered as evidence of the company's prosperity the following monthly table, showing in the seven months' aggregate an improvement of more than 25 per cent over the corresponding period of 1911:

	1912.	Net inc.	Pct. gain.

It is announced securities auction sales will be held each Tuesday at the office of F. J. Lelman & Co. The aim is to establish something of a market for inactive securities, similar to that in various eastern cities.

An offering of $600,000 Marshall Butters Lumber company [Lansing, Mich.] 6 per cent bonds, dated July 1, 1912, is announced by Devitt, Tremble & Co. The bonds are secured by first lien and mature at six months periods from July, 1914, to January, 1924.

MONEY GROWS AS A MARKET FACTOR

Most Noteworthy Feature of Dull and Irregular Day in New York.

CALL LOANS 4 PER CENT.

Time Rates Go Higher; Business of Equipment Companies Booming.

New York, Sept. 4.—The most noteworthy feature of today's dull and irregular stock market was the growing importance of money as a factor.

For a time the list gave signs of an inclination to shake off the heaviness of the previous day, although opening prices were generally lower, but this was followed by a buying movement and short covering which soon established gains of a point or more in some of the most representative issues.

In the early afternoon when call loans were quoted at 4 per cent and time rates went higher, the market sagged until little was left of the rise, except in certain of the higher priced specialties, notably the tobaccos, which repeated some of the former spectacular performances.

The most cheerful note sounded during the day was contained in a statement dealing with the operations of the leading equipment companies, showing steady increase of business. Earnings of these companies for the first half of the current year are well ahead of the entire previous year.

Private advices from Berlin, where private discounts were again higher, indicate an early advance in the bank rate.

The bond market was again heavy, with pressure against some of the traction issues. Total sales [par value] were $1,850,000.

United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call strong, 3½@4 per cent; ruling rate, 3¾; closing bid, 3⅞; offered at 4. Time loans, strong; sixty days, 4¼@4½ per cent, and ninety days, 4¾@5 per cent; six months, 5 per cent. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 5½ per cent. Sterling exchange weak at 4.8365 for sixty day bills and at 4.8655 for demand. Bar silver, 62⅝c. Mexican dollars, 48½c. Government bonds, steady. Railroad bonds, easy.

Chicago Stock Market.

American Can preferred was up a half point on the local stock exchange yesterday on favorable reports of prospects and earnings. The common, with Shipbuilding common, sold down at the opening, but the latter rallied on later trading. Pneumatic Tool sold down a fraction and Illinois Brick gained a fraction on the usual market rumors. In bonds everything was quiet save with Ogden Gas, which sold down on minor trading, selling coming from the same interests which were buying a few weeks ago. Quotations:

Spring Chickens Lose 1 Cent; Turkeys Drop 5 Cents.

SWEET POTATOES FIRMER.

Floods in the East Interfere with Arrivals from Virginia.

Live and dressed spring chickens and turkeys were in excessive supply at Chicago yesterday and sales of the latter were made at a decline of 5c a pound, while chickens suffered a loss of 1c. There also were good receipts of aged fowls, but the speculators and dressers bought them up at former prices.

Creamery butter met with a good inquiry at Tuesday's advance, while dairies were slow and easy at unchanged figures. Receipts were 14,871 tubs. Eggs were unchanged and sold fairly at the prices, with receipts of 14,158 cases.

Receipts of potatoes were 40 cars. Buyers were inclined to hold back after the big purchases made Tuesday, and the trade was much lighter, but values showed no loss for the day. Sweet potatoes were in lighter supply and firmer, floods in the east having interfered with the movement of supplies from Virginia.

Fresh fruits and green vegetables had a moderate trade, with Michigan stock in abundant supply and easy.

LONG TERM LEASES

The law of leaseholds is highly technical and the increasing value of such estates through the erection of valuable buildings makes the titles increasingly subject to attack.

This company examines with care and skill the title to leasehold estates for long terms and, being satisfied, guarantees the same, assuming all risk of forfeitures, mergers and surrenders by operation of law.

Sheep and Lambs Are Steady, Topping at $7.15 and $7.25.

Live stock receipts at Chicago yesterday made a disappointing aggregate and firmer prices were recorded, prime beef steers reaching a new record mark at $10.70. Other sales of beef steers were made on a firm to 10c higher basis, with numerous sales at $10.00@10.60. Eastern shippers paid the new record price and furnished an outlet for most of the other high priced droves, while packers were aggressive contenders for the good to choice fat steers selling at $9.50@10.00.

Hog prices opened on a firm basis on active speculative and eastern shipping buying and developed further strength when it was seen that receipts would not aggregate more than 20,000 head. A top of $9.05 was paid for several loads and the average price for the day was advanced 4c to $8.33.

Sheep and lambs sold largely steady, topping at $7.25 for range lambs and at $7.15 for natives. Heavy sheep of mediocre quality did not clear until more attractive offerings were all gone, but finally found an outlet without showing material decline.

Bartlett's Annual One-Day Sale

WILL BE HELD THIS YEAR ON

SUNDAY, SEPT. 8

WHEN WILL BE OFFERED BARGAINS TO BE HAD ONLY ON THESE SPECIAL OCCASIONS.

This is the date of our ANNUAL ONE DAY SALE, the big bargain event of the year, which people have become accustomed to look for and wait for. Those who do so will not be disappointed, as we intend to make this, our Third Annual One-Day Sale, even greater as a value giver than those of 1910 and 1911.

The property selected for the annual slaughter consists of 4 blocks, about 185 lots, on 111th-st., Park-av., and Stanley-st., between Loomis-st. and Center-av., and will be sold in 3, 4 and 5 lot pieces at $270 to $395 for inside, with corners and some future car line frontage a little higher.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD in which this property is situated has recently come into prominence owing to greatly increased transportation facilities and reduced fares, 5c now being the fare to any part of Chicago.

FULL PARTICULARS WILL BE GIVEN IN THIS PAPER SATURDAY NEXT.

FOR SALE—
I am building on Lexington-st., near Homan, a number of two flat buildings. They are modern to the last minute, but are being constructed according to the old fashioned methods of honest work at a fair price. I am sparing no expense to make them right. Live in one flat, rent the other, and your building is soon paid for, remaining thereafter a profitable and permanent investment. Naturally I am unable to fully describe here their conveniences, beauty, and sterling qualities, but if you appreciate such things come out [Metropolitan L to Kedzie or St. Louis station] and look them over while under construction and before many of the best features of good building which do not show on the surface are covered up—as is so often the case where the builder has no ideals save profit. Bring your expert with you—every detail will more than bear his closest inspection. If you are the sort of buyer I want these buildings to go to, I am in a position to offer you the most favorable terms that one honest man can ask of another.
